

GREENSBORO SHOWS CHAMPS FINE BRAND FOOTBALL ON THEIR HOME FIELD

Fayetteville Wins 12-0

On Friday afternoon, Sept. 29th, at 3:30, the purple whirlwind made its appearance against Fayetteville for a friendly tussle over the "pig-skin," which ended in a 12 to 0 victory for Fayetteville. During the first half it seemed that the purple whirlwind would leave nothing but devastation in its path. However, the lads from Fayetteville managed to receive new strength between the halves and took a march down the field for a touchdown.

Fayetteville's end runs led by Hull's broken field running featured Fayetteville's attack.

Bobby Wilkins starred for G. H. S. by his steady ground gaining and spectacular tackling. Hull led Fayetteville's attack and was their star ground-gainer, while Remsburg backed his defense with amazing ability.

Their second touchdown came near the end of the game for a completed forward pass and an off-tackle play.

The line-up was as follows:

G. H. S. Sellars, lc; McIntosh, lt; Wrenn, lg; Black, c; Hodgin, rg; Jackson, rt; Burroughs, re; Swift, qb; Harrison, lhb; Wilkins, rhb; Green, (capt.) fb.

F. S. S. Barnes, lc; Green, lt; Shuford, lg; Harris, c; Caffee, rg; Austin, rt; Fry, re; Hall, (capt.) qb; McDiarmid, rhb; Remsburg, rhb; Brown, fb.

The time of the quarters was 13 minutes with 10 minutes between halves.

Mac Fadden, Davidson Star Coaches Football Team

Mr. J. M. MacFadden, coach of the 1922 football team, is a native of S. C., but after having lived at Davidson College for four years, is very much a North Carolinian.

While at Davidson, Meams MacFadden was not only a star football player, playing for four years in the backfield on that always famous fighting wildcat team, but along with it, he was a real sport in playing the game of college life as well as athletics. He made a letter in track, went out for basketball and baseball, was at one time president of the athletic association and was, all in all, a good allround student, averaging 92½ on all his work during the senior year.

As for popularity, there were none in the class of '22 who came up to MacFadden. His start in Greensboro is heralding that same position here.

Mr. MacFadden almost signed to teach at Winston this year, but Greensboro is lucky to have the man as its football coach who is going to do all he can to beat Winston this year.

The "High School Stringers" is a musical organization composed of pupils who play guitars, mandolins, banjos, ukeles or other string instruments. Much "pep" and a great deal of interest is being shown by the members. At the first meeting fourteen students signed up.

SWIMMING MEET AT Y. W. C. A. LOIS DOBSON WINNER

Many Interesting Features

In a swimming meet held at the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday night, Sept. 26, the honors were carried away by Mis Lois Dobson with 49 points to her credit. Miss Elizabeth Simpson won second place with 27 points, and Miss Eleanor Barton, third place with 20 points.

As this meet was the first of its kind held for High School students, it proved very interesting and exciting to both the contestants and spectators, so splendid were the exhibitions of swimming and diving that even the judges found it difficult to name the winners.

A race the length of the pool and back, starting with a dive from the side, was the first event, the second race on the back, the length of the pool. These were followed by swimming for form. The side-under-arm side over-arm, Old English over-arm, trudgeon and crawl were skillfully done. In the dive for distance Miss Dahlia Schiffman, by plunging the length of the pool for first place, won much applause from the fans. The last and probably most interesting was the diving, in which each entrant gave a standing and a running front dive, a back and side dive and two optionals.

The judges, themselves fine swimmers and divers, were from the faculty of the North Carolina College for Women. They were Misses Emery, Campbell and Francis.

Winners of the individual events were as follows:

In the race the length of the pool and back, Dobson, first, 22 seconds; Simpson, second, 23 seconds; Barton, third, 24 1-4 seconds.

In the race on the back, the length of the pool, Dobson first, 11¾ sec.

