

GREEN - ROOM GOSSIP

"Just Out of College" is a comedy in three acts, by George Ade. This play has been selected as the senior class play. Tryouts will be held on March 30 and 31, in the high school auditorium under the direction of directors Wunsch and Rowe. Every senior is eligible. The play will be given in the N. C. C. W. auditorium on May 14 and 15.

Tryouts for Phyllis Penn's "Faces and Cards" and Sarah Mendenhall's "Rough-Shod" will be held in the high school auditorium on Monday afternoon, March 21. These plays will be coached by their authors and will be presented at N. C. C. W. with Ruth Heath's "Masks Off" on April 23.

The "Workshop" has taken on of late the appearance of a kindergarten filled with playhouses. Members of the Dramatics I class have been handing in their March work on miniature stage construction. Some of these miniatures are especially good: Beverly Moore and John Gillespie's Act I of "The Poor Nut"; Margaret Hood's Act III of the same play; Bill Byer's exterior scene; Franklin Morrison's set with curtains that move by pulleys; John Thornton and Frances Leak's futuristic stage with miniature lights. Edmund Turner's stages are real works of art.

The Greensboro High School Dramatic Club has been invited to bring a one-act play to a neighboring town late in April. They will be given forty dollars for the single performance.

"Masks Off" is a fantasy, written by Ruth Heath, with the setting in the small kingdom of Roumania, on the Mediterranean coast. The cast is: Romance, Catherine Duffy; Chris, a romantic young man, Vernon Patterson; Pamela Thorne, Thelma Miles; Dora, Frances Leak; Bobby Thorne, John Thornton; Countess Karolyi, Melene Burroughs; Count Karolyi, Beverly Moore; Jean, Ruth Simpson; Leinsler, Le Grande Johnson; Gallardo, an officer, Floyd Mills. The play is being coached by Ruth Heath, assisted by Mr. Wunsch and Mr. Rowe.

MISS BOYINGTON TELLS OF TRIP TO CAPITAL

On Wednesday, February 24th, Miss Boyington, member of the G. H. S. faculty returned from a trip to Washington, D. C., where she attended the meeting of the National Educational Association.

At the convention Miss Boyington was very much impressed by the discussion which took place at a thrift booth, where the man in charge spoke very favorably on thrift in North Carolina.

He spoke of the progress already made in this state toward the establishment of bank accounts by the students. He emphasized the importance of weekly banking habits, and the part of the students, mentioning the fact that merely having a bank account does not mean that a person saves systematically. Miss Boyington learned a great deal in connection with the making of maps and notebooks, both of which are being emphasized in the teaching of civics and history.

Aside from the convention a visit was made to the Capitol where Congress was in session, and Miss Boyington had the pleasure of hearing a discussion in which Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, took an active part. The bill had to do with the inheritance tax, and it vitally affected Duke University. The money will be exempt from such a tax.

The Home Economics class has dressed the Girls Rest Room in a gay spring dress. Bright curtains adorn the windows and dainty pillows invite repose. 'Twas Easter Sunday. The full blossomed trees Filled all the air with fragrance and with joy.

DR. H. A. SMITH IS TO GIVE PLAY HERE

It Is To Be Given At The First Presbyterian Church, Saturday Night, March 27.

Dr. H. A. Smith, Director of Religion and Fine Arts at Boston University, is coming to Greensboro for two days, Friday and Saturday, March 26 and 27, under the auspices of the First Presbyterian church. On Saturday night Dr. Smith will present a pageant, "The World of Prayer."

He has written many hymns, is recognized as a master of religious pageantry, and the First Presbyterian church is delighted to have Dr. Smith here for these two days.

PEACE IS THEME OF CHAPEL TALK BY DR. WATKINS

only by peace can it continue to be superior. The third point is that peace is necessary for the commonwealth of nations. Differences of opinion between countries may be dealt with in the same sensible way as disputes between individuals or states. The world court is for peaceful adjustments of national and international difficulties.

"All now believe in a League of Nations or some similar association. President Coolidge said recently, "It has been proved that we cannot place our main reliance on forces. We must cultivate the thought of construction and not destruction."

Dr. Watkins showed the students a national poster bearing the inscription, "America First." The thought of the poster was America first, not in pride and arrogance, but in sympathy and tolerance.

He ended his talk by saying, "I hope that you Greensboro High School Students will be citizens of the higher patriotism."

BOBBED HAIR

"Oh boy! look at the newest flapper. Keen red hair she's got, isn't it?"

There were among the comments made about a young lady standing with her back to several boys.

