

G. H. S. Publications Won First Place In Contest

AWARDED CUPS

Holder and Mebane Represent
G. H. S. on Spectator Staff.

OVER 700 DELEGATES ATTEND
Papers from 43 States, Canada, and Canal Zone, All Entered Contest of C. I. P. A.

On March 13, HIGH LIFE was awarded first prize in class B (schools with enrollment of 750 to 1000) by the Columbia Interscholastic Press Association. Homespun, due to a mistake in classification, was awarded first prize in class C (schools with enrollment of 250 to 750 pupils). Glenn Holder and John Mebane represented the two Greensboro publications, HIGH LIFE and Homespun on the convention number of the Columbia Spectator, the daily paper of Columbia University. Each winning magazine and paper had an editor on the convention issue of this paper.

Friday, March 12, sectional meetings were held during the morning and afternoon, each editor attending at least two of these meetings. The speakers for the day were: H. B. Swope, of the New York World; W. McCay, of the New York Herald-Tribune; E. S. Murthey of the American Boy; A. S. Draper, of the New York Herald-Tribune; B. P. Adams, of the Literary Digest; L. Markel of the New York Times and Miss Edith Penney, of the Bronxville High School, New York.

A convention banquet was held Friday night at the Prince George Hotel, after which the members were taken in sight-
(Continued on page five)

CASHIERS OF G. H. S. HEAR TALK BY O'NEILL

Gives Reasons for Importance of Regular Saving, No Matter Whether
One Cent or Thousand Dollars.

Mr. D. F. O'Neal, publicity agent for the "School Banking System", gave a talk to the cashiers of the rooms of Greensboro High, Thursday, March 18, on "How to Make Your Room 100%."

Mr. O'Neill opened his talk by discussing the value of a few cents to business men, and how much all these pennies would mean if deposited in the school bank. As an illustration he told of the results of trying to ride a street car for only six cents.

He suggested that at the next meeting a president be elected and that the Freshmen and Sophomores compete with the upper classes for the higher percentage. A draft of each room was left, showing what the rooms were doing each month. He also suggested that a publicity manager be elected to boost the banking through posters and through HIGH LIFE.

Greensboro High's percentage from the first "Savings Gazette" was 40% and since then it has gradually decreased.

L. R. JOHNSON GUEST OF GREENSBORO HIGH SCHOOL

Mr. L. R. Johnson, principal of the High Point School, visited Greensboro High on March 9, to see Mr. Phillips regarding the organization of a Torch Light Society in High Point High School. He invited representatives from G. H. S. to go to High Point.

The visitor spoke of the new high school High Point is to have. "It is to cost $400,000 and will be very fine. The students are eagerly awaiting the time to occupy the new building," the principal declared.

Events At C. I. P. A. Convention

Animated Cartoons, Mr. Winsor McCay, New York Herald Tribune.

Newspaper Make-up, Miss Edith M. Penney, High School, Bronxville, N. Y.

Sports Writing, Mr. Arthur S. Draper, Sports Editor, New York Herald Tribune.

The News Story, Mr. Lester Markel, Sunday Editor, New York Times.

Editorial Writing, Professor Alen S. Will, School of Journalism, Columbia University.

Convention Banquet, New England Dining Room, Prince George Hotel.

Visit to New York Times or New York Herald Tribune buildings.

Varsity Show, "His Majesty, The Queen." Waldorf-Astoria Ballroom.

Editing the Spectator, John Mebane, Glenn Holder.

TEACHERS LEAVE FOR CAPITAL CITY

Six of The High School Faculty
Go to Annual State Educational Convention.

The North Carolina Education Association held its annual meeting at Raleigh, March 18-20. One delegate for each ten teachers was sent and by this ruling, Greensboro High School was allowed four representatives. Misses Bul-lard, Tillett, Boyington, Summerell, and Leslie represented G. H. S. Mr. C. W. Phillips attended as Chairman of the Grammar Department, and Miss Pannell, as Chairman of the Primary Department.

The first general session was held Thursday evening, March 18, and Major Wm. T. Morgan, noted lecturer on vocational subjects, made an address. Mrs. A. B. Joyner, of the executive committee of the department of classroom teachers, N. E. A., spoke Friday afternoon, and Dr. Paul Goode, one of the world's greatest geographers and map-makers spoke Friday evening. The conference of county superintendents was held in the Hall of the House of Representatives.

