

GREENSBORO DROPS WESTERN CHAMPIONSHIP TO MONROE

on the 40-yard line, and by end runs and line bucks made first down. But here G. H. S. began to show Monroe that Greensboro boys were not to be trampled upon. So the quarter ended with the ball in mid-field with neither team able to make a score. It was during the second quarter that G. H. S.'s hopes began to fade away on the side lines, for in this quarter Monroe gained two points for a safety. Monroe was held in mid-field for three downs and was compelled to punt on her fourth down. The ball was kicked and began rolling toward G. H. S.'s goal line. P. Transou (G. H. S.'s fighting little quater) allowed the ball to roll on, hoping it to roll behind the line and thus gain position of it on the 20-yard line. But in an effort to block the punt G. Taylor touched the ball, thus making it anybody's ball. Monroe man fell on the ball on Greensboro's 5-yard line and then was to begin G. H. S.'s fight to uphold Greensboro's part in the Western championship. By line bucks and a regained fumble, Monroe held the ball on Greensboro's one-yard line. Every effort was utilized on the part of Monroe to carry the ball over, but with G. H. S. holding as it was not an inch could be gained. And right here might be said that Greensboro High School has a boy to be proud of. Fritz Maus crippled, but Fritz seemed to think of the old motto, "A man may be down but he is never out," and he stuck right on through the fight. Monroe after being held for four downs on the one-yard line was compelled to give the ball over to G. H. S. Daniel was called back to punt. The ball was kicked and hit the goal pole squarely, bounding back behind the line with Transou falling on it. But only to be counted a safety (2 points) for Monroe. The remainder of the game saw the game swaying back and forward and in mid-field neither side being able to score, handicapped by the wet and sloppy field. The game ended with ball on Greensboro's 40-yard line and the score stood 2-0 in Monroe's favor. Monroe won the distinction of being Western Champions of N. C., while G. H. S. won the distinction of being good losers and of putting up the hardest and gamest fight ever seen in a high school team, and last but not least of showing that foremost theory in Athletics—Good Sportsmanship. G. H. S.'s line-up was as follows: l. e., Maus; l. t., J. Transou; l. g., Taylor; e., Daniels; r. g., Forsythe; r. t., Barker; r. e., Brown; f. b., Fordham; q. b., P. Transou; l. h. b., Hendrix; r. h. b., Ballard.

MUSIC AGAIN!

Have you been hearing music lately? If you haven't just keep up your courage and your hopes, for the Orchestra and Glee Clubs are hard at work. Real things are being done and we hope that it won't be long before an occasional "showing off" will be given. Interest has never slackened and the love of the work in growing on every student in it. With these factors to spur us on who doubts that the "showing off" will be worth while?

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL EXHIBIT

Have you seen the attractive display of Christmas posters and slogans in the hall of Annex A? If you haven't, come over and get the Christmas spirit from the boys and girls of our seventh grades, who made "Pays to Shop Early," which has been so these posters, and learn the lesson, "It morefully impressed upon them.

Audrey Johnson has portrayed on a black background an array of bunnies, brightly costumed and laden with Christmas packages, who are marching single file to the commands of their austere captain, "Obey Orders" and "Avoid the Rush."

Paul Moon has on a white background a wonderfully decorated Christmas tree banding with bright tinsels; underneath is placed a Noah's Ark which would make any kiddie pray that his mama would be an early shopper.

Lacy Andrews' poster deserves mention because of its excellent lettering. In William Ham's poster the idea of early shopping is carried out most impressively by the rising sun with its command, and by the stately Christmas candles. Vernell Hackney and Oxden Goode have expressed original ideas in unusual ways and the troubles of late shopping are attractively and impressively pictured by Howard Wimbish.

The posters will be on exhibit until after the Christmas entertainment. A most cordial invitation is extended to both the parents and friends of the Junior High School pupils to see their work.

HIKING TEAM ENTERTAINED

Miss Jennie Trotter, captain of one of the hiking teams of the Greensboro High School, entertained the members of the team at the Hut of her parents near Liberty last week. The crowd of girls met at the High School Friday afternoon and after a ride through the country arrived at their destination in time to do full justice to the tempting supper awaiting them. The next morning a three-mile hike to Liberty was very much enjoyed and the rest of the day was spent in rowing in the lake, fishing and other outdoor sports.

Saturday night they gathered around a campfire and tasted marshmallows.

The party was delightfully chaperoned by Miss Flossie Stout, supervisor of the team, and by Mr. and Mrs. Trotter, returning to the city Sunday.

Those who enjoyed the outing were: Misses Hermeandal Simpson, Louise Mays, Regenia Beck, Miriam Rankin, Elizabeth Causey, Marion Shaw, Alice Carmichael, Margaret Walters, Alien Blaylock, Mary Webster, Dorothy Albright, Edna Cartland, Mary Trotter, Master Jack and Billy Trotter.

GIRLS LOSE TO ASHEVILLE, WIN FROM POMONA

Practice Held in Graham's Warehouse

On last Thanksgiving night the girls' basket ball team of G. H. S. met the girls' basket ball team of Asheville High School at Asheville and were beaten by a very close score, 24 to 21.

The Greensboro girls fought to the very last sound of the whistle with a vim. Carlotta Johnson and Nellie Irvin were the star players for the night.

The line-up was: Center, Kate Whiteley; forwards, Nellie Irvin and Doris Stinnett; guards, Maude Forsythe and Doris Butler. Substitutes were, Carlotta Johnson and Grey Fetter.

The G. H. S. girls' basket ball team defeated the Pomona girls in a fast game on Friday night, December 10th, at the "Y," the final score being 33 to 14. The guards on the home team did exceptional work, while pretty pass work was exhibited by Pomona. Carlotta Johnson of the locals made over twenty of the points.

FRIENDS AND CLASSMATES:

There was once a teacher who thought that she would arouse the ambition of her pupils by the use of a very practical illustration. So she told them all to imagine they were eggs and to decide what they wanted to hatch out and be. One little boy said he wanted to hatch out and be a lawyer, another wanted to hatch out and be a doctor, and so on. Finally, she caught sight of Johnny, in the back of the room, who had not raised his hand at all. "Well, Johnny," she asked, "what are you going to hatch out and be?" "I ain't gonna hatch," he replied. "Why?" asked his teacher in surprise. "'Cause, ma says I'm a bad egg," answered Johnny.

So I don't know what I am going to hatch out as president of this class, because I have just come out of the pot and I don't know what I am myself. I hope you will console yourself, though, with the thought that nothing is so bad but what it could have been worse. But I want to tell you now that I consider it the greatest honor of my life to be president of the Junior Class. And, as president, I will do all I can, but I will be absolutely helpless without the whole-hearted individual support of every member of the class; and I feel sure that every member will have a chance to help, for we have a full year ahead of us. But first, I want to say that in union there is strength. We want to unite all the Junior Class so we will feel that we are in one room, instead of three.

We also want to arouse a better school spirit in the Junior Class and support the school activities, not only football and baseball, but support the activities of the Senior Class, support our newspaper, and many other things that are calling for our help, and you know there never was a class able to support the activities of a school if the class of twenty-two is not.

Then comes the entertainment that we are going to give the Seniors. I know we are all looking forward to that time with great pleasure. We ought to support it both financially and in spirit.

Now, last and also least, I think, I want to thank you for my election. As I have said before, it is the greatest honor of my life, and I thank you one and all. So—

Here's to the class of twenty-two, We'll always pull together; A class that's loyal, staunch, and true, In sunshine and cloudy weather.
