

GIRLS FIELD DAY UNDERWAY TO BE A BIGGER SUCCESS THAN LAST YEAR'S TRIUMPH

The Coaches for the Various Classes Have Been Appointed; They are Misses Morrow, Dry, Grogan and Detwiler

Field Day, which is the most important day of the whole year to the girls, will be April 28. It is going to be at Cone Park. This day will contain interest and excitement for everybody.

The faculty is planning great events for Field Day. They are working earnestly to make it a success. It is going to be different in many respects from last year's.

Teachers have been placed in charge of each class. They are to train the girls for the different events. Miss Grogan has charge of the Freshmen; Miss Dry the Sophomores; Miss Morrow, the Juniors; and Miss Detwiler, the Seniors.

All the girls will not compete in just anything and everything they want to, but will be chosen, by the leaders, before Field Day, for some certain event. Each girl can not go out for more than five events. This will cause less confusion and take less time.

The final volley ball and basketball class championship game will be played. Basketball and baseball throws, dashes and all kinds of relays will make up the program for the day.

The idea this year for Field Day is to make it short and snappy. We don't want a long drawn out program. For this reason, only athletic events will be performed, while folk dancing and May pole will be the program for May.

There will be numerous prizes given for the winners of both personal and group events. The winners will also receive points. Everybody is going to work hard to win points, so each girl should go to work and make up her mind to win. This will cause the contest to be more interesting and exciting.

THE CUP WHICH STANDS FOR A "LOT" IN G. H. S. IS HERE

Tuesday morning, March 28th, there was something new in the hall of G. H. S. It was the silver loving cup which was won by the fine Team of old G. H. S. Our Team won the state championship in basketball and the cup is their reward. The Team had to work hard for this gem and we are all indeed proud of the Team and the cup. This is the first boys' state championship in basketball that has ever been won by our school but we hope it will not be the last one. Have you seen the cup? If you haven't go look at it today! It stands for the motto "Play the game," as the game was played by our champions.

THE NEW TRAYS.

A delightful surprise greeted the "lunchers" in the cafeteria several days ago in the form of new trays. We all agree that they were greatly needed but perhaps if the old ones had received better treatment they would not have been so battered and dejected looking. It is now a pleasure to "go around" on account of the new trays. Their brightness cheers up the down-hearted and makes the cafeteria a cheerier place.

ATHLETIC WEDDING IN CHAPEL VERY UNIQUE AND FANTASTIC

Amid the profound silence of chapel, a wedding took place, Wednesday, showing such athletic ability, that it will never be forgotten by the fortunate ones who witnessed it. To the strains of a ragtime wedding march the dignified preacher with his book sedately marched down the aisle, every now and then practicing such antics with his feet that he kicked everybody within reach. The groomsmen, after struggling with a fancy toe dance, finally reached the stage, to the rhythmic count of the obliging minister. After the preacher was settled behind the altar with the groomsmen close by, all eyes were turned to the next couple, the father of the bride with his high silk hat on to grace the occasion, and the maid of honor, arrayed in her best, both doing an arm-stretching exercise. Close behind them followed the ring-bearer, bedecked with beads, who performed a marvelous jumping dance, and behind her, the best man, whose eyes were so feeble he needed spectacles. Then, what excitement there was, for the bride and groom were coming down the aisle! The bride was beautiful in a Spanish veil (which strongly resembled a tennis net), and the groom was handsome in a dark suit. Both executed stunts fitting their station and dignity, with the train-bearer copying the bride, even to the back-breaking feat of touching the floor. The flower girls ended the procession carrying their leaves and flowers on tennis rackets. When all had reached the stage, they began to indulge in deep breathing exercises to keep from getting too frustrated over the ceremony. The bride, Miss Esther Thetic, and the groom, Mister Jim Nasium, promised to play with each other the games of life. The crowning event was the placing of the immense ring (in the form of a hoop) over the head of the bride. To the great relief of the bride and groom, the procession finally got off the stage. Now, no one can say there was never a wedding in G. H. S.

TENNIS PLAYERS DO WELL IN FIRST GAME OF SEASON

In the Tennis Tournament with Burlington, Monday, April 3, at the Country Club, Myers was the only successful contender. He won from his opponent by the score of 4-6, 6-1, 6-4. Both players exhibited unusual skill and ability, both in scoring and securing the ball.

