

MISS MARY BROOME GIVES INFORMATION ON SCHOOL LIBRARY

Students Read Good Books for Parallel Reading, Says Librarian in Report

ALL HISTORIES RESERVED

Books Issued in January Include 759 Novels and 1,244 Non-Fiction; 10,147 Visits to Library

The old saying, "Save the best for the last," is not carried out in the selections of English parallel books, according to the librarian, Miss Mary Broome. There were 759 books of fiction, and 1,244 of non-fiction taken out of the library during January. This proves that the students read the best first, says the librarian.

Miss Broome requests that it be made known to the students that, beginning Wednesday, February 6, all histories were put on reserve. This means that they may be checked out only after 3:30 in the afternoon and returned the following morning by 8:45. Careful statistics, rendered by Miss Broome, showed that there were 10,147 visits made to the library during January.

SCIENCE COLUMN

Q. Why can chlorine, which is a poisonous gas, be used in the purification of water?

A. When chlorine gas is passed into water or comes in contact with water vapor, it causes a part of the oxygen of H<sub>2</sub>O to be liberated in the nascent (extremely active) form. This oxygen in turn oxidizes the disease germs and other poison organisms, rendering them harmless.

Q. Why is it said that our present civilization would be impossible without the industrial use of sulphuric acid?

A. Sulphuric acid is necessary for the preparation of practically all explosives, dyes, fertilizers, and artificial silk; it is also used in the purification of petroleum. Without sulphuric acid such engineering feats as the construction of the Panama Canal would be impossible, mining of metal for production of steel would also be hampered because explosives are necessary in modern mining and engineering.

NO RADICAL CHANGES IN FACULTY COMMITTEES

Mrs. Mary Ashford, Miss Nancy Little, and Mrs. W. E. Smith Added to Committees

There will be no radical changes in the faculty committees for this semester. The committees will remain the same except for a few additions. Mrs. Mary Ashford will be added to the HIGH LIFE group while Miss Nancy Little is an addition to the dramatics department. Mrs. W. E. Smith will assist the debating group, and the new teachers will help in the different committees in which they prefer to work.

The semester advisers will be altered. Miss Laura Sumner and Mary Ellen Blackmon being advisers for semester 8; Misses Mary Wheeler, Blanche Hedgecock and Julia Searcy for semester 7; Misses Laura Tillett, Zelian Hunter, Nellie K. Dry and J. A. Farthing for semester 5; Misses Lena Bullard, Amy Caldwell, Evelyn Martin and Katherine Jones for semester 4; Misses Estelle Mitchell, Jo Causey, Margaret Bridgers, and Lucille Mercer for semester 3; Hunter Smith, and Joe Johnson, Misses Sarah Leslie, Mary Dosier, Ida Belle Moore, and Mary Morrow for semester 2; Mrs. W. E. Smith and Mr. Joe Johnson, Misses Gertrude Farlow, Mary Harrell, Willie T. Hall, Rachel Freeman, Dorothy McNairy, Virginia Hollingsworth, Bessie Behney and Julia Potts for semester 1.

An error on our part: we made the statement that the freshmen were receiving quite a warm welcome on the first day as witnessed by the fact that many people were being given a free trip down the hill of ice. It was our mistake.

ED YOST RESIGNS AS Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY EARLY IN JANUARY

Council Meeting Follows Tending of Resignation and Decides on Plan to Follow

IS EFFECTIVE IN MARCH

Mr. Yost Has Been An Active Community Worker in Greensboro for a Number of Years

Mr. Ed Yost, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Greensboro, tendered his resignation to the executive council in January. Following this a meeting was called to act upon some plan to follow. A committee was appointed to consider the applicants. "We'll wait until we find the right man, if we have to wait two or three months," declared C. W. Phillips, as a member of the executive council. Mr. Yost's resignation will go into effect the first of March.

Greensboro has been fortunate in having Mr. Yost as a community worker. He has held this position since 1925. "A new building was my dream and undertaking. With this realized I feel that I may now follow my desire," said Mr. Yost. He will be employed by the Southern Real Estate Company, and his interest will be in developing Sedgefield property.

Traffic Situation Solved

The traffic situation in G. H. S. has been solved by the student council. The door on the southeast end of the Main building is to be used only by students coming in and the fire escapes for people going out of the building. The other doors in the Main building may be used both ways. Students may come down the stairs at the south end of New building and go to the stairs at the north end.

ON ICE

Greensboro High School had a sleet, E-yi! E-yi! O!
You should have seen those sliding feet. E-yi! E-yi! O!
With a slide, slide here,
And a fall, fall there.
With a bump, bump here,
And a wow, wow there.
While stars were flying everywhere!

'NEVERTHELESS,' A PLAY, IS PRESENTED IN CHAPEL

A one-act play, "Nevertheless," by Stuart Walker, will be presented by the Dramatic Club in chapel February 20. Dick Douglas will play the part of a burglar; Mary Henri Robinson, the part of a little girl, and John Foster, the part of a little boy.

As the story goes, the little boy and girl are given a deep book to read for speaking incorrect English. In their reading they come across the word "nevertheless," neither one knowing the meaning of the word. The little boy and girl decide to turn out the lights and let a fairy tell them the meaning of the word. While the lights are out, a burglar comes into the room.

If the burglar tells the meaning of the word, the boy and girl would let him go. Of course, he could not. The burglar accidentally uses the word in a sentence, and they learn the meaning of the word. The burglar is freed.

Alec Goldstein Writes

Alec Goldstein, this year's student, wrote to Miss Mitchell and Mr. C. W. Phillips and said that he was anxious to get back in the midst of G. H. S. He also said that his trips were very interesting in many ways.

Alec made a trip to Hot Springs, Ark., for his health. He expects to be back in Greensboro soon.