"I think she's a little too tall."

"I don't, and I bet I have a date with her inside of two days."

"You all shut up. I am going and get Mr. Phillips to introduce me."

"I think I will too."

"Wonder if she will be in any of our classes."

The boys walked towards Mr. Phillips who was talking with the "new girl". Suddenly he turned around, spied one of the boys and said, "Finley Atkinson, do you have that Math today?"

The boys faces fell. It was the same red hair, only bobbed, and the same familiar face, Miss Walker's.

On Thursday, March 4, Miss Boyington's first period class was entertained in Room 8 by a play, "How Tony Became Naturalized." The play showed all parts of naturalization more clearly than they could be explained, and also the use of real naturalization papers.

DEBATERS READY TO MEET WINSTON

Banquet Will Be Held For Debaters on April 2 In G.H. S. Cafeteria.

The Greensboro High School debating team is well under way. Mr. Farthing, coach of the debating team, says: "G. H. S. has fine prospects for a winning team. The boys are working hard to get in shape. The negative team has its speeches in final form, and are set, ready to go. The affirmative team is not yet ready with its speeches, but will soon have them prepared. The members are co-operating heartily and giving each other some hot questions and answers. Many good discussions follow, and there is much lively disagreeing between the two teams."

A banquet will be given April 2 at the High School Cafeteria in honor of the Winston-Salem negative team which will debate with the Greensboro affirmative team.

Greensboro's negative team will debate with the High Point team at High Point.

The affirmative team consists of Henry Biggs and Harry Gump; the negative, of John Mebane and Edgar Kuykendall.

STUNT NIGHT HELD AT CALDWELL GYM

The Play "The Spirit of Reform" Was Presented by the Pupils of Caldwell School.

Thursday night, March 18, the students of Caldwell School put on a program for the purpose of showing the advantages to the county children of an eight-months school term throughout Guilford county.

Preceding the main feature of the evening, two selections were given by young violinists. This was followed by some interesting cow boy songs by the boys' glee club.

A group of girls performed several gymnastic stunts. The more interesting ones were the dog walk, front and back somersault, through the sticks, diamond over, and cartwheel.

An interesting play called "The Spirit of Reform" was given by the children. The play showed the moral necessity of the father playing with his children. The leading characters were Boyd Morris, Sue Gordon, Grace Curtis, Randolph Freeman, Dorothy Stewart, James Berry, Robert McDowell and Martha Hobbs.

law student, considers unpractical, though George Boyd, (Phil Shelton) an expert accountant, is willing to cooperate and so are Jim Simpkins ("Bob" Caviness), and Tim Simpkins (Floyd Mills), who toil not and have never seriously considered spinning. Homer Johns (Maddy Solomon), is a guardian of Elsie Benedotti (Louise McCulloch), the president of the senior class at a school presided over by Miss Hays (Mary Jane Wharton), who is loved and feared by all who know her, including the secretary, Miss Curtis (Sarah Mendenhall), who is always trying to think well of the senior class, consisting of Sally Boyd (Margaret High), who is George's sister and Muriel Daughy (Matilda Robinson), Ethel Spelvin (Glenn Boyd MacLeod), Alex Mercier (Myra Wilkinson), Lillian Stafford (Ruth Abbott), Madge Kent (Cynthia Vaughn), Charlotte Gray (Mildred Nash), and it is hardly worth while to mention a junior, Dotsie (Frances Leak), who is always in the way.

Mr. W. R. Wunsch was the coach of the play ably assisted by Mr. A. T. Rowe, Jr., and Miss Mary Wheeler, make-up manager.

The scenery for Act I was painted by Edmund Turner and the play was produced by special arrangement with Samuel French, 26 45th Street, New York City.

We only wish there was a lecture every day at the eighth period.

PLAY TO BE GIVEN BY SCOUT TROOP 5

Troop to Give Play at Odell Memorial to Make Money For Summer Trip.

The Boy Scouts of Troop 5 will give a play entitled "Kid's Awakening," Friday night at 8:15 at the Odell Memorial building.

"Kid's Awakening" is the story of a boy who is raised as a crook but who is finally led to an awakening by a Scout Master. The admission will be 50 cents. This is given to help the boys make money for their trip to Yellowstone National Park.

SNOW

"What on earth!" I exclaimed, as a loud, ringing sound awoke me. I reached over and turned off the alarm. It was only 6:30! Could it be—yes, I was to play tennis. Reluctantly I got out of bed.

"Oh, how queer!" I exclaimed, looking out of the window.

