

GIRLS' QUINTET PREPARE FOR COMING BATTLES

Hold Practice Sessions Every Day Except Wednesday At the Y. W. C. A.

LARGE SQUAD ON HAND

Many Candidates Report for Initial Drills Under Direction of Miss Kate Robinson.

The girls' basketball squad has settled down to serious work this week, and Miss Kate Robinson has been putting the candidates through severe practice sessions in preparation for the opening game, which will be played the first week in January.

A major portion of the work-outs have consisted of setting-up exercises and trotting around the gym so far. Miss Robinson has lined up two teams among the prospective candidates and a number of practice games have been run off, uncovering a wealth of promising material for the coming season.

The girls' basketball squad has settled down to serious work this week, and Miss Kate Robinson has been putting the candidates through severe practice sessions in preparation for the opening game, which will be played the first week in January.

A large group of candidates reported for the squad for the first practice sessions and a wealth of promising material is on hand, including some of last year's stars and a number of new girls.

Among the girls who were out last year, the following show great promise of becoming regulars this year: Carolyn Hay, a star from last year, Gene Hay, Josephine Lucas, another star from last year, Jean Watt, Jane Goodwin, Marian Goodman, and Helen Kirkman.

The two sisters, Carolyn and Gene Hay, played an outstanding game last year and Josephine Lucas, Marian Goodman, and Helen Kirkman were some of the most outstanding players on last year's squad and have shown great promise this season.

A large squad reported for the sessions held so far and Miss Robinson has found a promising bunch in the following: Carolyn Hay, Gene Hay, Josephine Lucas, Jean Watt, Jane Goodwin, Marian Goodman, and Helen Kirkman.

Letters were awarded to 19 members of the Greensboro High football team at the annual banquet given at the King Cotton Hotel, by Earl H. Spence, manager of the hotel, Friday, November 20, after their victory over High Point, marking the close of the season.

BOYS RECEIVE LETTERS FOR REWARD IN FOOTBALL

Eleven Members Finished High School Career in Game Against High Point.

CAPTAIN BURROUGHS HONORED

The players that received letters for their gridiron performance this season are as follows: Captain Jack Burroughs, Harry Wicker, Ed Hartscock, ends; Ralph Riley and Charles Pemberton, tackles; Harry Phillips, Allan Johnson, and Elmer Wrenn, guards; Nat Lipscomb, Oka Heater, and George Causey, centers; Sid Ogburn, center; Branch Fields, fullbacks; Sammy Rees and Charles Elder, quarterbacks; and Red Whit, Frank Pittman, Bill Eins, and Ed Lee, halfbacks.

GRID PLAYERS REPORT TO BASKETBALL SQUAD

Many Members of Local Eleven Are Candidates for Positions on G. H. S. Quintet.

A large number of football players have signed up as a candidate for the Purple Whirlwinds quintet this winter and most of them show great promise. A few football men reported to Coach Routh and Hamilton for boxing or wrestling but many of them reported to Coach Belding for the basketball five.

Jack Burroughs, captain and all-around star in football has reported for a forward position and is showing up well. "Ike" Fesmire, runcy end of the football squad, has reported for the center position, where he starred last season.

Allan Johnson, football line-man reported for one of the guard positions. "Red" Whit, star backfield man, and Elmer Wrenn, line-man, are back at their old positions of guard.

Harry Wicker, end, on football squad is out for guard also. Thomas Roland, heavy tackle in football, is reporting as another guard for basketball. George Causey, football center, is out for this same position on the basketball quintet.

Donald Hunter, football sub, is out for guard. Amos Shelton, star center for the reserve football eleven, is out for a guard position and has shown up well. Robert Saunders, assistant football manager, has also reported to the quintet. Most of the football players are playing good basketball.

Next season a new line will have to be built up, but a fairly good squad of backfield men are left. On the line all of the lettermen are leaving except Heater, the center. In the backfield only two lettermen are lost, but they are a very great loss, being Whit and Ogburn. This leaves six lettermen in the backfield and two on the line.

DURHAM HIGH CAPTURES N. C. GRID CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeat Charlotte Eleven 13-6 in Deciding Game Played at Chapel Hill.

RUNS ARE OUTSTANDING FEATURE

The Durham high school Bulldogs upset all hope in defeating Charlotte for the championship of class A football in North Carolina when they banded the Queen City boys an impressive 13-6 defeat on the rain-soaked field of Kennan stadium in Chapel Hill, December 4.

Durham outplayed Charlotte throughout the whole game taking advantage of every chance. The Bulldogs made seven first downs, six of them coming in the first quarter, while Charlotte failed to make a first down during the game.

