Boys Discover 18-Day Diet

In a recent interview of the Boys Home club class, High Life reporter found out two very important facts. The reason the boys take home economics, and a dish which is, very good but non-fattening, A. W. Gresson was the informer for the first fact.

Ben Fortine remarks, 'I don't know whether I can cook water or not. I am afraid I might burn it.'

Roy Wheeler, constant hunter for a diet to reduce his bulk, told the reporter of a recent discovery: 'The other day one of the boys cooked up a dish he called cheese fondue. I looked at the recipe, tasted the finished cooking, and was very surprised to find it of a real good taste, for the contents were very simple. I brought out my microscope and started hunting for those little fat particles which cause all my trouble.'

The boys have entertained the men twice this year with no deaths following, and quite a few smiles. Girls, start looking about for a member of the Boys Home Ec. class.

Goodwill Council Closes Year

The program of the Goodwill Student Council headed by Jack Nowlin has been brought to a successful close.

The student government plan came into use on G. H. S. in 1922. At first the school had no other use of it than for discipline, and it was not until 1926 and 27 that really constructive projects were undertaken by the organization.

About three or four years ago there started a growing feeling of discontent and criticism about the council.

This is what Jack Nowlin and his council used for the foundation of their program. Jack was the candidate of the people, and he had tried to bring back the government to the people.

The council in carrying out its plan has presented the Goodwill idea through chapel programs and the frank presentation to the student of every proposed plan.

Next year's council will have the foundation laid by the Goodwill Council to build on; without it it would be almost impossible to continue the student government plan.

It is the policy of the office that students give leadership, authority and prestige just as long as it is carried on in a fair, fine acceptable way.

MY KEYS UNLOCK MORE THAN MUSIC

I have occupied an important place at G. H. S. for a long while. My home is on the platform in the music room, and many have been my pleasures here.

I have been played to death while a jazz tune entertained the gang at lunch time, or as the accompaniment while many light hearts and feet tripped the light fantastic.

Rest of all I have responded to the touch of our best loved musician as he directed our choruses in the teaching of contest numbers.

Miss McNairy left school before the second report period and soon afterwards had an operation, but has recovered sufficiently to be up some.

Arthur Eitelman, former G. H. S. student, is graduating from San Antonio, Texas, high school this year. He has been given several honors since there, among which are president of student council, election to National Honor Society with highest honors in school, and 'most intellectual boy' for the senior class of fame.
