UNDEFEATED OXFORD HELD TO SINGLE TOUCHDOWN

S. Taylor and Swift Star

In spite of the game fight put up by our pigskin artists Friday afternoon, the Oxford High School veterans scored a touchdown during the second quarter, thereby adding another whitewash-victory to their list.

Just as the aerial attack proved the downfall of the Highs against Oxford, this same attack stood out as being the feature of the game, and had it not been for losing the ball and being penalized at critical times of the game, there would, without a doubt, have been a different story to tell about the game. Taylor's 80-yard run through G. H. S.'s defense after intercepting a forward pass proved to be the play that won the game, the score being 6 to 0.

The playing of Swift and Burroughs stood out for the home team, while S. Taylor and Royster of Oxford showed remarkable skill in running. Our "old reliable" fullback, McIntosh, kept up the stellar work he has been doing all season.

During the first quarter the two teams seemed pretty evenly matched. "Bus" Swift, receiving the ball at the very beginning, carried it as far as the thirty yard line where he was brought down by an opponent.

Greensboro tried 14 forward passes, and of these two were intercepted, five succeeded and the rest failed. The Swift to Burroughs combination was the chief ground gainer in this part of the local high's attack. Once Burroughs carried the ball over the goal line only to be called back and penalized on account of illegal blocking on the part of some member of the team.

In bucking the line, off-tackle plays and end runs McIntosh, Sellars and Wilkins were there with the goods. Swift did some very good punting and threw some beautiful forward passes. Jackson played well on the defense.

The visitors tore through the Greensboro line for repeated gains. In this they were the most successful in ground-gaining. The Oxford backfield was very fast and the team had good interference. The last quarter showed G. H. S. holding this backfield and the game ended with the ball in the middle of the field.

The line up:

G. H. S.—Burroughs le, Green (c) lt, Conley lg, Block c, Ford rg, Jackson rt, Williams re, Swift qb, Sellars lhb, Wilkins rhb, McIntosh fb.

Oxford—S. Taylor le, Smith lt, Fuller lg, Currin c, Harris rg, Tignor rt, E. Mitchell re, Royster qb, Easton lhb, W. Mitchell (c) rhb, W. Taylor fb.

Summary: Oxford, scoring touchdown, S. Taylor. Substitutions—G. H. S., Wrenn for Conley, Hodgins for Ford, Everett for Wilkins, Erwin for Burroughs, Conley for Wrenn, Ford for Hodgins, Wilkins for Everett, Burroughs for Erwin, Everett for Sellars.

Referee, McAlister. Umpire, Yates. Head linesman, Hendrix. Time of periods, 15 minutes.

FRIDAY, THE 13TH, PROVES TO BE LUCKY FOR G. H. S.

Oh what joy there was in old G. H. S. on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 12, when it was announced that we were to have a whole day to go to the Fair.

That Friday the thirteenth will remain in our memory for some time. Although the day was supposed to be unlucky, it proved to be the luckiest day most of us had had in a long time—except that we all went broke.

That money just took wings when we saw the side shows, ferris wheels, seaplanes, doll babies, the whip and the hundreds of other interesting things.

The joke was turned on us when we went into "Laughterland" to laugh at some one else, and ended up by laughing at our own reflections in the strange mirrors around the walls.

Fortune telling was a feature, and nearly every girl in G. H. S. knows exactly what she is destined to become.

The food—those who weren't in training be thankful!

Of course, there were poultry exhibits, etc., but who wants to go to such things on a holiday?

We went home, tired, with empty pockets, but very happy.

Senior Class Chooses New Ring

Last year a standard ring was adopted for the coming seniors of the High School. This fall, when the Ring Committee met, it was found that the Auld Co., from whom the rings had been bought, had broken their contract. Therefore, it was decided that a new ring should be procured.

Thereupon, the Ring Committee went to several of the most prominent jewelers in town, to see what they could offer. At the next Senior class meeting, the committee brought samples of two rings. The class then voted upon the one they preferred.