Gadd, star Charlotte quarterback, was the big factor in keeping the score at a minimum with his punting, averaging about 40-42 yards with the water-soaked pigskin.

Durham's first score was made on the last play of the first quarter when Hackner received one of Gadd's punts on Durham's 30-yard line and raced through the entire Charlotte team for a touchdown.

Charlotte's score came in the third quarter when Holder's punt carried only 10 yards and Charlotte took the ball on Durham's 22-yard line. Three line plays netted two yards and then Gadd passed to Morris who stepped across the goal line.

Holder added Durham's second touchdown in the last period on a 57-yard run. Holder took the ball for his second run of the day and started through tackle then cutting around end.

Charlotte gained the right to meet Durham for the championship when they defeated Salisbury in a play-off of the western conference tie.

Local Fan Names All-State Eleven

Gym Needed for Basketball

The prospective Greensboro high gymnasium is needed at this time of the year more than at any other time. The basketball squad must travel all the way across town to the Caldwell school gym in order to hold practice sessions and regular games.

A gymnasium on the local grounds would also help baseball and track. Indoor practice sessions could be held long before the weather is suitable outside, and when fair weather did come the squads would be in shape.

Revue of Past Grid Season

A revue of the past football season at Greensboro high reveals that a fairly good record was made by the Purple Whirlwind squad. The local eleven shows a record of five games won, four lost, and none tied, giving a percentage of about .555 for the season.

SPOTLIGHTS OF SPORTS

Winter Season Begins

At this time of the year the athletic activities for the fall season come to an end and in enter the winter season of sport events. Old "King Winter" finds basketball, boxing, and wrestling as the predominating sports in Greensboro high.

Coach A. P. Routh's call for candidates for the boxing and wrestling squads was issued on December 2, and he has had a promising looking bunch of candidates hard at work in preparation for the schedule of matches to be run off this winter.

Lester Belding's basketball quintet began work December 3, and most of last year's stars were again present and a number of new men reported at Caldwell gym. Promises are very bright for a winning team this year and Greensboro's hopes for a championship team are exceedingly good.

The girls' basketball squad has been at work for a good while and Miss Robinson has a number of promising candidates out. Coach Robinson is whipping a strong sextette into shape for coming schedule of games.

Support Basketball Team

While we are on the subject of basketball we wish to make an appeal to the student body as a whole for their whole-hearted support to the quintet this season show some of the old school spirit by attending the games and cheer the fellows on to victory.

Every year an appeal similar to this is presented to the members of G. H. S., but again this year we hope our efforts will have some effect on the students. Anyone knows that a large crowd of home fans at any kind of contest adds greatly to the strength of the local team.

During the football season there was an exceedingly low attendance at the games. Every student in Greensboro high school likes to see a hundred percent attendance at the local stadium, but such a thing was far from a reality during the past season.

The whirlwinds did not have a very successful season this year, and a lot of the blame for this can be placed upon the poor support and spirit given by the students body. Let's not give this a chance to handicap the basketball five. Everyone that can possibly do so should attend the games at Caldwell Gym.

Our All-State Selection

With the ending of the football season coaches, sports' writers, and fans all over the country are naming all-state, all-American, and all-star football teams from the most important colleges and high school elevens in the country.

With the aid of the coaches of North Carolina high football teams, we contribute our mythical all-state eleven of the western conference. The following appears to be the most outstanding line-up in this section:

The members of this combination have been given high praise by the coaches of North Carolina.

Local Fan Names All-State Eleven

Burroughs, Greensboro, left end; Burroughs, left tackle; Burroughs, left guard; Burroughs, center; Burroughs, right guard; Burroughs, right tackle; Burroughs, right end; Burroughs, left half; Burroughs, right half; Burroughs, fullback.

It looks as if this fan is a very ardent admirer of Jack Burroughs, captain of the local eleven, and considers him a very valuable man. We agree with him on the fact and realize that he is as good a man in the backfield as he is in the line.

Gym Needed for Basketball

The prospective Greensboro high gymnasium is needed at this time of the year more than at any other time. The basketball squad must travel all the way across town to the Caldwell school gym in order to hold practice sessions and regular games.

A gymnasium on the local grounds would also help baseball and track. Indoor practice sessions could be held long before the weather is suitable outside, and when fair weather did come the squads would be in shape.

A revue of the past football season at Greensboro high reveals that a fairly good record was made by the Purple Whirlwind squad. The local eleven shows a record of five games won, four lost, and none tied, giving a percentage of about .555 for the season.

The 1931 squad was led by Captain Jack Burroughs, one of the most outstanding high school athletes in North Carolina. Burroughs starred in every game played this season and proved a very capable leader. Jack was highly praised by the coaches of North Carolina and was unanimously placed on the all-state football team.

