

CIVITANS ENTERTAIN STUDENTS WITH TRIP TO CAPITAL OF STATE

Pupils With High Scholastic Average Spend Full Day Seeing Sights

GOVERNOR MAKES TALK

Party Carried Through Capitol, Hall of History, State Penitentiary, and See Legislature in Session

The Greensboro Civitan Club carried out an annual event when they honored those pupils of the various session-rooms of Greensboro High School who had made highest scholastic averages during the last semester, with an automobile trip to Raleigh, Wednesday, February 16.

The feature of the visit was an informal talk by Governor McLean. He contrasted the advantages in education of modern North Carolina children with those of his early days. A cordial welcome to the capital was tendered the boys and girls by the governor.

The group also visited the halls of the General Assembly, where both houses were in session. Some of Guilf.

WAYNE NELSON SPEAKS WITH UPPER CLASSMEN

Director of Station WNRC Speaks About Radio—Sponsored by G. H. S. Torch Light Society

HOPES RADIO BILL WILL PASS

"Radio" was the subject on which Mr. Wayne M. Nelson, director of the local radio broadcasting station, WNRC, spoke to the upper classmen in chapel, Monday, February 16. This address was the first of a series of forums which the Torchlight Society is sponsoring.

Mr. Nelson briefly pointed out the high lights in the history of radio, and then went into the technique. He stated that ten years ago radio broadcasting within a radius of ten miles was considered marvelous, almost miraculous.

"I do not believe moving-pictures over the radio will ever come to a state of perfection," Mr. Nelson further declared.

"Amateur experimentation is radio's greatest asset. It is through these experiments that progress in radio is made."

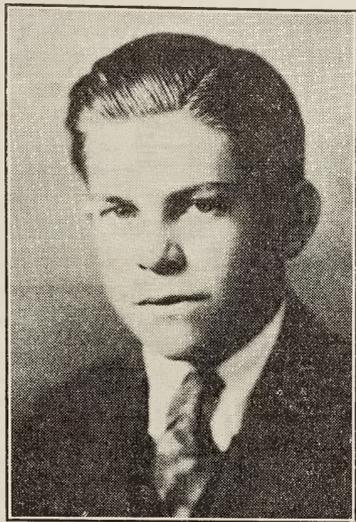

Mr. Nelson concluded his talk by saying that he hoped the radio bill, regulating broadcasting, would be passed by Congress during this session.

NEXT HOMESPUN TO BE CHILDHOOD ISSUE

The next issue of Homespun went to press this week. The theme for this number is "Childhood," and it is developed by short skits and sketches of actual childhood experiences.

The weave will contain several articles on poets of childhood. "Long-fellow As a Child's Poet" is the subject of an essay by Ruth Abbott, "Who Was Mother Goose?" is also discussed. Carlton Wilder has contributed an article on "Injustices of Childhood." Matilda Robinson's poetry is also an interesting feature of this department.

In the other departments will be found an article on "Child Labor," by Troy Ziglar, of the class of '26; "Long Pants," by John Brown; "When the Preacher Comes," by John Allred, and other such sketches.

EDGAR KUYKENDALL

EDGAR KUYKENDALL SENIOR PRESIDENT

Semester Seven Elects Class Officers For Entire Senior Year

R. LEWIS VICE-PRESIDENT

Tuesday, February 8, the seventh semester seniors elected as president of their class for the coming year, Edgar Kuykendall. Other officers elected were: vice-president, Ruth Lewis; and secretary and treasurer, Perry Hyams.

During the three years of his high school life, Edgar has devoted a good deal of his time to debating. He acted as president of the Debating Club in his junior year and for the past two years he has won a place on the triangular debating team. He entered the declamation contest this year and was one of the three boys chosen to represent the school in the college contests.

The president is making plans for the coming year and expects the hearty co-operation of his classmates.

The program on February 8 was concluded by short impromptu talks by LeGrande Johnson, Margaret High, and J. D. McNairy on various phases of a senior's life.