The ground was covered with snow, an dmore was falling rapidly. The trees were white, and the roofs of the houses were partly covered with snow. Perhaps I was dreaming all this, and would wake up soon. Yesterday it had been so warm and sunny, and this was the middle of March. I got back into bed, set my alarm for eight o'clock and went to sleep, dreaming peacefully of a game of tennis.

JUNIORS SELL CANDY AT CHARM SCHOOL THURSDAY

"Buy some candy. Don't you want some candy? Yes, we have chewing gum." Such were the remarks made by the candy sellers, and heard by all who attended "The Charm School." With the co-operation of the students who made and sold the candy, also of the people who bought it, semester five was able to add $13.60 to their Junior-Senior fund.

WELL-KNOWN ACTOR IS TO APPEAR HERE SOON

Will Rogers, famous cowboy-actor, who has been with Ziegfeld Follies for years, is to appear in person at the National Theater some time in April. Mr. Rogers is one of the best-known comedians in the country. It is expected that his appearance will be greeted with delight by many Greensboro people.

At present he is touring the country and making talks in various theaters. Too, he writes humorous articles for a number of daily papers.

Among his best-known stunts are those with the rope. During these acts he tells jokes and comments on the city officials.

Mr. C. D. Buckner, manager of the National Theater, has persuaded him to come here.

typing. Miss Regelmeyer offered a photograph of herself to the observer who could guess the correct number of words that she copied in a given time. The only person guessing the correct number was Glenn Hackney. He received the photograph of which he was very proud.

Albert Tangora, champion speed typist of the world, has a record of 130 net words per minute, for one hour, while that of Miss Regelmeyer is 119 net words per minute, for one hour.

Miss Regelmeyer was brought here under the auspice of the Underwood Typewriter Company.

NEWLY ELECTED MEMBERS TAKE PLEDGE MCH. 11

Margaret Hood Presides At Meeting in Chapel Period of Torch Light Society.

PLANS MADE FOR SPRING

Miss Harmon, of Greensboro College, Gives Readings—Mr. Miller Gives Several Musical Selections.

The Torch Light Society met at chapel period Thursday, March 11. Margaret Hood, the president of the society, presided. The new members were initiated by taking the pledge of the society.

The business of getting pins for the members was discussed, and plans were made for the various activities to be carried out this spring.

Miss Harmon, of the Greensboro College for Women, entertained with several readings greatly enjoyed by the members of the society. Mr. Miller presented a few musical selections, after which the meeting adjourned.

MISS LULU B. CARR COMPLIMENTS G. H. S.

She Says That Boys and Girls of Greensboro High School Are Very Trustworthy.

"You have boys and girls in your school who are dependable and trustworthy," says Mrs. Lula B. Carr, General Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. of this city, when interviewed by one G. H. S. Student Council member.

Mrs. Carr is very pleased with the attitude the girls show in having their fun in the right way, and with the manner in which they conduct themselves. As a whole she says they reflect credit on G. H. S.

"You will always have my hearty co-operation, and high school boys and girls, here's to you," declared the Secretary.

CARNIVAL IS PRESENTED AT Y. W. C. A. BY CLUB

On Friday night, March 19, eight of the clubs from the Y. W. C. A. held a carnival at the hut. The purpose was to make money to send a girl to the Blue Ridge Convention.

The hut was attractively decorated. Each club had a store in town to be in their booth as an advertisement. The store decorated the booth with their goods. They gave the club some small articles that could be sold for between five and twenty-five cents. There was also a candy and cake booth. Some of the stores represented were Hayward Jewelry Co., Sutton's Flowers, and the Book Shop, Maxwell House Coffee and Velvet Ice Cream.

The committee in charge was pleased with the result of the carnival.

INTEREST AROUSED BY THREE UNIT COURSES

The new unit courses which started with full sway are still swaying, bringing many new enthusiastic members.

The girls in the Art Appreciation class are learning all about the different kinds of lines that the artist uses. These girls have Miss Summerell on Mondays, and Miss Eckford from N. C. C. W. on Wednesday. The classes are very much enjoyed, because at the last meeting there were 24 members.

Miss Greenwaldt and her Dress Appreciation class are doing fine work with 45 members. These girls are planning to be correctly dressed this spring.

At the last meeting of Miss Grogan's Form class they had 10 per cent more members than at the previous meeting.

"If you have the misfortune of getting a bone in your throat, don't squeak," she says. "Put your napkin up to your mouth, and remove it, and try not to look as if you are in pain."
