MISS ALMA BINZELL SPEAKS HERE SOON

Expert in Child Psychology Spoke at Teachers' Convention at Burlington Last Fall

TO VISIT CITIES OF STATE

The North Carolina Congress of Parents and Teachers has secured Miss Alma Binzell, expert in child psychology, to lecture in a number of North Carolina cities. She will spend three days in Greensboro, March 14, 15, and 16.

While in Greensboro, Miss Binzell will deliver a number of lectures. A definite program will be announced later. However, one lecture will be delivered in the county courtroom.

Miss Binzell has frequently visited the state. She addressed the state congress of Parents and Teachers at the convention in Burlington last fall.

In 1918, Miss Binzell first addressed the American Home Economics Association on making more children worth while. Since then she has become a nationally known leader and lecturer in programs of parental education and mental health of children. She has travelled all over America lecturing on various topics concerning children.

MRS. WYCHE SPEAKS TO HISTORY STUDENTS

Talk Illustrates Customs in Jerusalem of Long Ago and of the Present Time

Red Cross Course Begins

A history talk was given by Mrs. J. E. Wyche, Thursday, February 24, for the history students of the first and second semesters. The lecture illustrated the customs of Jerusalem of long ago and of the present time.

The dress of the people was first discussed. Mrs. Wyche was dressed as a woman of Jerusalem. Four students were also costumed, two as people of modern Jerusalem and two as people of Biblical times. The girls wear sheets and black veils when out walking. This disguise is discarded upon returning home. In their religious beliefs they are very earnest and sincere.

"In modern Jerusalem many customs are similar to the Americans," said Mrs. Wyche.

Girl Scouts Have Investiture Ceremony

The Girl Scouts of Troop 1 from the First Presbyterian Church, had investiture ceremony at their scout hut March 5th. The girls who received their pins were as follows: Jane Goodwin, Elizabeth Yates, Amelia Block, Margaret Wagner, Mary Rucker, Margaret Knight and Eloise Taylor.

NEW BILL IS READ

Archer Chosen Head of New District, and City Treasurer as Treasurer

THEY WILL INSPECT SITES

Three Schools to Have Buildings—Two High Schools for White and Colored

The Board of Education of the Greater Greensboro school district held its first meeting Monday evening, March 7, at the office of E. D. Broadhurst in the Banner building.

The act of the 1927 general assembly providing for the erection of the new district was read by Mr. Broadhurst. It is provided under the terms of the act that all school property in the Greater Greensboro district shall be turned over to the new board, which is empowered to do "all things for the efficient conduct of the public schools of the greater school district." The election of administrative officers rests in the hands of the board. Superintendent Fred Archer was chosen superintendent of the greater district at this meeting. For treasurer of the board the city treasurer was designated pending certain negotiations which must be made with the city council.

Greensboro's population is increasing at such a rate as to make necessary an enlargement of school building facilities every year. The tentative building program was discussed at this meeting. It is believed that the following buildings are to be constructed: at Glendale, Pomona Mills, Westwood, a high school building for whites, and one for negroes. The board plans to inspect sites on Friday, March 11.

TORCHLIGHT MEMBERS INITIATED AT MEETING

Beverly Moore Welcomes New Members. Sarah Mendenhall and J. D. McNairy Make Talks

INTELLIGENCE TEST IS GIVEN

Thursday, March 2, the Torchlight society had a meeting to welcome the 11 new members and administer to them the oath.

They were assured that they were welcome by the speech that Beverly Moore made. Sarah Mendenhall made a short talk in behalf of the old members, and J. D. McNairy answered for the new members. Miss Laura Tillett, faculty adviser, made a speech in which she impressed the importance of living up to the ideals of the Torchlight Society.

Miss Tillett gave an intelligence test to the new members. The questions, when answered correctly, spelled "I will be a good Torchlight member." After this the new members were initiated.

RED CROSS UNIT COURSE IS BEGUN AT GREENSBORO HIGH

A Red Cross Unit Course began at G. H. S. Monday, March 7. There are 27 pupils enrolled in this class. It is scheduled at the sixth period and will run for six weeks. The instructor is Miss Julia Austin, a nurse from the national headquarters of the American Red Cross.

Each girl who completes the course satisfactorily will receive three-eighths of a credit.