The ring selected has two gates on it, symbolic of our Gate City, and above the gates are the numerals of the class with G. H. S. under the gates.

The prices were $5.00 for the girls' rings and $6.00 for the boys'. Measures have already been taken for the ordering of the rings, and the Seniors expect to get them in the near future.

Mr. Barnes Arouses Interest in the Passion Play

Mr. J. Foster Barnes, who has been in Europe for the past few months, gave a very vivid picture of the Passion Play as he saw it in Oberammergau. The play represents the passion of Christ. These plays became popular between the 13th and 16th centuries, especially in Germany.

In 1632, as an act of gratitude for the cessation of the Black Death, which had desolated the surrounding country, the villagers vowed to represent the passion of Christ every ten years, and have ever since observed their vow.

The inhabitants of this secluded spot are born with the ambition of taking part in the Passion Play. They

JUNIORS HOLD ELECTION

Wilkins is New General

The Junior class met on Thursday the 28th of September to elect their president. Norman Block, last year's president, presided. Nominations were taken from the floor and after much narrowing down and close counting, it was decided that Bobby Wilkins was to lead the class for this year. The new president, after making the clamored for "speech," appointed a nominating committee to present nominees for the remaining officers. The meeting was then adjourned.

The following Thursday a meeting of the Junior class was called to elect the remaining officers, Bobby Wilkins, presiding. The following were elected: vice-president, Edna Cartland; secretary, Nevin Woods; Treasurer, Lucille Boone.

After the election, plans for the year were discussed. Everyone was enthusiastic over the prospects of making the Junior class the most alive and progressive class in the school, and of making this year's "Junior-Senior" the best ever. All of the Junior teachers expressed their eagerness to help in all activities.

The Juniors have started! Watch out, G. H. S., it's going to be hard to hold 'em in!

FRESHMEN ELECT OFFICERS

C. Scott is President.

In the Greensboro High School in the past few days the election of officers of the freshmen class took place. This was held by a direct primary and the nominations were accepted by chairman Kiser in the High School Auditorium.

The registration and voting was conducted in the various classes. Each pupil was required to register before he could vote. The registering took place last Thursday while the voting was held Monday morning.

Chairman Kiser today brought in the returns of the balloting and the following were elected by a majority of votes: president, Clarence Scott; vice-president, Charlotte Van Noppen; secretary, Frederick Eichhorn; treasurer, Martha Broadhurst.

It is now the purpose of the freshman class to make the best freshmen class the High School has ever had and to turn out better citizens for the city of Greensboro.

Frederick Eichhorn.

Girls Basketball Gets Fine Start This Fall.

The girls of G. H. S. have started basketball once more. We thought last year that we had just as much pep as was possible, but you should just see those girls play ball. They have a dandy new gymnasium in which to practice. Most of last year's basket-ball players fully appreciate having a real gymnasium, after having played in a warehouse.

THE PASSION PLAY AS MR. BROOKS TOLD IT.

Away in the heart of the mountains of Central Europe there is a little village in Bavaria, Germany, called Oberammergau. This little village is about sixty-five miles from Munich, and has about fifteen hundred inhabitants. Every ten years a play called "The Passion Play" is given by the people of this little village. These people are very religious and live devout Christian lives.

A question frequently asked is why does this little village enact this play and no other place. Tradition has it that away back in 1632 a great plague swept over Europe. A great many of the people of this little village were stricken, and so the people prayed to God to stay this plague. For this they promised to enact the life of Christ. This play takes about seven hundred people, almost half the village, to enact it. The man who plays the role of Jesus is A. Lang.

In between the scenes of this play there are several tableaux enacted to illustrate the wickedness which Jesus has come to save. The first tableaux is where Adam and Eve are driven from the Garden of Eden. The first real scene of Jesus is where He is seen riding the ass going into Jerusalem, and all the people are cheering Him. Another tableaux is where Joseph is being sold by his brothers. Another scene is where Mary is seen washing the feet of Jesus and anointing them. The next scene is The Last Supper where Jesus is seated with all His disciples, including Judas. He tells them that there is one among them who will betray Him, and Judas knowing this, goes away.

