1920 WINNERS OF FOOTBALL MONOGRAMS

BASKET BALL SEASON OPENS THIS WEEK

Enthusiastic Squad Out With Lots of Pep

G. H. S.'s prospects for a successful season of boys' basket ball seem to be as good or better than last year. More than 25 candidates are out every afternoon working for a place on the team. Although three of last year's men have been lost, there is nothing in the way of material to keep G. H. S. from winning the State championship in basket ball.

Coach York is going to give everything he has in the way of basket ball help to make a winning team, and looking back over the successful season the football team has just completed, no one will doubt Mr. York's ability to put out a winning team.

Manager Boone has been working strenuously on a schedule to cover the most important high schools in N. C. and at the present time has between 15 and 20 games arranged. Following is the probable schedule for 1920-1921:

More Truth Than Poetry.

A group of girls were talking about next year's football team and remarking that many players would not be here.

Grey: I'll be a quarterback.

Skinny: No, you wont; you'll be a draw-back.

Franklin Goodlin—Miss Hunter, why did you give me a C on English?

Miss Hunter—We don't give below C here.

STUDY BEGUN ON STATE WIDE DEBATE

Triangular Meet With Asheville and Winston in March

The prospects for a good team to represent Greensboro High in the Triangular Debate with Winston and Asheville seem very good. The question is, "Resolved, That American industry should adopt the policy of the closed shop." A great deal of interest in the subject has already been shown and quite a large collection of pamphlets and newspaper articles on the subject have been neatly bound and placed in the library. Two large open shop scrap books are being kept. One by the classes in Economics VII and the other by Miss Killingsworth's class in Junior English. The December theme for Economics was "Labor Unions, What They Are and What They Do," and the Seniors feel that they have a slight knowledge of the subject.

Asheville High won the Aycock Memorial cup last year and will put up a hard fight to hold it. Winston showed herself a very strong opponent last year, so we shall have to put up a hard fight. The spirit is excellent and we feel that we are going to put out a strong team. The debate committee from the faculty is made up of the following teachers: Miss Killingsworth and Minish and Messrs. York and Edwards.

The D. D. D.'s are planning a delightful progressive dinner party, to take place on New Year's eve.

TO THE FOOTBALL TEAM OF GREENSBORO HIGH SMHOOOL
1920

Every sportsman who has supported you in the spirit of True-Sportsmanship is thoroughly satisfied with your season's efforts. For although you did not win the Monroe game by score, you did win, the envious distinction of being appraised in the public press as "A bunch of fine fellows" (which, interpreted, means a bunch of gentlemen,) and you did win. The everlasting glory of being publicly characterized as "Having played as True Sportsmen, all the time!"

Boys' Literary Society.

The second general meeting of the Boys' Literary Society was held in chapel on December 3. As no program had been arranged the meeting was turned over to Messrs York and Edwards. Mr. York gave an interesting talk on the "Helps of Society Work in the School," and also explained the triangular debate query for the high schools of North Carolina this year. Mr. Edwards gave an interesting talk on many scientific discoveries that have recently been made in regard to the human body.

Andrew Bell, after the teacher had put the questions for a test on the board: "It's no need for me to take this test; nobody back here knows a thing."

GREENSBORO DROPS WESTERN CHAMPIONSHIP TO MONROE

Opponents Make Safety in Third Quarter

Greensboro High School's hopes of meeting Chapel Hill High School in an attempt to gain the championship were shattered November 30th, when Monroe won the deciding game in Western North Carolina by the close score of 2-0. Never has a high fotoball game in N. C. ended with such an odd score and never have two teams fought for supremacy as these two teams did on November 30th. It can hardly be counted a victory for Monroe and a defeat for G. H. S.. In the sense of score it was a victory for Monroe, but in the sense of football it was a victory for G. H. S. Every man representing G. H. S. in Monroe was fighting his very best. It was a game in which luck was to claim the winner. And Monroe had all the luck that was to be had. G. H. S. entered the game on visitor grounds, under a downpour of rain and outweighed by at least five pounds per man. But G. H. S. does not wish to hand these obstacles out as her means of defeat. Her football team showed more football ability and more fight than Monroe, but her luck was on the opposing side, and the team of warriors representing G. H. S. had to be content with the fact that they played clean football and put all that they had into the last fight they would make together as a team. The game began with G. H. S. kicking. Monroe received the ball
