Miss Mary Lyon entertained the January Graduating Class at a lovely Valentine party the night of February 12. The guests played progressive hearts and danced during the evening. Miss Helen Felder won the girls prize and Sammy Goode the boys.

Ice cream and cake, stuffed dates and peanuts were served in the dining room which was attractively decorated in the Valentine colors. Later on in the evening James Peterson amused the guests with several vocal solos.

Saturday night, January 20, Miss Caldwell's and Miss Sumner's session rooms gave a Washington's birthday party at the Y. W. C. A. hut. The decorations and refreshments were carried out in an appropriate scheme.

The members of the girls basketball team entertained those from Chapel Hill with a party at Ed Nowell's drug store Saturday afternoon, February 20.

Miss Martin, Miss Grogan, Mr. Farthing, and Mr. Strickland were present at the G. H. S.—B. H. S. basketball game.

Mr. Guy Phillips spent Saturday, February 20 at Greensboro attending a meeting of the directors of the Girls Athletic Association of the State. He arrived at G. H. S. about 1 P. M. and was greeted by several of his former pupils.

Mr. Lee Edwards paid G. H. S. a visit Friday February 12, when he came to Greensboro to attend the principals' meeting held here Friday and Saturday. He spent the earlier part of the morning shaking hands with the students and took lunch in the cafeteria sixth period.

Mr. Edwards, who was principal of the Greensboro High School last year, is now principal of Asheville High School.

SMALL "M" TO MANAGERS LETTER MEN DECIDE

Thursday, February 4, at 6:30 o'clock, there was a meeting of the Monogram Club at the First Baptist Church. Several important matters were discussed.

The business of selecting a standard letter for the boys was thoroughly considered. It was brought out that all the boys preferred a standard letter instead of the variety of styles which they are now wearing. Since they could not decide upon a certain kind and how it should be made, the matter was left over to be settled at some future date.

It was decided that the managers of the different teams should wear the standard letter with a small "M" inside to show that he was the manager and not a player. The principal, coach, and faculty-manager are to select four or five men which they think are capable in every way of being the managers; then, the team will select the manager from this group.

A discussion concerning the matter of paying for the letters followed. At present each boy pays for his letter. It was brought out that the boys really deserve their letters free and that the Athletic Association could buy enough to last for quite a while and this way get them cheaper. At this point, Mr. Charles Phillips was called in; and he suggested that the monogram club bring the matter up before the student body.

The new members taken into the club at the last meeting were present. They were: Ray Henderson, Bill Petree, Theron Brown, Ned Lipscomb, Dave Quate, "Pete" Wyrick, W. M. Coltrane, Chester Strader, Joe Faulkner, Jim Watson, "Unk" Horney, Guy Hill, "Bunny" Wimbish, "Luke" Glascock.

A group of boys and girls had a meeting Friday, February 19, to make arrangements for transportation to Guilford College where the Greensboro basketball team met the Leaksville team for the elimination championship series.

Enough cars to take all students who wished to attend the game were procured, and a large number of Greensboro spectators were present at the game.

COMPETITIVE WORK IN ATHLETIC DRIVE

Students of G. H. S. Will Stage Drive in March to Secure Members and Funds.

February 29 will mark the beginning of an extensive drive to increase the membership of the Athletic Association. This campaign is under the auspices of, and is sponsored by the Greensboro High School Athletic Association. A committee representing each building has been appointed to aid in the drive. There will be a friendly rivalry between the members of various groups. It has been stated that the winner will receive due recognition from the office.

The committees are: Barn B—Olga Kellerman, George Sherrill, and Woodrow Fordham; New Building—Marguerite Tilley, Bill Petree, and James Stidham; Main Building—Charlotte Van Noppen, Victor Jones, and Weldon Beacham.

RED CROSS COURSE OFFERED G. H. S. GIRLS

One of Many New Unit Courses Offered Students This Semester; Mrs. George Robertson Teaches Class.

The first of the unit courses which are being offered to G. H. S. students this semester was started on February 9 and is proving most interesting. This is a course in Red Cross Work taught by Mrs. George Robertson, a member of the City Health Department. There will be 24 lectures in the course, and at the end an examination sent out by National Red Cross Headquarters will be given. In this class the girls are learning many practical things about diseases and the care of the sick. Besides gaining this knowledge and one-fourth school credit, the girls will each receive a certificate from the Red Cross Headquarters at Washington.

The other unit courses which will be offered are: Art Appreciation, which will be taught by Miss Summerell; School Courtesy, by Miss Grogan; and Library Work, by Miss Orr. Each of these courses promises to be as helpful and instructive as the one now being given, and the unit credit is a thing not to be scorned.