Seburn in singles, was defeated in two sets by scores of 6-2, 6-1. Wilkins and Seburn lost in doubles to the tune of 6-3, 6-1. They were not playing their usual good games, suffering apparently from some species of fright. Considering the amount of practice they have had, they played as well as could be expected.

"LETTERS" DOMESTIC PRODUCTS

The Domestic Science Class did the Girl's Athletic Association a good turn when they consented to make the monograms and letters that were awarded to the girls who made two hundred and four hundred points.

The letters were extremely well made and we are sure the most expert needlewomen could not have done better.

The whole Athletic Association and especially the girls who received letters wish to give the sewing class a vote of thanks.

DR. BARKER GIVES STUNNING ADDRESS IN CHAPEL, TELLS HOW TO BE TRULY HAPPY

Dr. Barker Gives Some Splendid Rules for Happiness; and Tells What's Wrong with Most of Us

Dr. Chas. D. Barker was the honor guest of Greensboro High School, Friday afternoon, March 31st. He gave a very interesting talk on "How to be always happy." He declared that few people are genuinely happy because we all live on the theory that happiness is dependant on certain things, such as money; and gave the five laws of happiness which he believes will always work.

First, Cultivate the habit of always looking on the bright side of every experience.

Dr. Barker said that about twelve years ago, he used to fret and worry all the time, and he thought that God had it in for him, but one day, in his office, fighting mad, he got to thinking, "Does worry or fretting help trouble after it's all happened? If not, why worry?"

Several years ago, a certain city was nearly ruined because the boll weevil got in its cotton crop. Did that city stop and begin fretting because of that? No, indeed! The people got busy and planted other things in place of the cotton and now have made more money than ever before. They also erected a monument to the boll weevil.

Second, Accept cheerfully the place in life that is yours, believing that it is the best possible place for you.

A painting which always helped Dr. Barker keep the second law was the one where two donkeys were shown, each eating the grass from the pasture of the other. A little brass plate bearing these words is on the first one. "How funny it is that each thinks the other's grass is the better."

Third, Throw your whole soul and spirit into your work, and do it the best you know how.

Many girls, some whom are probably in this school, dress and paint to attract attention, so that may be they may some time catch a rich fellow and then live a life of leisure and luxury, says Dr. Barker. This is not the right attitude. Many of the rich society women who are supposedly happy, are wicked because they have no work to do. Find some work to do, and then do it the best you can.

The greatest truth ever told is what Jesus taught: "It doesn't matter what the work is, if it is your work, but how you do your work."

Fourth, Get into the habit of doing bits of kindness and courteousness to all those who touch your life each day.

As a warning to you girls and boys," he said, "don't waste all your love the first month after you're married, but save some so that after six months you will still be on agreeable terms. Don't start by being good to the heathen, but start at home. Do all in your power to make your home as agreeable and nice as possible. Be courteous to the home folks, first of all."

And last, the fifth, and most important one of all: Adopt and maintain a simple childlike attitude of confidence and trust in God as your own father.

When he was about twelve, Dr. Barker joined the church. He admits that he did not have much idea of Christianity and regarded God as one who was far away, long-faced, and trying to catch him in something wrong. In other words, a joy killer.

One night, in Washington, he began to think; Jesus calls God, "Our Father, your Father," one hundred and eighty-eight times in the Bible, so He must be my father

DEBATERS HAVE "SOME TRIP" ACCORDING TO NELLIE IRVIN

"Debaters have a grand and glorious time at Asheville" says Nellie Irvin.

Nellie Irvin explains very effectively the debater's trip to Asheville. They arrived and were met by a large number of pupils and teachers who escorted them to the Hotel. The next day they were taken on a ride on these wonderful drives around Asheville. "They just treated us gorgeous" as she put it. "And above all of these wonderful things that they did for us at the school they gave us the most wonderful lunch that you ever saw." Then she made everybody in the chapel hungry by describing this abundant lunch.

She wanted to thank the school as a whole for backing them up so well. Although they didn't bring back the decision of the judges they debated better because they knew the school was behind them. And the most important of the things that she told was the way they appreciated the backing the teachers gave them.

"It almost makes me cry" says she, "when I think of the way they stood by us." She almost cried as she told of the wonderful way the teachers showed their hope for them. Her story was told very effectively with the use of many expressive adjectives that sent her explanation home.