Superintendent Frederick Archer, of Greensboro, made an address to the Department of City Superintendents on "What we have the right to expect of the colleges." There were numerous reports and discussions at all of the meetings.

For the first time in the history of the association there are more than ten thousand members.

MR. MCRAVY GIVES AN ENJOYABLE PROGRAM

James B. McCravy of Laurens, S. C., performed for the Freshmen in Chapel Wednesday, March 17. Prior to Mr. McCravy's performances, Dr. C. J. D. Parker, from the Southern Baptists Convention, led the devotional exercises.

Mr. McCravy first taught the audience a clever song, "Are You Downhearted." After this he played on the ukelele and violin. The entertainer took great pains to impress upon his hearers the fact that his name was "McCravy" rather than "McCravy".

CHARM SCHOOL WELL RECEIVED

Acting Splendid—Much Ability
In the Dramatic Field
Brought to Light.

Thursday, March 11, at the N. C. C. W. Auditorium the Greensboro High School Dramatic Club presented the "Charm School", a clever comedy, to a full house.

Austin Bevans, having inherited a girl's boarding school from his aunt, gave his boy friends positions as professors and proceeded to run the school on the basis of charm. The play goes on to show just what would happen if young men were introduced into girls schools as instructors.

Sarah Mendenhall, as Miss Curtis, won the hearty applause of the audience. Her acting was superb. Bunny Wimbish as Austin Bevans, the leading man, and Louise McCulloch as Elsie Benedict did splendid work. Mary Jane Wharton acted well in the difficult role of Miss Hayes.

The parts of David McKenzie, Homer Johnson and George Boyd were filled throughout by Pat Patterson, Maddy Solomon, and Phil Shelton respectively. George's darning brought forth peals of laughter. The part of Sally Boyd was taken by Margaret High. She truly filled the part, and was fully appreciated by the audience.

Each character deserves special mention for the splendid work he did, and the art he lent toward making "The Charm School" a success.

The complete list of characters follows: Austin Bevans, ("Bunny" Wimbish) an automobile salesman with idea which Davis McKenzie, ("Pat" Patterson) a
(Continued on page three)

STATE P. T. A. HOLDS MEETING IN RALEIGH

Many Attend From Greensboro and Other Cities Throughout the State
—Strictly a Business Meeting.

The mid-year meeting of the managers of the State Parent-Teacher Association was held March 18, at Raleigh. The meeting began at 10:15 Thursday morning at the Woman's Club. This was strictly a business meeting. At noon the members of the board were entertained at luncheon by the Raleigh Council, after which the meeting was continued. The speakers were Mrs. Frank Castlebury, one of the vice-presidents, and Mrs. W. H. Swift, the President. Those attending from Greensboro were: Mrs. W. H. Swift; C. W. Phillips, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. W. W. Martin, chairman of the department of kindergarden; Mrs. Raymond Binford, of Guilford College, Recording Secretary, Mrs. Arthur Watt, chairman of Child Welfare Magazine; C. O. Burton of Pomona, State Treasurer; Dr. W. H. Livers, the representatives from N. C. C. W. and others. Members from Charlotte, Asheville, Morehead City, Salisbury, and cities all over the state.

G. H. S. SCORES IN STATE LATIN CONTEST AT U. N. C.

Mary Jane Wharton won honorable mention in the State Latin contest conducted by the University of North Carolina. The three papers sent from G. H. S. were: Glenn Boyd MacLeod's, Mary Elizabeth King's, and Mary Jane Wharton's.

The contest was won by the Lillington High School. The Roxboro, Winston-Salem, Chapel Hill and Greensboro High Schools won honorable mention.

PEACE IS THEME OF CHAPEL TALK BY DR. WATKINS

Secretary of Council for Prevention of War Makes Talk
On "Our Patriotism."

LEAVES SCHOOL POSTER

"America First, Not in Pride and Arrogance, But in Sympathy and Tolerance," Is Thought of Poster.

Dr. Clarence Watkins, Secretary of Council for Prevention of War, made a talk on "Our Patriotism" in chapel, Tuesday, March 16th. In his discussion he explained that he wished every high school student could study logic, because the hope of the nation lies in the next generation.

