

STATE MODERN LANGUAGE CONFERENCE AT TRINITY

MISS COLEMAN ATTENDS

With Dr. T. W. Lingle of Davidson College presiding, the Modern Language Teachers from every corner of our State met at Trinity College, April 6th and 7th, to partake of the valuable inspiration and splendid instruction that the State Modern Language Conference always gives to those who attend it. Although, perhaps more colleges than high schools were represented this year, the conference was devoted almost entirely to the solving of high school problems. Interesting and instructive talks were made by Dean Wannamaker of Trinity College, Miss Porter of Meridith College, Miss Eliza Poole of Raleigh High School, Miss Inabelle Coleman of Greensboro High School and others. But the one we Greensboro people are most interested in, is our own Miss Inabelle Coleman. At the first session of the Conference, which was held Friday afternoon, Miss Coleman very clearly and effectively explained our four year French course, and gave excellent reasons for offering this course to high school boys and girls who will never enter college walls, as well as to those who will continue the study of French. In the open discussion which followed, Miss Coleman's plan was approved by every member of the conference. Dr. Lingle said: "This four year course is unique and will bear the serious consideration of every high school French teacher of the State." The college teachers especially approved of this longer and more thorough course in French that Greensboro is offering to any student who wants four years of French. Greensboro high school is the only high school in our state offering four years of French, and in this phase of our

LATIN CLUB ORGANIZED GIVES UNIQUE PROGRAM

The Senior Latin students organized into a club last November. The club meets every two weeks and at each meeting Latin is spoken in transacting all business and in answering the roll call.

The Latin Club consists of about twenty members and is divided in five groups, one of which has charge of the program each time. The programs some of which are very original are greatly enjoyed by everyone. Refreshments are served at each meeting. After the Easter program which was very appropriate, Easter eggs and rabbits were served. The Latin Club has been a great success in former years as well as this one and we feel sure if the coming seventh and eighth semester Latin students form a club they will be highly benefited by it.

Our Principal: AN APPRECIATION

Here's to Mr. Phillips, the best principal G. H. S. has ever had! Mr. Phillips graduated from the University of North Carolina in 1913. Afterwards he taught English in the Raleigh High School and also coached athletic teams. One of his football teams at Raleigh won the state championship by the score of 117 to 0. From Raleigh Mr. Phillips went to Oxford, N. C., where he was superintendent of schools for three years. He was made principal of our high school in the middle of the 1921 session.

Mr. Phillips is deeply interested in Athletics and has done much to stimulate interest in them. He is not so much concerned about winning as he is about developing a spirit of good sportmanship and fair play through our inter-scholastic contests. He is now president of the Girls' Athletic Association of North Carolina. His genius for organization has developed the school into a smooth working machine. Never before have our students shown a better school spirit. They give their enthusiastic support to all student activities and co-operate heartily with the faculty. He has also done much to enlarge and standardize the course of study. Mr. Phillips is held in high esteem by the citizens of Greensboro and all the boys and girls of G. H. S.

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET GIVEN AT N. C. G. W. MOST DELIGHTFUL IN YEARS

On Friday night, April 6, the Seniors were delightfully entertained by the Juniors at the Annual Junior-Senior Banquet. To quote Miss Summerell "this was the best Junior-Senior reception in many years." I'm sure every senior present at this delightful function fully agrees with her.

While we were blissfully enjoying our five course dinner the Juniors pulled off some stunts which greatly amused as well as pleased us. This entertainment was in the form of stunts representing each letter in the word, "Seniors." First several of the Juniors impersonated the Seniors having their pictures made for the Annual. After much primping, powdering and combing, these folks finally succeeded in having their pictures made. Next, we thoroughly enjoyed hearing our orchestra, "Carolina's Best" render a most expressive piece. Not content with this, their director, "Judge Adams" had a solo rendered by Mr. Norman Block. The "killing" part of this masterpiece was the fact that it was rendered on a red and white stick of candy.

For athletics we have Norman Block impersonating "the best short-stop in scholastic circles" as he delivered his inaugural address. Then we found in our midst a new cheerleader, Charlie Watson, who impersonated our own "Jerry" to a "T." Next the Juniors surprised the members of the High Life staff by calling on them for impromptu speeches. Although handicapped by

TYPEWRITING CONTEST TO BE HELD AT DURHAM

Loving Cup For Prize

We have all been yelling for our various teams—and right now the baseball and tennis teams are in the limelight. But while we are yelling, let's give fifteen rahs for the typewriting team. You haven't heard very much about this team, but they have been practicing faithfully in order to participate in the state contest to be held at Durham, May 5.