SUPPER IS GIVEN IN HONOR WINSTON'S VISITING DEBATERS

On Friday night, March 24th, at six p. m. a supper was given in honor of the Winston debaters in the cafeteria. An agreeable crowd was present and everyone had an enjoyable evening. Beside our debaters, Hubert Rawlins and Edwin Pearce, the Winston debaters, Hermon Enochs and Richard Horn, there were Mr. Shields, the Winston coach, Miss Blakeney and Mr. Phillips, two of our coaches, and about eight representatives of the student body and debating club. Two of the main factors of the occasion were Misses Summerell and Killingsworth, who acted as chief cooks and bottle washers. A delightful chicken salad course was served accompanied by jokes, mints and peanuts. While the ice cream was being served a carefully planned peanut battle was fought in which all the remaining peanuts were disposed of in a manner extremely displeasing to the janitor. After disposing of the eats, the company left the scene of joy with regret, and it is certain that the Winston boys were less chagrined by defeat after such a feed.

GIRLS' CLUB ENJOYS DINNER WITH ROTARIANS

On Tuesday, April 4, at the O. Henry Hotel the girls of the "G." Club of the school had the pleasure of being present at a luncheon given by the Rotary Club. Songs were sung, led by Miss Dorothy Clement of the North Carolina College for Women. Talks were made by Josephus Daniels of Raleigh and Dr. L. D. Royster of the same city. Mr. J. D. Wilkins talked for a few minutes on "The 'G' Club" after which Emelia Sternberger expressed the appreciation of the club, of the hospitality that the Rotary Club had shown.

Those present from the High School were:

Mr. Guy Phillips, Miss Mary Morrow, Miss Edna Tyre, Miss Nellie Dry, Emelia Sternberger, Doris Stinnett, Dorris Butner, Flax McAlister, Isabel Cone, Ellen Stone, Elizabeth Simpson, Margaret Patterson, Eleanor Barton and Elizabeth Transeu.

EDWIN PEARCE AND HUBERT RAWLINS OUT TALK WINSTON WIN AFFIRMATIVE ARGUMENT

Nellie Irvin and Katherine Grantham Put Up Some Fight In Asheville, But Lose

On March 24, Greensboro's affirmative team defeated the negative team representing Winston-Salem in the annual triangular debate, the subject for this year being, "Resolved, that the United States should enter the League of Nations." Greensboro High School was upheld by Edwin Pearce and Hubert Rawlins while Hermon Enoch and Richard Horn represented Winston High School. The negative put up a good fight but the strong argument of Edwin Pearce and the splendid rebuttal of Hubert Rawlins left no question in the minds of the audience and judges as to the winner. The decision of the judges was unanimously in favor of the affirmative.

On the same day our girls Nellie Irvin and Katherine Grantham went to Asheville representing the negative. They put up a splendid argument, but it seemed that luck was against them and the decision of the judges was not in their favor.

G. H. S. LICKS RANDLEMAN BUT LOSES TO DURHAM

On Monday, April 3, G. H. S. baseball came along in full swing. For the first time in the history of G. H. S. a double header was played.

The first team met Durham while the second played Randleman. The games were split, G. H. S. defeating Randleman and losing to Durham.

In the Durham game, there was real baseball. The game was strenuously contested. Capt. Green, on second, and all of the outfielders played an excellent game. Oscar Wrenn, in the early part of the game, knocked a three bagger and as he slid to third he sprained his ankle. This put him out of the game, but his fine work had already helped a great deal though a few wild throws and errors discouraged the team somewhat, it did not give way an inch until this game was over. Wilbour Cooper twisted the ball.

While the first team was waging war on the Durham lads the second team was engaged in a fuss of the national pastime with Randleman. Greensboro drew first blood scoring in the initial inning. Randleman came back in their half running two over the mat. They stayed in lead until the last inning when Greensboro came in full of pep. Jones douted the "apple" for three bases. Lanier singled scoring Jones. "Tink" Lambeth crashing double scored Lanier thus winning the game. Score 8 to 7. With lightning speed and marvelous accuracy also we played a good game it was not as good as G. H. S. can do. When we play Durham again everyone expects a victory.

SPANISH DEPARTMENT IN FULL SWING

Mrs. Laughlin has fully recovered and the Spanish Department is again in full swing. Mrs. Laughlin has undergone several serious operations at Long's Hospital which naturally brought the Spanish work in the school to a halt; but she is now back on the job with new vigor and says that with just a little crowding the work laid out for the Spring Semester will be easily completed.