The next scene is in the Garden of Gethemane where Christ is with His disciples. He goes away and prays and when He comes back his disciples are asleep. He awakens them and again goes and prays. He comes back and seeing them asleep again does not awaken them, knowing He is soon to be betrayed. Soon afterwards Judas rushes up and kisses Jesus. Then He is arrested by the soldiers and taken to Pilate.

Miss Myrick is Enjoyed at Chapel Period

The features of the last chapel program were the "High School Stringers" and Miss Susan Myrick of the Y. W. C. A.

We first had some peppy selections by the "Stringers," who have been trained by Mr. Barton. Our new football song is due to the originality of that same gentleman.

Miss Myrick gave a talk on the adage, "Laugh and Grow Fat," in which she demonstrated the exercise of the diaphragm and its benefit to the system. Then she brought her point home by making us exercise our own diaphragms, and act which she accomplished with a few remarks about "Cats and Ankles" and "Snake's Hips," etc. She announced the meeting of her Gym class which is to meet every Tuesday and Thursday from five to six p. m. Even though we did laugh at her, she made quite a hit with us.

WHIRLWIND TURNS CYCLONE GREENSBORO TROUNCES D.M.I.

Team Shows Improvement

Last Saturday the Greensboro High journeyed to Danville where they met and defeated the Danville Military Institute with a powerful running and overhead attack. The score of 40 to 0 shows how well "Coach MacFadden's Team" fought. Not once were the soldier boys allowed to make a first down and not once did Greensboro have to punt.

The game started off with a rush, both sides looking good for a few minutes, but the D. M. I. lads could not stand the heavy onslaught of Greensboro's line, which made openings one after the other for our backs to come through, which they did. "Big Mac" led off with smashing strength, followed by that famous stiff arm. Wilkins showed speed, while the passing attack with "Bus" Swift at the throwing end and Burroughs, Sellars and Wilkins receiving, puzzled the military for three touchdowns. "Mac" also showed up well in drop kicking for points.

The line with Conley and Ford as guards, Green and Jackson as tackles, Williams and Burroughs as ends and the old reliable Block back at center, not only refused to let the soldiers make any holes, but often threw them for losses. Captain Green especially had a tendency for throwing them back 5 or 10 yards. About the only thing for Danville to try now was passes, but Wilkins and McIntosh blasted their hopes at once.

Irvin, Everett and Koenig, subs for Greensboro, got in long enough to get warmed up, each playing good football. Among the other heroes of the day were the few who dared to brave the detours from Greensboro to Danville thru a cold rain to follow their team.

The line-up was as follows:

Greensboro—Green, lt; Conley, lg; Burroughs, le; Block, c; Ford, rg; Jackson, rt; Williamson, re; Swift, qb; Sellars, lh; Wilkins, rh; McIntosh, fb;

D. M. I.—Jnoes, le; J. Tudor, lt; Lea, lg; White, c; Bolen, rg; Wilson, rt; Martin, re; Holder, qb; Wilson, lh; Gravely, rh; T. Tudor, fb.

Touchdowns—McIntosh 2, Burroughs 2; Sellars and Wilkins. Try for point—McIntosh 3; Williams. Subs for Greensboro—Irving for Williams; Everett for McIntosh; Koenig for Jackson.

Time of quarters, 12 and 15.

Scrubs Hold Asheboro to 0-0 Tie

G. H. S. scrubs came very near bringing our first victory back to G. H. S., when they held the fast Asheboro team to a scoreless tie. The game was interesting from the kick-off to the final whistle. Greensboro lost one excellent opportunity to score when they were held for downs on Asheboro's five yard line. Asheboro, although able to gain consistently in their own territory, when Greensboro's goal was threatened were held for downs.

Turner for G. H. S. kicked-off to Asheboro's twenty-yard line. By tackle plays and end runs they made three first downs in succession, but
