

"HIGH" LIFE

"FOR A GREATER G. H. S."
Founded by the class of '21

Published Every Other Week by the Students of the Greensboro High School

Application for change of name from The Sage to "High Life," with entry as second-class matter at the Greensboro, N. C., post office, now pending.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

5 Cents per Copy ..... 50 Cents the School Year

Kenneth Lewis .....	Editor-in-Chief
Alice Waynick .....	Managing Editors
Frances Harrison .....
Hunter Roane .....	Assignment Editors
Ruth Underwood .....
Hoyte Boone .....	Athletic Editor
Katherine Wharton .....	Alumni Editor

REPORTERS STAFF

Margaret Smith .....	101	Jenny Lind Penn .....	B-1
Margaret Andrews .....	106	Pauline Medearis .....	B-2
James Wilkins .....	107	Robert Wilkins .....	B-5
Ruth Hobbs .....	205	Louise Daniel .....	B-6
Caroline Glascock .....	202	Otilia Goode .....	B-7
Carmell Ferguson .....	203	Esther Bloxton .....	B-8
Catherine Cox .....	204	Tyree Dillard .....	A-1
Lucille Pettit .....	201	Stanley Stearns .....	A-2
Doris Stinnett .....	206	Raymond Ziglar .....	A-3
Leonard Temko .....	207	Esther Parrish .....	A-4
Lila Callum .....	208

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

Bertram Brown .....	Business Manager
Dick Wharton .....	Asst. Business Manager
Fred Maus .....	Circulation Manager
Arehie Brown .....	Asst. Circulation Manager

Look and see who makes this paper possible by advertising in it, and then trade with them.

EDITORIAL

We were greatly pleased with the wonderful High School spirit that the Charlotte boys and girls showed when the football squad went to Charlotte.

North Carolina as a whole was very much disappointed in the news of the election. But as she has always been, our state was true to her party.

As true Americans it is not the party that we are pulling for, it is the government. No one man or group of men can make a country prosper without the aid of all of those in the country.

Now it is our duty to back the newly elected and do our best to make this country prosperous. We must do as they request and not as we think things should be run—for our country is by the people.

THE RED CROSS

What has meant so much to the stricken people of Europe, and what meant so much to our boys in France? The Red Cross was the great thing that our boys looked forward to when they were wounded and in trouble. In the same manner the stricken people of Europe are looking to the Red Cross for aid this year. This means that the Red Cross is looking to you and to me for help.

We were glad to give to the Red Cross when our boys were in France. Every home had a Red Cross banner in the window. Now that our boys are home does it mean that we will cease to give? If we are true to our name of Americans we will support the Red Cross this year as much as ever, for it is our policy to help others.

WHAT IS A HOLIDAY?

What is a holiday? The current opinion is that for every special occasion we should have a holiday to go out in the streets and have a big time. Take this matter of Armistice day, for instance. If the city were planning to have a big celebration and many features that would really be beneficial to the students, we should have a holiday.

This day is one that should be sacred in the minds of all of us.

It mark sthe day that the slaughtering of our friends and brothers ended. The wa yto celebrate such a day as this is to have a program at school that will inspire us to a greater and nobler idea of the meaning of such a day.

Are we coming to school to study and work or to have two or three holidays a month? We must have a certain number of days of work to complete the year, so why not have them as they come instead of staying in the summer?

To the Editor-in-Chief of "High" Life:

Allow me, please, to congratulate you and your staff most heartily upon your first issue of High Life. I have read it with both pleasure and pride.

If you do, and I am sure you will, live up to your high aim, "Keeping Alive a Better High School Spirit," and in addition arousing a more general and wide-awake interest among the parents in the work and other activities of the school, you will be rendering a most valuable service in meeting a real need in our school and community.

With best wishes for your success, I am,
Most sincerely yours,
Mrs. E. Poole.
Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 24, 1920.

Mother—Johnny, you must not eat any more or you will burst.

Johnny—Well, pass the cake, mother, and get out of the way.

J. M. HENDRIX & CO.

"The Home of Good Shoes"

223 South Elm Street

Greensboro, N. C.

THE POLITICAL AND ECONOMICAL EFFECT OF THE NATIONAL ELECTION ON OUR COUNTRY

The national election affects our country at this particular time on account of the League of Nations, although the League of Nations is not the exclusive hobby of the Democrats. It is not properly in the realm of party politics, anyway. The Republican party has talked against the League of Nations, and want to do away with it. Now, since Harding has been elected, they will either have to accept it or reject it. However, if they do accept it they will be contradicting themselves in every statement that they have heretofore made in regard to the league. On the other hand, if they do not accept it, we will be without a league of any kind for at least two years, and probably very much longer, because none of the countries that are in the league can join any other league that might be formed for two years, since they have pledged themselves not to withdraw from the present league until two years have expired. Then it would probably be two years before another league could be formed, which will be hard to get the people interested in if the present league fails. This is what our new president has to face. Great responsibility rests upon him. He has to fulfill the pledges made when America entered the war. It may be by this league or some other league, but it must be some kind of league of nations. If these promises are not fulfilled, then our heroes have died in vain.

The election affects the economic conditions of our country because the voters are more interested in the high cost of living than they are in the League of Nations.

The majority of people know very little about the League of Nations, but every one is well acquainted with the high cost of living.

Election excitement may have had something to do with the recent business depression, but the principal reason is the unsettled condition of the world as a result of the war.

The U. S. need not dread a panic now because the taxes of this country are smaller than those of any other country and the currency is sounder. The American dollar is nearer the gold standard than the English pound. The national debt is smaller per capita, the gold supply is greater, and there are bumper crops all over the United States.

HIKERS HIKE

The hiking team of the High School under Miss Inabel Coleman enjoyed a delightful outing on Friday afternoon.

After a walk of three miles out West Market Extension the girls played games and told stories, followed by a real camp supper and marshmallow toast.

Those present were: Dahlea Schiffman, Louise Daniel, Flax McAlister, Lillian Clegg, Margaret Atwater, Margaret Thompson, Helen Smith, Thelma Soloman, Mildred Torbett, Kathryn O'Conner, Pearl Gurley, Hazel Ray, Evelyn Martin, Julia Freeland, Margaret Mendenhall, Violet LaBarr, Virginia Beacham, Margaret Dailey and Miss Coleman.

Room 7, Annex B, elected the following officers for their literary society:

President—Otilia Goode.
Vice President—Miriam Rankin.
Secretary—Dorothy Hudson.