SOPHOMORE GIRLS MAKE BABY'S LAYETTE IN CLASS

The second year domestic arts girls taught by Miss Zollman have bought, paid for, and are making a baby's layette.

The layette is being made for little "Merry Christmas," who was found the night before Christmas on the streets of Greensboro and taken to the Children's Home. The girls are working faithfully and hope to finish the garments very soon, after which they will take them to "Merry Christmas."

Later on in the spring the class will make children's clothes. The funds for this are being contributed by some one else. These clothes will also be given to the Children's Home.

THE BAPTIST BOYS CLUB HAS SUCCESSFUL MEETING

Their ranks swelled by the addition of several recently-elected members to proportions that crowded the club room, the Baptist Boys' Club held its regular weekly meeting Monday night, February 15. Transaction of several important business matters, including the appointment of a social committee by President Edwin Lashley, laying of plans for expansion of the club to new quarters, and arrangements for several prominent local men to speak before the club, featured the meeting.

Mr. Casper, club leader, made a brief talk in which he outlined the essentials of a happy Christian life. His talk was very well received by the boys.

A freshman, trying to make a good impression on her English teacher, wrote a theme on "The Great Women of the Past, Present, and Future."

TRIP TO N. Y. PLANNED BY MEMBERS OF STAFF

Paper to Enter Class A at Convention This Year—Members Will Interview Coolidge if Possible.

The Greensboro Daily Record, Pilot Life Insurance Company, Proximity Manufacturing Company, Blue Bell Overall Company, Pomona Mills, Inc., Vick Chemical Company, Dixie Fire Insurance Company, Greensboro Chamber of Commerce, Dixie Advertising Sign Company, Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company—such is the roll of honor of Greensboro industries and business organizations as edited by the five boys who are going on the HIGH LIFE tour to New York in a truck. Major Edney Ridge, manager of the Daily Record, has loaned the truck to the boys.

John Mebane, Paul Wimbish, James Clements, Ernest Williams, and Glenn Holder comprise the delegation who will attend the Interscholastic Press Convention at Columbia University. Last year HIGH LIFE won second place in class B in the contest which is held in conjunction with the convention. This year it has been raised to Class A. Over 1,000 high school publications from all over the North and South are expected to enter the contest.

Members of the delegation plan to stop over in Washington, where an interview will be arranged with President Coolidge if possible. Reservations for the party while in New York have been made at the Bristol hotel, just off Broadway on 48th street. Ten days is the length of time which the trip will cover.

In New York outstanding places of interest will be thoroughly covered. An itinerary has been drawn up for the week which the party will spend in the big city, comprising a definite schedule for each day. They will see most of the best shows now running in New York.

The boys will leave Greensboro Tuesday morning, March 9, arriving in New York Thursday evening, the 11th. Miss Coleman and Nell Thurman will leave on the Crescent Limited Wednesday, the 10th, and arrive late Thursday.

GLEE CLUB WILL GIVE "BELLE OF BARCELONA"

At the beginning of the semester two girls' glee clubs were formed. One is composed of new girls who are just starting glee club work, and the other, of girls who have had this training before. There is also a third club composed of boys. All three of these clubs have been working together on an operetta, "The Belle of Barcelona."

The story is that if a Spanish girl who comes to Washington with her father, the Spanish consul to the United States, and falls in love with an American. One day the young hero is dismayed to find that the beautiful girl has disappeared, leaving no forwarding address. But that is not the end; in some way love always conquers. The American is sent to Spain by his government, and there he finds her. Her father has engaged her to a rich nobleman, and Hall, the American, has to fight it out.

Courting in the beautiful plaza, scented, moonlit nights, gay bull fights, intrigues, and a glorious end—these are incidents in Hall's fight for Marguerita.

A comical thread is woven through the story in the persons of the Irishman "Pat," and the "proper English governess, Miss Ayers."

The directors, Mr. Gildersleeve and Mr. Miller, say that splendid progress is being made. The musical comedy will be ready for presentation by April. The junior girls' glee club is working on the choruses for the flower girls in the wedding scene; the girls and boys of the senior club will be the Spanish students. There will be eight special dancers, and these with the main characters will total 100 on the stage for the finale.

Mr. Wunsch and his dramatics class will make the scenery, and Mr. Wunsch will also coach the acting. This, "The Belle of Barcelona," will be one of the most magnificent achievements of the high school.

LOCAL BOYS MEET GOVERNOR M'LEAN

Holder and Mebane Have Confidential Talk With Governor In Daily Record Office.

It was Saturday morning, February 20. In front of the Daily Record office on Greene street was parked a big, shiny limousine with the number 1 in haughty aloneness on the N. C. license plate. A battered Ford drew up beside it, and two high school boys tumbled out, disappearing into the newspaper office. The limousine seemed to draw away from the mongrel flivver as if in proud disdain.