Greensboro, Winston-Salem, Raleigh, Durham, Charlotte, and probably others will be ably represented at Durham. The winner of the contest will be challenged by the winner of the South Carolina contest.

Four prizes are being offered. A University Loving Cup, donated by the University of North Carolina, will be presented to the winning team to be kept for one year. This cup becomes the property of the school winning it three years in succession. Three gold medals are to be given away. They will be presented to the fastest writer of the first, second and third years in typewriting, respectively.

Elizabeth Tilley, Pauline Pleasants and Madeline Little will represent the second year students. The first year team will be chosen later.

MOTHERS HONORED WITH DELIGHTFUL BANQUET

Friday night, April 13, the school cafeteria, which had been converted into a beautiful diningroom by the use of white bunting and flowers, was filled with one hundred and sixty mothers and daughters. This, the first Mother-Daughter banquet to be held in Greensboro, was given for the purpose of honoring the mothers.

After an opening prayer by Miss Killingsworth, Dean of girls, the daughters sang the old song "Our Mothers Will Shine Tonight," and the mothers, not to be outdone, retaliated with "Our Girls Will Shine Tonight."

Nancy Little, toast-mistress of the evening, in a short speech gave the mothers a cordial welcome to the banquet, and Lucile Boon gave a toast "To Mothers," to which Mrs. I. A. Shenck responded.

Two talks "If I Were in My Mother's Shoes" by Virginia Jackson and Rebecca Ogburn and "If I Were in My Daughter's Shoes" by Mrs. Lamb, seemed quite appropriate to the occasion.

NEWSWRITERS CLUB ENJOY VERY SUCCESSFUL YEAR

This Issue of High Life Fruit of Its Efforts

The News Writers' Club is one of the many progenies from the brain of W. A. Barton, Jr. Mr. Barton felt the need for some such an organization so that some of the people in G. H. S., who were inclined towards newspaper work, might have an outlet for their pent up thoughts and ideas. The pronounced success which this group has enjoyed during its short life manifests the absolute truth of Mr. Barton's theory. After starting the ball Mr. Barton's work was completed and it was left to the club and their able advisor, Miss Edna Tyre to keep it rolling. Miss Tyre has been very active in the club and is greatly responsible for the success of it.

The desired number of members were soon signed up and the organization of the club was duly affected. Textbooks were procured and a course of study was mapped out. The date of meetings were arranged and everything was "settin' purty" for a grand and glorious career. The Newswriters' Club has had that career and incidentally we have had a good time in carrying it out. It has been the purpose of the

Radio Concert Enjoyed

The radio which Mr. Wells has set up in the physics laboratory has given much pleasure to a number of pupils and teachers. Last Tuesday night, at the invitation of Mr. Wells, a number of us heard "The Harmony Hounds," Greensboro's own in a concert. One of the numbers most enjoyed was the whistling solo by Harold Lashley, manager of the "Hounds" and a student in G. H. S.

GIRLS RECEIVE MONOGRAMS

Several Stars Given

Friday was quite a letter day at G. H. S. for it was then that many of the long-worked-for monograms were presented to the girls by Mr. Frederick Archer. The program was in charge of the Athletic Council and was opened by responsive readings led by Miss Lucile Boone and followed by a prayer by J. B. Phillips.

Miss Doris Stinnett, a member of the class of '22, gave an interesting talk on sportsmanship. She said that the girls of G. H. S. were considered to be among the best sportswomen of the state.

Mr. Archer then presented E's to the following girls: Virginia Jackson, Viola Curlock, Pete Stinnett, Marjorie Cartland, Bessie Watson and Mary Thurman. Next Flax McAlister, Elzie Fluharty, and Helen Smith were presented with G. H. S.'s. Some of the girls even became owners of stars, they were Flax McAlister, Helen Clapp, Louise C. Smith, Margaret Patterson and Eleanor Barton.

RIISING ORATORS AT G.H.S.

Young Declaimers Speak

The rising young orators of G. H. S. are now on the war path. Fred Turner went to Trinity and Shelton Dry to Wake Forest. Both made very creditable showings although they did not come out on top.

Robert Merritt will go to Guilford, April the 21st, and we are expecting great victories there.

Virginia McClamrock was chosen from the girls to go to Guilford. That Virginia is going to make a wonderful record for old G. H. S., we are sure.