Purrington Back Again

Mr. Purrington was a visitor at G. H. S. Monday. The teachers and pupils who knew him last year were glad to see that he hadn't changed any, but was the same, from his curly hair to his collegiate brogues. His talk was the chief attraction of the chapel.

Most of his speech was an exhortation to our dainty masculine element to exert their voices on the side lines, if not their energies in the scrimmage, and not leave the girls to do all the cheering. He also told the boys that he thought it was their place to yell because theirs was the right hand privilege to play that noble game, while the girls could only look on.

He ended his oration by telling everybody how glad he was to see them and how sorry he was that he couldn't tell each of them "hello" individually, but on account of his limited time he couldn't.

Mr. Purrington will be at Chapel Hill this year where he will study law. Part of his business will be to lead the cheers on the side lines, and we know that he could put pep in even such an unenthusiastic vegetable as a turnip.

Since "High Life" has reached the mature age of two years, "the staff" feels that it should be able to fill a larger place than ever before, in G. H. S. and in the State. It is our aim this year to make "High Life" surpass former productions, to make it so well balanced and so progressive that it may be used in coming years as a perfect model—by which all other papers may be judged.

IRVIN HEADS CLASS OF '23; "REFLECTOR" AND "HIGH LIFE" STAFFS ARE ALSO ELECTED

The first senior class meeting was held in chapel Sept. 15. Miss Carlotta Johnson, who successfully lead the class of '23 through the junior year, presided. The speakers for the occasion were Mr. G. B. Phillips and Miss Summerell. Mr. Phillips made a speech which was very interesting and to the point. He told the class that many and great things were expected of the seniors. He also presented the following points, which, if followed, would help fulfill the many expectations of the faculty, school and community. His points were to make the class a loyal, honest, happy, working, boosting and a united class.

Miss Summerell, in her speech, gave the duties of the different officers as a whole. The meeting was then turned over to the election of the officers and a real, live, wide awake election of the following officers followed:

President, Robt. E. Irvin, Jr.; vice-president, Kathrine Gregory; treasurer, Arvid Carlson; treasurer, Connie Wyrick.

High Life officers:

Editor-in-chief, Louise C. Smith; business mgr., Leonard Temko; assistant editor, Bertha Ferree; proof-readers, Helen Clapp, David Thomas; athletic editors, Thelma Floyd, Wm. V. Sprinkle.

The Reflector officers:

Editor-in-chief, Marjorie Blair; business mgr., Clinton Jackson; associate editor, Elizabeth Simpson; associate bus. mgr., Norman Cooper; athletic editors, Nancy Little, N. C. Comer; humor, John Sikes, Evelyn Trogdon; activity editor, Carlotta Johnson.

High School Enrollment Largest in History.

On the first of October, the enrollment of the High School was the largest of any previous year on that date. All indications are that it will be the largest enrollment for the year in the history of the school. Already all available space is filled and the capacity of the school is taxed to its limit. There are 807 students registered: 356 boys and 451 girls. The freshmen class, as usual, leads in numbers and the number in each class gradually diminishes as they go up. Sophomores 255; juniors, 136, and seniors, 107.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT OFFERS NEW FEATURES

Commercial Law Added

Under the supervision of Mr. Musick, who is the head of the Commercial Department, and Miss Scott, his assistant, this department hopes to advance more rapidly and put the work on the map of the old G. H. S.

The commercial students have not yet had their club meeting, but are planning to do so at once. Through this club we are endeavoring to build up the standards of the Commercial department.

The typewriting students have begun drills and tests preparing themselves for the typewriting contest, which is to be held some time in May. At the suggestion of Miss Scott, they are also planning to arrange for a shorthand contest next spring. This is a contest we have never had in the State.

There has been put into the course of study, this year, Commercial Law, which is taught by Mr. Musick. We feel that this is a course that has been needed for some time.