DRAMATIC CONTEST TO BE IN WINSTON TONIGHT

"The Valiant," a One-Act Tragedy by Hall and Middlemass to Be Presented by Greensboro

As a preliminary for the state dramatic contest the Public Speaking Department will present a one-act play, "The Valiant," in Winston-Salem tonight at 8 o'clock. This play was coached by Miss Marian Bliss, head of the department.

"The Valiant" is a tragedy by Hill and Middlemass, Leon Wells, as James Dyke, and Hilda Davidson, as Josephine Paris, play the leading roles. Charles McLees, as Warden Halt, and Herbert Jones, as Father Daly, have important parts. The other members of the cast are Ernest Scarborough and Joe Mann, as the jailer and the warden's attendant.

Miss Bliss urges all students to attend the play to be given in the Reynolds Memorial Auditorium in Winston at 8 o'clock tonight.

Mary Elizabeth King, pianist, gave a radio recital Thursday morning, February 17, as a test program from the studio of WNRC in the Jefferson Standard building.

P. T. A. OPEN HOUSE FOR SHOWING WORK OF G. H. S. STUDENTS

Plan to Bring Parents and Teachers Together—Several Hundred Attend

175 DINE IN CAFETERIA

Playlet and Other Features Compose Program in Auditorium—Work of Different Departments Shown

On Friday night, February 18, the Parent-Teacher Association held an open house at the high school from 5:30 until 9:30 o'clock. This was planned to bring the mothers, fathers and teachers together, and to show the parents some of the work that the pupils are doing.

There was much interest taken in this, if interest can be judged by the number of parents who visited the exhibits during the afternoon and stayed for the dinner and entertainment that evening. There were several hundred who visited the exhibits which were prepared by the different departments. Approximately 175 took dinner in the high school cafeteria, and about 250 were present at the final entertainment in the auditorium.

The work of the different departments was on display in the rooms of the main building and the home economics laboratory.

The real entertainment of the evening began at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. The high school dance orchestra rendered several selections. Next on the program was a playlet, "My Dear," put on by the public speaking department of the school. The parents had a "Sewing Bee," which called forth peals of laughter from the audience. As a conclusion to the program, the teachers presented an "Elocution Class," in which they were children again. Mr. C. W. Phillips and Miss Marian Bliss gave readings, and Mr. Stanley Johnson, Le Grand Johnson, and Enoch Elliott gave several musical selections on French harps and the guitar.

G. H. S. DELEGATES ASKED TO SERVE AS CHAIRMEN

Betty Brown and Carlton Wilder Receive Request to Lead Group at Convention of Journalists

REPRESENTATIVES LEAVE MAR. 9

Mr. Joseph M. Murphy, secretary of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association, has asked Betty Brown, editor-in-chief of HIGH LIFE, and Carlton Wilder, editor-in-chief of Homespun, to lead in the round table discussions which will be a feature of the convention to be held in New York, March 11 and 12. The round table discussions which are held every year as a regular part of the program are groups of the editors that meet to discuss the problems that confront them in getting out their school papers.

Carlton Wilder was asked to act as chairman of one group whose topic was how to manage a high school magazine. Although Carlton will not be able to attend, one of the other representatives will probably take his place.

The topic of the group of representatives that Betty will lead is "Making the Medium-Sized Newspaper Represent the Medium-Sized School."

The six delegates and the faculty adviser have made reservations at the McAlpin Hotel and are planning to leave March 9.

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM PRESENTED MONDAY

New Members of Torchlight Society Tapped in Impressive Ceremony

GOOD ENGLISH STRESSED

The first part of the chapel program Monday, February 21, was devoted to the tapping ceremony of the Torchlight Society. The lighted torch, the symbol of the National Honor Society, was passed on to the new members—five from semester eight, and six from semester seven. From semester eight, Ruth Abbott, John Allred, Jane Harris, Nell Thurman, and Cynthia Vaughn were chosen, and from semester seven, Henry Biggs, Harry Gump, Edgar Kuykendall, J. D. McNairy, Ruth Lewis, and Helen Shuford.

The remainder of the program was in charge of session room 102. Margaret Neal presided, Egbert McNairy conducted the devotional exercises, and Mildred Knight and Helen Shuford entertained the audience with piano duets.

