

CAROLINA FRESHMEN WALLOPS G. H. S. 4 TO 2, THE BEST GAME OF THE SEASON

G. H. S. Makes Many Errors, But
Plays Fast Game. Cooper
Pitches Well.

Greensboro High School in probably playing its best game of the season, held the Carolina Freshman to the score of 4 to 2 Apr. 8, at Chapel Hill. The G. H. S. infield although making plenty of errors played a fast game of ball repeatedly catching men off the bays.

The Freshmen scored first in the first canto by a double by McCauley, a single by Gibson and error on the third baseman's part which enabled them to catch up 2 marches. After this Cooper tightened up and they failed totally again until the sixth when they crossed the rubber once on a triple by Starling and an error by the rightfielder. They scored again in the seventh on a single by Greensboro and a double by Starling. Greensboro got threes in the 2nd and 5th. They crossed once in the 2nd by 2 walks and a sacrifice hit by Swift, and once in the 5th by a host of errors by the Carolina third baseman. After this Herebee tightened up as did his team mates and Greensboro failed to score again.

Herebee for Carolina pitched brilliantly letting Greensboro down with 2 bingles. He sent 12 G. H. S. warriors back to the bench via the strike out route and issued only three free passes. Cooper for Greensboro also pitched well while Block for Greensboro got a single out of two times up. Starling swung a heavy bludgeon for Carolina connecting up for a single, double, and triple out of 4 times up.

FRESHMEN TO STAGE LATIN PAGEANT AROUND WORD 'DUCO'

The Freshman class is planning to give a Latin pageant sometime soon. The pageant is for the purpose of showing how Latin has helped the modern language, and to awake in the pupils a greater appreciation of that tongue.

The whole pageant is dramatized around the one word duco (meaning the lead) and its derivatives. It begins with Mother ducere who reviews the history of Rome from the beginning to the fall.

The pageant shows its influence of Latin on the language of our sister nations by using some of the French, Italian and Spanish words derived from Latin. Some of the derivatives used in the pageant are producer, educator, irreducible and educible. After the pageant the class will sing America in Latin.

MISS DETWILER PULLS REAL LANDSLIDE ON WEINIE ROAST.

On Tuesday, April the fourth, the boys and girls of Session Room 2B, accompanied by Miss Roach and Miss Detwiler went out to Three Corners Pond for a Weinie Roast.

We had one difficulty on our way out, which was the crossing of a very deep and wide branch.

We had more than we could eat, but we felt that we could sympathize with the Ancient Mariner, because there was, "Water! water! everywhere but not a drop to drink." Two of the boys finally discovered a small store where they obtained a sufficient supply of cold drinks, which we were all glad to get, for we had been without for several hours.

After taking several pictures we turned our steps homeward.

Our only difficulty on the way back was crossing the same branch. Our hero, Rufus Hiatt, climbed up the bank and began his task of pulling them up one by one. Miss Detwiler, the first one to be pulled up was almost to the top when Rufus' foot slipped and down she came, and all the work had to be done over. One by one we reached the top in safety. There it was Miss Roach's turn. Extra help was required for her but she got to the top at last, thanks to the strong arms of several of the boys.

Another disaster! One of the boys ate too much and couldn't come to school next day!

LETTER BOYS' SPORT "G'S" SET IN PEARLS.

The monogram club has received the pins from D. E. Auld & Co., Philadelphia, Pa. Eighteen pins were ordered; fourteen studded, and four plain. The pin is a "G" set in pearls fastened by a small chain to the "22." Only the boys winning letters can have these pins. The club seems pleased and very proud of the pins.

For the first time in the history of Greensboro High School the Freshman class has put out an issue of High Life. It was not boldness or over-confidence that made us do it; but simply that it had not been done before and we were challenged. This Freshman issue is our answer. It may not compare with the work of our elders; it may not even represent the best that we are capable of (though much work has been done, and each pupil's representation has been dearly earned) yet it does represent AN ATTEMPT, and as such we send it forth.

Will you remember that we are the little folks at Greensboro High School?

CAPTAIN MILES TONIGHT IT'S BETTER THAN KATCHA KOO

The Winsome Priscilla and Boasting Miles Standish Will Win Any Audience.

