Now is the time for all good minds to come to the aid of their masters.

Just because a new club is organized every month is no reason why anyone should join all of them. One student ought to belong to more than two of them.

Some of the chatter-box societies that have daily meetings in the library are asked to meet elsewhere. A few students go there for real study and work.

Is the teachers' motto, "They shall not pass"?

HONESTY

One of Lowell's best known quotations is

"Once to every man and nation comes the moment to decide

In the strife of Truth and Falsehood for the good or evil side."

This may be applied to our spirit during examinations. At this time more than any other during the year, our courage and moral backbone will be tested. We can not fail to measure up to the qualifications of honesty!

At some moment during examinations the temptation will come to glance across at a neighbor's paper and get the information that will make the answer acceptable.

But if that idea comes to any one of you, girls or boys, push it aside, strangle it. It is your worst enemy. It is a snake whose poisonous fangs will ruin your character.

In a year or two, it will make little difference whether we passed Chemistry, or Algebra, or Latin. But it is of vast importance that we should have the strength derived from conquering temptation.

Come on folks, lets make Truth and Honesty give Falsehood and Cheating such a licking to-day, that they never will dare to show their faces at Greensboro High School again.

Boys and girls of G. H. S! Boost the Annual! Support your school and help the Seniors. It is as much your Annual as it is that of the Senior class. Help us to make the 1923 Reflector a real school Annual, an Annual that faithfully portrays the life of the entire school.

Some of you will say that this is the "same old bull,"—that this is what they tell you every year, but this time is the exception that proves the rule. We mean every word, and it's up to you! Buy an Annual.

The Annuals this year are to be printed and distributed to the students before school is out. This one feature is an advantage over last year. But it is not the only added attraction. The Reflector will sell for less, and there are some novel and original ideas to be worked out in the construction of the book.

"There's no time like the present," and "He who hesitates is lost!" Subscribe now to the Annual and be sure that we will deliver the goods" on time and in good condition.—Marjorie Blair.

Miss Coleman Convalescing

We are glad to report that Miss Ina Bell Coleman is now convalescing, at the McGill Sanatorium. She has been seriously ill with pneumonia for the past week, but is now out of danger, and on the road to good health.

Miss Coleman has been sitting up a little each day, and it is hoped that she will soon be able to resume her school work.

Freshmen are grassy,
Sophomores are sassy,
Juniors are brassy,
Seniors are classy. —Ex.

Dora: "I'm sure I knocked Mr. Jennings cold on that chemistry test."

Lillian: "Yea? what'd you get?"
Dora: "Zero."

EPISTLES OF HANNAH

Dere Maw,
I aint writ you in quite a while. I want becuz I wuz dead, maw, tho I wisht I wuz. I been so busy here lately that I hardly knows what to do.

Maw, I've flunked English examination—and I'll bet you and Hiram a doughnut—that I did the same thing to Latin.

The box you sent me last weak was busted. The cocoa-nut cake looked like some one had set on it. The jar of strawberry preserves hed cracked and run into the deviled eggs. I reckon they wuz eggs when they started, maw, but the only way I knowed them when they got here, was by the toothpicks. Thank you fer the box, maw, it musta been a "cat bird" when it started.

Maw, my only pr. of siik stockins has sprung a run, what am I gonna do about Sundays.

Its been gloomy and rainy here near about all the week and now its hailing.

I had an awful tooth ake last nite and today my face is swelled up wors'n Hiram's mumps wuz. I went to see the dentist and he says that two of my front ones wil have to be pulled.

I got a bad cold too, maw, but I ben soakin' my feat in hot water and feel sum better now.

Tell Hiram that Durham hez beet us in basketball.

I'm doin' fine up here in Greensbury, maw, but I sure do miss you and Hiram, and the mule and pop. Obediently your daughter till death,

Hanner Green.

Julian: "I wonder why silk is so expensive?"

David: "Because sheep are so scarce, of course."

"Father, I need a new riding habit."

"Can't afford it," he growled.

"But, father, what am I going to do without a riding habit?"

"Get the walking habit."—Ex.
