BUSINESS MANAGERS AWARD CONTRACTS

Seniors Have Awarded Auld's of Columbus, Ohio, Contract for the Rings—Some Changes Made.

The contracts for the senior rings, senior pictures for the annual, and the printing of the annual have been awarded to Auld's Columbus, Ohio; Flynt's Studio, Greensboro; and J. P. Bell Printing Co., Lynchburg, Va. respectively. The contract for the cut work has not yet been awarded. North State Engraving Co. of Greensboro is very anxious to do this work, but they have no other annual work to show. They may be started on the annual and if their work is satisfactory they will get the contract, but if it proves otherwise, someone else will be given the contract.

Several changes have been made in the rings this year. The same seal will be used, but other minor details have been changed. The ring is of yellow gold, with a circle of white gold in a background of black enamel. The seal is stamped inside the circle. In a few days the measurements for the rings will be completed and the order sent off. Within three weeks after the order has been sent the rings should be received.

Senior pictures are being taken in squads of eight a day, four girls in the afternoon and four boys at night. According to Mr. Flynt, the pictures should be completed by the end of the week.

SCOTT PRESIDES AT BOYS' CLUB MEETING

Committee Decides on Plan and Color for Club's Pin—Mr. Rowe Gives a Piano Selection.

The weekly meetings of the Boy's Club of the First Presbyterian church were held on the 24th and 30th.

The president, Clarence Scott, announced that the committee for selecting a pin for the club had decided on the kind and color. The pin is to be gold of a high grade and is to cost one dollar and sixty two cents. It was moved and voted that the pin was to be optional with those entering later.

The committee for selecting a name for the club had no report as yet.

The president suggested that the club elect a council of six boys to draw up a constitution and to decide on the restriction of new members. This election however was postponed until next meeting.

The meeting was then turned over to Henry Biggs, chairman, of the program committee, who introduced Mr. Rowe, a member of the High School Faculty. Mr. Rowe gave a selection on the piano. After this the president dismissed the meeting with a prayer.

Supper was served to twenty-five members of the club.

INSIDE DOPE ON FOOTBALL PLAYERS

Johnson was making a good showing. It is hoped that he will be back out for practice soon.

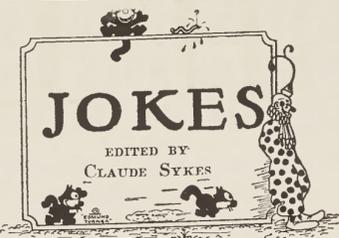

Hill—Guy is manager of this year's squad and is exactly the man for the place. He is to be seen at every practice and has proved his ability by the way he is watching out for the players.

Watson—Willie came to us last year and showed that he was a man who could play football. His team-mates of last year thought so much of him and of his ability to play that they elected him captain of the team for this year. Watson has proved that they were right in making the selection.

Pennington—If you are looking for a good guard there will be no need to look further.

Newman—George came out for practice only one day and is out of the game for the rest of the season due to a broken wrist which he received while "cuttin' the dummy".

We in the High School, wish to thank the graded school for their hearty cooperation in permitting us to use their gymnasiums, athletic fields, and shower rooms. We shall do our best to show our appreciation by using them in the proper manner.

B. Fife: What are you writing?
A. Brewer: A joke.
B. Fife: Well, give her my regards.

W. Watson: So Coach Fordham got his B.A.?

P. Wyrick: Yes, but his P. A. still supports him.

G. Davis: Well, Coach, how is your football team coming?

Coletrane: Like counterfeit money.

G. Davis: What do you mean?

Coletrane: The halves are full of lead and the quarter can't pass.

G. B. McLeod: Helen said you weren't good enough to be hung.

P. Shelton: What did you tell her?

G. B. McLeod: Oh, I stood up for you—I said you were.

Miss Moore: You bad boy! I wish I was your mother for about twenty-four hours!

Ted Smith: All right, teacher, I'll speak to dad and maybe I can fix it up.

Miss Wheeler: What are you playing now?

Mr. Miller: Beethoven's Ninth Symphony.

Miss Wheeler: Oh, dear! Have we missed the other eight?

H. Toland (at swimming meet): That fellow is anchor man on the relay team.

D. Lee: But wouldn't they go faster if they weren't anchored?

Mr. Aycock: I am going to speak on liars today. How many of you have read the 25th chapter of the text?

Nearly every student raised his hand.

Mr. Aycock: Good! You are the very group to whom I wish to speak. There is no 25th chapter.

Maline B.'s little brother: Hey, what's wrong with your eyes?

W. Watson: Nothing, why?

M. B.'s little brother: Well, sis says you look like a fish.

Glenn H.: Yes, I'm in the newspaper business now.

John T.: How many do you sell a day?

A. Brewer: What do you call a man who runs an auto?

B. Fife: Depends on how near he comes to running over me.

Annie H.: Don't you think Elizabeth Simpson has a very refined face?