The Captain of Plymouth, a musical comedy representing Miles Standish, of Longfellow's fame up-to-date will be presented tonight at the Grand Theatre by the High School Dramatic Club. The play has been directed by Miss Kate Dorsett and Miss Edna Tyre and the rates are entirely by high school pupils. Robert Irvin, of the High Law-Jack-and-Game" of Swashbucklers, the redoubtable Miles himself is one of the strongest characters of the play. Immensely proud of himself his army, and Julius Caesar, The Captain Miles Standish should be one of the hits of the play.

Priscilla the beauty of old Plymouth and intensely feared and bored by the gruff old captain is portrayed by Mildred Leak. Priscilla has a will of her own when it comes to the question of matrimony, though she asserts this will in such a quiet way that it is scarcely noticed at first.

John Alden is well taken care of by Neal Jones. As the scribe and wooer of Priscilla, John is booked to be quiet, gentle, true. His fight to shield himself and Priscilla, and still remain true to his captain form one of the main interests of the play.

Pete Pierce, as Elder Brewster takes the part of chief Gloom producer and joy killer of the play. He is the ruling Elder of the young colony at Plymouth.

Erasmus, a soldier of the Caesar-like captain coupled with his absolute desolute life—he kisses a pretty girl on her ruby lips—are the interesting qualities of Erasmus.

Katonka, a fair Indian maid who is vamped by the neat Miles Standish, is portrayed by Gray Fetter. Miss Fetter has had experience in Indian parts before having taken part in an Indian show in the Mardi Gras last fall.

Jeff Fordham, as Wattawamut the father of the fair Katonka completes the list of chief characters. In addition, to these, there is a cast of fifty more people in chorus and maid and men of the colony.

The music for the play will be furnished by a high school orchestra composed of Mildred Little, James Wilkins, Harld Grantham and Katherine and Lapsley Smith, Harold Lashley.

ANNUAL FATHERS' NIGHT HELD BY PARENT TEACHERS' ASSO.

The High School Parent Teachers' Association held its annual Father's night Friday, April 1, in the High School auditorium. Miss Howell's sight-singing class gave several selections. Ashby Pomplin played a violin solo, Phillip Jeffreys, a piano solo, and Lucile Pettit gave a vocal solo. Several of the parents and teachers were called on to make short talks. The speaker of the evening was Mr. Wade Brown. He led in several familiar songs and talked on the importance of a musical education. After this there was a social hour, very much enjoyed by all.

STATION AFFORDS QUERY FOR FRESHMAN DEBATE

Miss Clegg's fifth period English class held a very interesting and lively discussion, Wed. Apr. 12, on the subject of the New Station. The majority of the pupils were in favor of the station, and brought up many interesting points. Among the most important ones were these:

(a) That Greensboro needs the new station and should take this opportunity for getting it.

(b) That the Southern is one of the greatest systems in our country and that we should not be afraid to lend them our money.

(c) Labor will be provided for men now unemployed.

(d) A new attractive station will make a good impression on people passing through Greensboro, since a person's first idea of the town is gained by the appearance of the station. More people will make their home here. Opposing points were:

(a) That the Southern is on the verge of bankruptcy and that such a loan would be a great risk on one's part.

(b) As for providing work for unemployed, quite as much labor might be used to fix up the streets, and that this would be more expedient at this time.

Many other interesting points were brought up and altogether it was an interesting debate and discussion.

Nanoline Fuller.

R. D. DOUGLASS ON CITIZENSHIP

Mr. Robert D. Douglass made a very interesting as well as helpful talk in the auditorium last Tuesday on Citizenship. He said although we were not old enough to vote, we should decide on which side we would vote if we were allowed to, in some of the big problems of today that confronts our country. We should be interested in such great things as the Soldier's Bonus, the Textile Mill Strike and the Coal Miner's Strike, read up on them in newspapers and current magazines so we will be well posted. We should always be informed on both sides of a question too.

He made the point clear that it is the duty of every man and woman to vote and vote intelligently. His idea was that if one didn't vote in one election they shouldn't be allowed to vote in the next. We live in a democracy where government, is the people. They ought to be interested enough to make their own laws.

Mr. Douglass highly praised the Civic Department of Greensboro High School; saying that it was here that the principles of good citizenship were learned.