The season was opened September 25, with the Whirlwinds meeting the Sanford eleven at Memorial stadium and defeating them in a well-played game by the score of 20-0. The second game came October 2 when the Reidsville eleven met the locals here and went down before the Purple Chargers by the score of 9-0.

NEW SPORT SEASON BEGINS AT G. H. S.

Three Letter Men Return in Wrestling-Hamilton and Routh Are Coaches.

SEASON STARTS DEC. 19

The winter's sports program was started in Greensboro High December 2 when the boxing and wrestling squads held their initial workouts under Coaches A. P. Routh and Hamilton.

Most of the candidates reporting are men with some experience, but a few inexperienced men are on deck.

Coaches Routh and Hamilton have expressed their satisfaction with the material on hand as seven of the wrestlers were out last year, three of them letter men. Twenty-three boys reported to A. P. Routh for wrestling, and most in junior high or at the local Y. M. C. A.

The letter men reporting for wrestling are: Captain Ed Douglas, Fred Koury, and Hilton Geringer. One of the most promising of the new candidates for wrestling is Bill Bell, brother of last year's captain, Hiram Bell, and holder of the state championship, who has reported for the 105-pound class.

A large squad of boxers has reported to Coach Hamilton and a promising bunch of candidates are on hand. Most of the boxers have reported in tip-top condition, a large number of them coming from the football squads. Seven of this year's candidates were out for the team last year and many of the others have some experience as pugilists.

The boxing squad was disbanded last season because of lack of interest and support of the team. The outlooks are brighter this year and the boxing team shows great promise.

CROSS-COUNTRY SQUAD TO RECEIVE LETTERS

Koury, Miller, Lovin, Suttle, Langley, Montgomery, and Rochelle Will Be Awarded "6's."

Seven members of the Greensboro high cross-country squad will receive letters for their work on the team for the 1931 season.

The local squad finished the current season with a fairly good record, placing high in all the meets and sending three of the runners to Chapel Hill as members of the all-state team. The members of the squad are Koury, Miller, Lovin, Suttle, Langley, Montgomery and Rochelle.

Fred Koury, a letter man in wrestling, was the most outstanding runner of the season on the local team, coming in first for Greensboro in every meet but the last one. David Miller was the next best Greensboro man, running Koury a close second for first place honors, coming in right behind him in all meets but the last one, when he led all Greensboro runners.

This year was the first time a cross-country squad has shown an appearance at Greensboro high, and the team finished a very successful season considering this fact.

Basketball Practice Begins With Large Group Out

FOUR LETTERMEN Burroughs, Fesmire, Whit, and Wrenn Return-Nicholson, Melver, Norman Missing.

TOUGH SCHEDULE LISTED

Some Important Tills Already Booked With Two Games for Each Team Played.

Coach Lester C. Belding started drilling his 1932 edition of the Purple Whirlwind basketball squad immediately after the Thanksgiving holidays, and is whipping a promising team in shape for the coming schedule of battles.

A large number of candidates were on hand for the initial drills held at Caldwell gym, and Coach Belding is getting together a combination that looks good.

Four Letter Men Back

There are four letter men reporting this year, while three will be missing. Those returning are: Jack Burroughs, Elmer Wrenn, "Red" Whit, and "Ike" Fesmire.

Harold Nicholson, Jack Norman, and Charles Melver will not report this year. Jack Brown and Harry Wicker played in a few games last year and showed promise of developing into dangerous men.

These two fellows did not receive letters last year and look good for this year's team.

Promising Material

There are a number of candidates whom Coach Belding is depending on to carry the Purple and Gold to high honors this year. Some of the most outstanding of these are: "Ike" Fesmire, Jack Brown, George Causey, and Buck Peake, centers; Harry Wicker, "Red" Whit, Elmer Wrenn, Donald Hunter, Thomas Roland, Amos Shelton, guards; and Jack Burroughs, Roy Hicks, Charles Leonard, Dick Nance, forwards.

Sidney Kelly, coming here from Pennsylvania this fall, and Horace Brazzale, from Greenville, S. C., are two more boys that Coach Belding is depending on this year. They are both forwards, and this is the position where the most weakness is shown.

Kelly is already out and has shown up well in practice sessions held so far. Brazzale has not reported yet, but Belding is urging him to come out. Neither of these two boys will be eligible until next semester, but Coach Belding thinks the practice will do them good.

Fesmire has not reported yet, but he will be out later. Allan Johnson, a promising candidate for the guard position has not reported yet because of illness, but is expected to come out. Roy Hicks has shown promise as a forward, but has a tendency to fumble too much.

Reported Candidates