Inside the office the two boys looked around for Major Ridge, manager of the Record. He stood at the door of the glass-partitioned space that comprises his office. In obedience to his beckoning summons, they entered. Inside stood a stranger—a big, ideally-proportioned man.

"Boys, I want you to meet Governor McLean. Governor, this is John Mebane and Glenn Holder, a couple of prominent young citizens of our town," Mr. Ridge said. After shaking hands with the governor, the dazed boys looked helplessly at Major Ridge. They were afraid to say anything; how did a person act when he met the governor, anyway, they wanted to know.

"Making an early start, are you? That's the best way to success. You boys are started right—go to it. All you've got to do is work. Nowadays every boy has a fair chance—it's up to him to take advantage of it. If you fellows really want to do big things, the world lies before you. But you've got to work; nobody else is going to do it for you," Governor McLean told them, after a little preliminary conversation.

A few minutes later two beaming boys strutted out into the bright sunlight, fingers hooked in vest pockets, their bearing that of arrogant persons of consequence. When a person has just had his first confidential conversation with a governor, he naturally does not feel himself the most unimportant of human beings, especially if he be a high school boy.

STATE LATIN CONTEST G. H. S. REPRESENTED

Interest is Keen and Competition is Expected From Practically All the Larger Schools in State.

Wednesday, February 24, a Latin contest was held under the auspices of the Latin Department in co-operation with the Extension Division of the University of North Carolina. The purpose of the contest was to act as an aid in stimulating interest in the study of Latin in high school, and was arranged to test students' knowledge of Latin in the simplest and most direct way—by translation and by questions on grammar.

The contest was open to all accredited public high schools in the state. Last year more than 60 schools took part in this. Greensboro made a good showing at that time, but this year the contest was open to all Sophomores and Juniors, as well as Seniors, and it is hoped that by this a higher score was made. The results will be announced as soon as the papers are graded.

TYPING CONTEST CALLS FOR ALL RECORD-BREAKERS

The Typing Contest which is to be held in Charlotte the latter part of April is calling for hard, earnest work on the part of several of the typing students. Those who stand a chance of taking part in this contest are Elizabeth Rockwell, Fanny Rockwell, Ruth Capel, Annie Younts, Ida May Meyers, Cordia Durham, and Elizabeth Campbell.

All of these students have made good records throughout their course and are doing extra practice after school and at vacant periods to increase their speed and accuracy. The prospects are that those selected for the team will come back record-breaking winners.

EXCHANGES

Edited by ELIZABETH ROCKWELL

Shreveport Hi-Life, Shreveport, La.

Your paper is very good, but if it contained more editorials it would be more interesting.

The Bruin, New Bern, N. C.

The article on "Accuracy First" is very good. We're sure it will prove profitable to those who read it.

The Central Bulletin, Central High School, Washington, D. C.

Your paper is one of the neatest and most attractive we have had the pleasure of reading. All of your departments are well arranged.

Cohisco Outburst, Covington, Va.

We think the paper as a whole is a rather creditable one, but a paragraph about the alumni association and a column for exchanges would add to the practical value of your paper.

The Lee Hi Mirror, Columbus, Miss.

The students seem to be doing excellent work in this school, especially in athletics. Keep it up.

Cupo' Coffee, Coffee County High School.

We are glad to receive you as a member of exchanges, and we find your paper very interesting. Your poems are very good.

DRAMATIC CLASS TO GIVE PLAY SOON

"The Charm School" a Clever Comedy, to be Presented March 12 at N.C.C.W.

"The Charm School," a comedy in three acts, is to be presented by the dramatic class of Greensboro High School at the N. C. C. W. Auditorium on either March 11 or 12.

Students under the direction of Mr. W. R. Wunsch will paint the scenery for the first act. The production will be three hours long with plenty of sparkling humor and clever wit.

The plot centers around Austin Bevans, an automobile salesman, who inherited a girls' school from an aunt. He tries to run it by his own methods of charm.

Louise McCulloch will be the leading lady as Elise Benedottie. Bunny Wimbish will play opposite her as Austin Bevans. They will be ably supported by David MacKenzie, a law student, Vernon Patterson; Homer Johns, the guardian of Elise Benedottie, Maddy Solomon; George Boyd, an expert accountant, Phil Shelton; Miss Curtis, who always tries to think well of the Senior class, Sara Mendenhall; Miss Hays, who is loved and feared by all who know her, Mary Jane Wharton; and a whole school of girls. There will be 26 in the cast.

Wallace Reid played the part of Bevans in the screen version of "The Charm School." This comedy has had two long successful seasons in New York and London.