The talks connected the celebration of Better Speech Week with a patriotic program. J. D. McNairy gave a talk on "Masters of Speech," and Henry Biggs spoke on the subject, "Lincoln as a Model of Good English."

A violin duet was then rendered by Ellen Dumivant and Evelyn Parks. Edgar Kuykendall, Harry Gump, Leon Wells, and Pat Patterson closed the program with an amusing selection, "Graveyard Blues."

EDWIN WEINER TALKS TO NEW BUILDING STUDENTS

Talks on "Sharing With Others"—Stresses the Importance of Being Thoughtful and Considerate

At chapel period, Tuesday morning, February 14, Mr. Edwin Weiner, the boys' worker of the local Y. M. C. A., spoke.

Mr. Weiner had as his audience the students of the new building, and spoke to them on "Sharing With Others." He stated that they should share their talents, their money, and their time with those who are less fortunate.

He also stressed the importance of being thoughtful and of showing consideration for others, particularly to their parents. He said that by keeping bank accounts and paying debts a person is unconsciously doing these things. He gave a number of incidents which showed that by being loyal to their parents and Jesus Christ, and showing their love and consideration for them, they could make their own lives better and more worth while. The speaker brought out the fact that Jesus Christ had shared or given up His life for theirs, and always showed His loyalty and love for them. He asked that the students sacrifice, if necessary, in order that they may share what they have with others.

Zeke Wilson spent the past week-end in Greensboro and visited the high school. Zeke is a student at V. P. I.

DEBATERS CHOSEN TO REPRESENT G. H. S. IN TRIANGULAR DEBATE

Twelve Students Compete For Places on the Triangular Team

CHOOSE TWO ALTERNATES

Edgar Kuykendall, Beverly Moore, Harry Gump, and Henry Biggs Win Out

Henry Biggs, Edgar Kuykendall, Harry Gump, and Beverly Moore won out in the final preliminary of the Triangular Debate held in the high school auditorium Monday evening, February 14. J. D. McNairy and Louis Brooks were chosen alternates.

The other six contestants in the try-out were: Ernest Scarborough, Margaret Neal, Janes Harris, Hilda Davidson, Elizabeth Boyst, and Henry Weiland. These twelve were chosen from a similar contest held a week ago.

The Triangular Debate will be held the evening of April 1. The query this year is: Resolved, That the Curtis-Reed bill providing for the creation of a federal department of education should be passed. The negative team of Greensboro High School will debate Winston High School in Winston, while Greensboro's affirmative will debate the High Point team in Greensboro. The third contest of the triangle will be between High Point and Winston-Salem.

Carlton Wilder acted as chairman of the final preliminary.

The judges for the contest were: Mrs. C. W. Phillips, Miss Mary Ellen Blackmon, Miss Laura A. Tillett, Miss Marian Bliss, and Mr. J. A. Farthing.

WINSTON TO BE HOST AT FELLOWSHIP BANQUET

Two Other Schools of Piedmont Triangle Will Send Representatives to Winston Saturday

THEME WILL BE "SPORTSMANSHIP"

Saturday night, February 26, at the Robert E. Lee Hotel, the students of Winston High School will be hosts to representatives of the student body and faculty of the other two members of the Piedmont Triangle, Greensboro and High Point High Schools, at a fellowship banquet.

The main theme of the occasion will be "Sportsmanship." A representative of Winston will lead off with a talk on "What Is Sportsmanship?" Greensboro will be represented by Theron Brown, who will make the second talk on "The Price of Sportsmanship," and "The Rewards of Sportsmanship" will be the topic of a representative of High (Continued on Page Six)

ANNUAL LATIN TEST GIVEN G. H. S. PUPILS

Thursday, February 24, the annual Latin examination, sponsored by the Extension Department of the University of North Carolina, was given to G. H. S. pupils.

High schools all over the state participate each year, and the contest ranks with others sponsored by this department, such as the football championship, the triangular debates, and the dramatic contests.

Last year Greensboro won honorable mention with Mary Jane Wharton's paper.

The examination was taken by pupils of Latin 5, 6, 7 and 8.