In the new High School building, we expect to have a commercial department unexcelled by any in the South. During the current year a thorough canvass of all the business houses in the city will be made so that the commercial department will know just what machinery is being used and just what the business man may expect of a graduate of this department. This will enable the department to prepare its products to become a vital part of the industrial life of the city.

In addition to her regular training, Miss Scott completed, in the spring of 1922, an extension course in typewriting at the College of the

Girls Show Up Well in Tennis

Girls tennis at the High School has been making remarkable progress since the opening of school. It is an established fact that several of the girls from Greensboro are among the best players in the State. This fact was shown conclusively in the recent state tournament held in Greensboro. The High School girls who made a good showing in this meet were: Elizabeth Simpson, Edna Cartland, Helen Clapp, Carlotta Johnson and Louise Smith.

Miss Adams has taken charge of this branch of sport, and working with her are several other High School teachers. From all indications, the High School team this year will be equally as good as that of last year.

The tournament, which has been running for the past two weeks, has been full of interest, on account of its division into classes. The freshmen and sophomores are in one fight, and the juniors and seniors in the other. In this way the class championship will be decided, as well as the winners of the tournament.

Friday afternoon, by defeating Virginia Jackson, '25, 6-2, 6-1, Edna Cartland, '24, became singles champion of G. H. S.

Mr. Wells was the referee at this match.

PARENTS AND TEACHERS HOLD BEST MEETING IN ASSOCIATION'S HISTORY

Scholarship Founded

The High School Parent-Teacher Association held its first meeting Wed., Sept. 27, in the Auditorium. In point of attendance it was one of the outstanding meetings in the whole history of this organization, there being more than two hundred persons present. Mr. Sprinkle opened the Meeting with a prayer, after which Mrs. R. Murphy Williams, the vice-president, presided over a program rich in interest. This included reports from various committees relative to the plans for the year, a talk by Mr. Phillips on the activities of the High School, and a short talk by Mr. Archer on the superintendent's attitude toward the moral and religious training of our boys and girls.

In line with its interest in "all the children of all the people," the association voted to establish a scholarship fund for the needs of any student who might be debarred from High School for financial reasons.

The Social committee served delicious ice before the meeting, during which time the mothers and teachers renewed old friendships and formed new ones through the tie of common interest—the High School boys and girls.

Faculty Come from Many States and Colleges

All sections of the United States and many of the leading colleges and universities are represented on our faculty this year. With an unusually large per cent of new members and splendid ones back, who have taught here before, we feel that our prospects for the coming year are bright indeed. The Greensboro High School faculty has a reputation to live up to and we are sure that our present one is as good as any in the country.

Of course, our old North State heads the list in number of representatives, having nineteen; Georgia comes second with five and South Carolina and Virginia have four each.

From North Carolina we have the following teachers:

Miss Marie Clegg, Guilford College and U. N. C.; Miss Isabelle Coleman, N. C. C. W.; Miss Ione Grogran, N. C. C. W.; Miss Willie Hall, (taught privately); Mr. E. D. Jennings, U. of N. C.; Miss Ruby J. Hodgin, N. C. C. W.; Mr. Rodger C. Kiser, Guilford College and U. N. C.; Mr. Hugh T. Lefler, Trinity College; Miss Jean McAlister, Agnes Scott College; Miss Fannie F. Mitchell, N. C. C. W.; Mr. Charles Phillips, U. N. C.; Miss Carrie Stout, N. C. C. W.; Miss Flossie Stout, N. C. C. W.; Miss Jane Summerell, N. C. C. W.; Miss Edna Tyer, Southern College; Miss Ada B. Viele, N. C. C. W.; Mr. D. A. Wells, U. N. C.

From South Carolina:

Mr. W. A. Barton, Furman Univ. and Columbia U.; Miss Lillian Killingsworth, Erskine College; Mr. J. M. MacFadden, Davidson College; Mr. H. M. Reaves, Furman Univ.

From Georgia:

Miss Mary Richards Colvin, U. of