D. Meyers: She ought to have; it's been through enough processes.

Phil Shelton: Don't you think that travel broadens the mind?

M. Crews (bored): Yes, you should take a trip around the world.

D. Swift: Father, the man to whom you owe $500 is on the phone.

Mr. Swift: Tell him we had the phone taken out.

Paul S.: Can you cook, dearie?

Margaret C.: I don't know, Paul, but I used to make the most wonderful mud pies!

Johnnie: Mother says she found a fly in the cake you sold her.

Grocer: I'm sorry. Tell her to send the fly back and I'll give her a raisin in the place of it.

Mrs. M.: And were you a good little girl at church this morning?

Dot: Oh, yes, mother. A man offered me a big plate of money and I said, "No, thank you."

Grocer: We have some very nice string-beans today.

Mr. Harrison: How much are they a string?

Lindsay M.: What period do you eat?

Mary T.: I don't eat any, but I have lunch at the fifth period.

Any girl can be gay in a nice coupe; In a taxi they all can be jolly;

But the girl worth while Is the girl who will smile When you're taking her home in a trolley.

FIRST AID IS GIVEN BY THE BOY SCOUTS

Under Supervision of Poole and Blue, Many Valuable Services Were Rendered by the Scouts.

There were several boy scouts on duty each day at the Central Carolina Fair for the purpose of rendering first aid in any emergency that occurred. They were under the supervision of Poole and Blue, local undertakers.

Many services were rendered by the Scouts. Several boys patrolled the grounds while one or two stayed in the tent furnished by the Undertakers to aid anyone who might come there. Cut fingers, bites, boils, headaches and stomachaches were a few of the ailments brought to the tent for first aid. In one instance a man came to the tent and asked the boy on duty to bandage his hand out of which a monkey had bitten a large piece. Friday six or seven lost children were found and brought to the tent while the scouts found their parents. Different boys were on duty each day and they established a very creditable record of services.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND SHOWS UP EXCEPTIONALLY WELL

The G. H. S. Band and Orchestra are showing the effects of their year's training from Mr. Miller. The Band and Orchestra both are organizations to be proud of, in size and results.

The size has been greatly augmented by the coming to G. H. S. of musical students from the Grammar Schools. The improvement in results is to be attributed largely to the efforts of Mr. Miller and Mr. Gildersleve in getting a full set of the finest musical instruments possible and in training players for these instruments.

Some of these players have not shown up as they should have and will be replaced this year, but the greater number have shown they were true musicians and have stuck with their instrument and are now able to play with an organization worthy of the support and name of Greensboro High School.

Those at present playing with the G. H. S. Band, (the one that played at the Leaksville-Greensboro game), are: Bill Petree, Bobby Scott, George Dickerson, Max Albright, Carter Williams, C. T. Strickland, Randal Martin and Jack Kleemeir playing Clarinet; Charles Paris, Elden Huffine, Floyd Mills and Albert Thompson, saxophone; C. B. Hall Jr., Weldon Beacham, trombone; Maddry Simmons, Marshall Campbell, bass; Eleanor Pendergrass, Marvin Iseley, alto horn; Charles Wilhelm, Charles Crews, drums; Jule Squires, Holley Houck, Neville Watson, Dorrys Bennett, C. B. Wilkerson, Margaret Hood, Ed. Robbins, Charles Hartsook, Billy Horten, Harold Taylor, Dick Douglas, Nick Lukidis, cornet.

Those playing in the orchestra are: James Springfield, John Foster, Charles Marsh, Clem Campbell, Joe Saleeby, Frank Ham, Evelyn Parks, Arlinde Cates, Charlotte Van Noppen, George Dickerson, J. C. Coe, Edgar Kellenberger, Robert Kelly, Mary Davis, Ellen Donavent, violins; Eleanor Pendergrass, Marvin Iseley, alto horns; Margaret Hood, tympany; Charles Wilhelm Charles Crews, drums; Carter Williams, Max Albright, Randal Martin, Bill Petree, clarinets; Weldon Beacham, C. B. Hall Jr., trombones; Floyd Mills, Albert Thompson, Elden Huffine, saxophone; Jule Squires, Nick Lukidis, Holley Houck, Neville Watson, Dorrys Bennett, Ed. Robbins, cornets; Maddry Simmons, bass; Marshall Campbell, saxophone; Louise Whittington and Josephine Lyles, piano.

Later these organizations will be enlarged by enrolling the best students of the two large beginners classes, which are already developing some good musicians.

The Glee-Clubs and quartets are just getting started and need more members. "Come on! G. H. S. Show your spirit! You'll get that Music-Contest cup next spring if you keep working like you've started!" is Weldon Beacham's encouraging message to the un-enrolled musicians of the student body.

J. Norman was what some folks would call an antique tea-hound Saturday. Those rolled trowsers were quite the berries.