There were three main points of Dr. Watkins' talk. First, he discussed peace as technique. "What is peace? Nobody wants peace at any price. Peace is a way of doing things, a technique of life," he said. "Second, peace is important in solving economic problems. The causes of war are not the same as the causes of differences of opinions. We have a practical form of government which, though far from perfect, has proved itself superior to any other in the world;
(Continued on page three)

MUSICAL CONTEST TO BE HELD SOON

Solo Events in Soprano, Contralto, Tenor, Baritone, Base, Voice, Violin, Piano.

The State Music Contest will be held April 29-30 at the North Carolina College for Women. The High School preliminaries will be held Saturday, March 27, at 2:00 p.m. in the High School auditorium. The enrollments in all events with names of contestants must be made at the college April 1. All intending to enter, please hand names to Mr. Gildersleeve before March 27.

The musical organization of G. H. S. has been studying the contest numbers since Christmas and hope to make a creditable showing. Many individual students are trying for solo events in the following: Soprano, Contralto, Tenor, Baritone, Base, Unchanged voice, Violin and Piano. The required numbers to be used are posted on the Bulletin Board.

There are two significant changes from last year. In the piano contest there will be a test reading which will count 25% of the grade of the player. This will be included in the preliminary contest. The other change is that the contestants can enter as many events as they wish, instead of only six as in previous years.

The purpose of the State Music Contest is to stimulate all scholars having music instruction to do better work and to encourage other schools to include music in their curriculum.

FORMER SPEED TYPIST DEMONSTRATES HERE

On Thursday, March 11, a very interesting program was witnessed by the members of the Commercial Club. Miss Minnie Regelmeyer, the former amateur world champion typist, with a record of typewriting 143 net words per minute for 30 minutes, gave a performance in which there were several interesting features.

The main phase of her demonstration was shifting the carriage correctly. She also emphasized in typing. She added several columns of figures mentally while
(Continued on page three)

JEFFRESS TALKS BEFORE STUDENTS

Says "Hope of the City Lies in
The Education of Its Future Citizens."

Monday, March 15, Mr. E. B. Jeffress, Mayor of Greensboro, made an address in Chapel on the subject, "Progressive Citizens." Throughout his talk he laid special stress on the advantages of education the young people have today. He spoke of the great development of Greensboro in recent years, the extending of the city limits and the wonderful achievements which have been made, along with its gradual but steady progress. "Education," he declared, "is the true foundation of progress, and without educated, enlightened citizens, a city could not hope to achieve much. The hope of any city lies in the education of its future citizens, who are the young students in the schools now."

Mayor Jeffress stressed the importance of the eight months school term for Guilford County. "This," he says, "determines the future of our country."

MAIN BUILDING REWARDED FOR SUPPORT IN ATHLETICS

After many conjectures on the part of some anxious members of the student body as to the probability and magnitude of the promised reward incident to the main building giving 100 per cent support to the Athletic Association, the problem is quickly and quietly solved by the high school officials. As a result the main building was dismissed at the end of the seventh period on the afternoon of Friday, the 19th, in recognition of its loyalty and support.

MISS MORGAN CALLED TO BEDSIDE OF MOTHER

Accompanies Her to Hospital in Danville. Commercial Students Substitute as Secretary.
Mr. Phillips.

Miss Lottie Morgan, secretary of the High School, was away from school during the week of March 8-12 on account of the illness of her mother. While she was absent the Commercial students took her place in the office.

The students were sent down during their study periods. They took dictation from Mr. Phillips, transcribed letters, answered the telephone, took notes of lost and found articles and reported them, checked out books, answered callers and did anything else that happened to come up in the office.

On Tuesday Miss Morgan was called home to take her mother to the hospital in Danville. Her mother is still ill but is very much better. Miss Morgan has returned to her work this week.

BUILDING BURNED THURSDAY MARCH 11

Old Curry Building at N. C. C. W.
Is Burned to Ground—No
One Seriously Injured.

The Curry Building at the North Carolina College for Women was completely destroyed by fire on March 11, as a result of defective wiring. Every fire truck in the city answered the call. The firemen put up a hard fight but could not overcome the leaping flames in time to save the building or any of its contents.

No serious injuries were sustained. Miss Marjorie Pratt, one of the teachers of the training school had her face and hair scorched trying to save some valuable papers.

(Continued on page five)