DR. KNIGHT TELLS OF SCHOOLS IN DENMARK AT FORUM THIS WEEK

Says "Education Is Master-
Builder In Danish Country;
Democracy Reality"

BIVEN IS NEXT SPEAKER

Subject of Coming Meeting Will Be
"Debunking Politics," Dr. A. P.
Kephart Announces

Dr. Edgar W. Knight was the speaker at the Open Forum Tuesday night, November 2. His talk was on the schools of Denmark. The speaker was introduced by Chairman C. A. Hines.

Dr. Knight first stressed Danish teachers and their excellence. "One of the most important lessons in education which North Carolina can learn from Denmark is in the training of teachers. Denmark demands that teachers possess adequate preparation and training. This demand grows out of Danish respect for thoroughness and excellence, and this respect is the result of a thorough and effective system of education. Teachers are carefully selected, properly trained, well rewarded, and pensioned by the state," said Dr. Knight.

"Education is the master builder in Denmark, where democracy seems also to have been made a reality. Good schools for all the people have been the rule for generations. They have practically wiped out illiteracy. They prefer the pressure of just taxation, however heavy, to any load of ignorance, however light, and the dangers that always stalk in its step."

Denmark is one-third the size of North Carolina. Last year, $500,000,000 was put in libraries excepting the royal library and the library of the University of Copenhagen. Four cents per inhabitant was the amount spent by North Carolina.

The asking of questions by those present brought on further discussion.

Dr. A. P. Kephart announced that Bruce Bliven will be the next Open Forum speaker. The subject of his talk is "Debunking Politics."

DEBATING CLUB HAS ITS TWO OCT. MEETINGS

"Six-Year Presidential Term" Subject
For Debate October 29.
Negative Wins

A bill—"Resolved; That the President of the United States should be given a six-year term with no re-election," was presented at the meeting of the Debating Club October 29. The member who presented the bill stated that he felt that four years was too short a time, while eight years was too lengthy a period, but that six appeared to him to be a happy medium.

There was considerable discussion pro and con, after which the club voted against the bill by a large majority.

The members voted to adopt two amendments presented at the previous meeting. The first amendment was for a student body of these provided present at each meet, the second that the club should abide by Robert's Rules of Order.

A debate on the query, "Resolved: That the child labor amendment to the Federal Constitution should be ratified by the states," as contained in the program for the meeting of October 22.

Minnie Herman and Henry Weiland contended the affirmative side of the question while Elizabeth Boyst and Louis Brooks upheld the negative.

The decision was two-to-one in favor of the negative.

It is a curious fact that people ignore the beauty and interest of things around them while they make every effort to see attractions which a distant city, place, or person possesses, and which are in many instances of no greater merit than their own.—Manual Arts Weekly, Los Angeles, Cal.

HUMOR

By G. Todd

A valuable addition to the Rogue's Gallery of the Senior classes was made the evening of the 29th near nine o'clock when James Clements, notorious rascal, was dragged before the camera to have his "mug mapped."

Clements struggled savagely to escape, but, secure in the arms of four husky bluecoats, he was compelled to submit. The camera, broken from the severe strain, it is said, but being a special type, guaranteed to photograph all faces, it did not break. This is the first time Clements' photograph has ever been obtained, due to the comparative weakness of the old style cameras; and the police are jubilant over their success.

Clements was captured at the Greensboro-Spencer football game by that intrepid arm of the law, Carlton E. Wilder. The master rogue submitted to the great detective without a struggle. Mr. Wilder immediately turned him over to the city police. He was wearing a heavy growth of whiskers when captured; but was speedily rushed to the nearest barber shop where two barbers with the aid of plenty of soap and a cross-cut saw soon got rid of the facial scenery. When the darkening crook saw that the intention of his captors was to photograph him, he made a last desperate try for freedom, but a flying tackle of the whole force saved another victim for the electric chair.

The police are making a determined attempt to clear up the crime wave which is sweeping the city and are determined to have pictures of every criminal. Friday night's haul yielded, besides Clements, two other notorious members of the underworld—Baxter Bason and "Chuck" Burgess. The force is now scouring the city for Paul Wimbish, whose desperate deeds have long terrorized all law-abiding citizens. The chief in a statement Saturday declared that he was confident that by Monday the net would be completely drawn around the famous criminals.

P.T.A. CHILDREN ATTEND GIRLS' COUNCIL NURSERY

Several Mothers Avail Themselves of Opportunity to Attend Meeting
Without Babies

The Girl's Administrative Council, as an aid to the parents, established a nursery beginning with the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Wednesday, November 3. Two girls from the council remain at each meeting to care for the children. This is being done so that those mothers who cannot attend the meetings because of their small children may bring them along and feel sure of their safety. The girls on duty Wednesday, November 3, were Ruth Lewis and Doris Hogan. Several mothers took advantage of the plan.

ROBERT MILES GIVES TALK ON LOYALTY TO STUDENTS IN CHAPEL

Discusses Five Phases: Loyalty to Name, Country, School,
Church and God

HIS VIEWS ARE TIMELY

Encourages Pupils to Bring to Their Country That Which Is Pure,
Good and Wholesome

"This is my commandment that ye love one another, as I have loved you. Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friends. This has been the message of Jesus down through the ages. His challenge to us is to be loyal," said Mr. Robert Miles, college secretary of the Southern Presbyterian Church, at chapel Monday and Tuesday, October 25 and 26. "Loyalty is a subject much discussed in colleges and schools. If we have not loyalty we might just as well pass out now," continued Mr. Miles.

"There are five phases of loyalty. There is loyalty to our name, our country, our school, our church, and loyalty to God. We carry a name through life and what we do reflects on those who gave us our name. Certainly, loyalty to our country is a trait anyone is proud of. Strive to bring to our country that which is pure, good, and wholesome."

"Every school thinks it is the best. If you do not try to make it the best school the thing for you to do is to get out. Sometimes in the striving for knowledge we get it dishonestly. You are not hurting anybody but your school and yourself when you cheat," said Mr. Miles.

"Are you loyal to God your Father? I think that in this school you have the ardent desire to be loyal to God. I hope that you may never do anything to lower the standard of your school." This was the message that Mr. Miles left with the student body.

J. D. McNairy gave a brief synopsis of the three plays given October 28 by the public speaking department.

FACULTY MEMBERS GO TO "LAND OF THE SKY"

Teachers Motor to Old Fort and Spend
Week-End At Hokey-Pokey
Cottage

Friday afternoon, October 22, six of the faculty motored to Old Fort, N. C. They stayed at Hokey-Pokey, the Walker's cottage, which is about 30 miles from Asheville. The teachers who went were Misses Laura Tillett, Josie Causy, Emily Wright, Lily Walker, Mary Ellen Blackmon, and Mr. J. A. Farthing. The party arrived at Hokey-Pokey at 9:20 Friday night. Miss Walker was the chauffeur for the trip.

"Mr. Farthing was bottle-washer and chief entertainer. Instead of walking, he Charlestoned about. He was so busy inventing new steps that he almost fell down bringing in the breakfast Sunday morning. Miss Wright and Miss Causy, being new members of the party, had to perform also. They were a very comical sight," declared Miss Tillett.

The party climbed the mountains Saturday morning to Black Mountain. Mr. W. R. Wunsch, former member of G. H. S. faculty, hiked from Asheville and spent Saturday at the cottage. Mr. L. H. Edwards drove from Asheville Sunday to see the party.
