SERIOUS THOUGHTS

"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom"—Psalms 111:10

"Wisdom and wit are little seen,
But Folly's at full length."

—Jane Brereton

THE GOOD AND BAD OF IT

Martha Harbinson

Put yourself in the place of some of the new teachers. How would you like to face the behavior of some of the students? Taking advantage of newcomers is not the case with the freshmen but with the seniors. If you could see yourself as others see you there would surely be a change. We have had secured for us excellent teachers; let's keep them.

If every pep meeting could be as good as the first our team wouldn't let us down. Just because we won the first game doesn't mean we can slacken up; if it takes that for one it will take more than that for the rest. Let's not slow down, but continue to support our team.

Aren't we privileged characters to have such a swell place for drinks and snacks? The new store is only one improvement in school this year. If we uphold our school and new principal there will be many more improvements in our favor.

FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S OFFICE

—C. E. Wike

As we begin the new school year it is pleasing to note the enthusiasm and fine spirit of cooperation with which the students of Lexington High School approach their work. Most of us are glad to get back to school in the fall and glad to get out again in the spring, which is only natural. What we do between September and June is certainly of sufficient importance to be worth a considerable amount of thought at this time.

The prospects for a winning football season are bright, and we have a lot to be proud of there. The team needs the support of the student body, and there is every reason to believe that every student will give his most loyal support to the team. We are especially proud of the victory over Salisbury in the opening game.

There are two goals which we might keep in mind in our work this year. One is the happiness and success of each individual student, and the other is the welfare of the school as a whole. The greatest satisfaction that we have as individuals comes from work well done combined with a reasonable amount of play and fun. You will be able to look back upon a successful year if you have accomplished as much as you can in both studies and school activities, and both take much time and effort. Sometimes personal wishes tend to interfere with the rights of others or with the best interests of the school as a whole. It is then that we have an opportunity to be good sports and good citizens and to show our loyalty to the school.

It is my wish that every student will have a happy and successful year and one upon which you will look back with pleasure and pride.

Mr. & Miss L.H.S.

By R. B.

Bob Hendricks and Mozelle Perrell

"Creeping like a snail, unwillingly to school."—Shakespeare

Well, we wouldn't call riding a motor bike creeping, but we'll bet that the "unwillingly" is right.

That cute little blond on the back seat is Mozelle Perrell. She happens to be Miss L. H. S. for this month. They say gentlemen prefer blondes, and in this case it is certainly true.

Mozelle likes nice people (who doesn't), chocolate milk-shakes, books, and all her teachers (aren't they lucky?!). She doesn't like conceited people and spinach. (Popeye does.) Her favorite pastime is reading. No wonder she likes books.

Mozelle wants to go to Greenboro College but she said she'll probably go to Ashmore. Her ambition is to be a secretary. Then either college, would be all right. We all know she'll make a good secretary.

Her favorite song is "Near You". Seems like everyone likes that nowadays. No wonder, that rhythm!!!

Mozelle is on the Lexicon staff, is a member of the F. H. A. and is vice-president of the Senior Class.

Bob Hendricks is Mr. L. H. S. this month, and you all remember the wonderful job he did on the Junior-Senior Banquet last year as Junior Class President.

Bob really is a busy person. It certainly was hard to get an interview with him, and then the interview was interrupted. Someone had come to tell him that he had been selected a member of the Hi-Y, so you can easily see that he's a very popular person.

Bob likes beefsteak (he could eat it three times a day), cheese, sports ('specially football), any picture show (good ones that is), and the wonderful city of Lexington. (He'd rather live here than any other place.)

He doesn't like okra, algebra, and he says that some of the people in Lexington are awfully conceited to be living in such a small town.

Bob wants to go to Carolina and study law. So if any of you girls and boys need a lawyer about eight years from now, just call on Bob.

Bob's favorite song is "Peg o' My Heart". It sho' is purty, that Irish melody.

Bob is president of L. H. S., so of course he is the presiding officer of the Student Council.

We can see by these two sketches that L. H. S. has some fine students this year and Lexington ome fine citizens in the years to come. We, the students of L. H. S. wish Bob and Mozelle lots of happiness and success in their future endeavors.

COMPLIMENTARY COMMENTS

(From the new Faculty Element)

"The things I like most about L. H. S. are the cooperative student body and systematic organization of the school. The aim of the entire library staff this year is to make the library the center of all school life.—Vernelle Gilliam

"I do not feel that Lexington High School is entirely new to me because I began teaching here after I graduated from college. I am reminded of the many changes which have taken place since that time.—Mrs. Erwin.

"I like Lexington High because the students are democratic and interested in improving their school in every possible way. They are courteous, considerate, and cooperative at all times.—Arriwona Shoaf

"L. H. S. could well stand for a Likeable, Happy, and Sportsmanlike student body. Of course, sometimes the same letters might symbolize, Loud, Hopeless, and Silly pupils, but so far your good points outweigh the bad. I'm hoping by the end of the year that the letters "L.H.S." won't even suggest those bad adjectives.—Ann Larkin.

"As a new teacher the things about L. H. S. that impress me most are the cooperation and friendliness of the student body and the well organized administration of the school as a whole.—Miss Harrell .

"I have been impressed with the friendliness and cooperation of the students of L. H. S.—J. L. Gathings..
