

FOOTBALL SQUAD GIVEN PARTY BY FACULTY

The faculty of G. H. S. gave the football squad a delightful reception at the First Presbyterian Church Hut Saturday night. From eight until nine o'clock the doors were open to members of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs and the parents of the boys on the team. Several games were played, the object being to get everybody acquainted. Punch was served in three corners of the room from punch bowls decorated in the High School colors. At nine the older folks left and the party progressed to a general good time for all. Everyone had something to do every minute, there being several games in progress. Mashmallows were distributed and toasted in the four open fireplaces that makes the Hut so attractive and homelike. At 10:30 the crowd disbanded with many thanks to the faculty who had provided such a good time.

The D. D. D.'s have had another meeting. This time they had boys. A rather startling announcement, isn't it?

They met at the home of Miss Frances Rankin on Saturday night. After everyone had come, progressive conversation was played. During the evening several selections were played on the mandolin by Mr. E. J. Stafford, Jr. Delicious refreshments were served.

Those present were: Misses Mildred Little, Margaret Pickard, Frances Harrison, Lucille Wynne, Carolyn Glascock, Grey Fetter, Helen Shanks, Mildred Morrison, Mary Denny, Dorothy Collwell and the attractive hostess. Miss Geladine McDowall was the invited guest of the club. Miss Ruth Underwood was absent on account of a bad cold. The boys present were: Jack Stafford, Dick Whartan, Allen Stainback, Pete Pearce, Albert Stanton, Francis Blackwood, Jeff Fordham, Neal Jones, Go-at Lewis, Jiggs Murray, Max Barnhardt and Jimmy Wilkins.

Everyone had a wonderful time.

ORAL COMPOSITION DAY

In our English classes under Miss Killingsworth we have oral as well as written composition. Last Friday the general subject was Education. The subject was selected because this was National Educational Week. Members of the class gave interesting and instructive talks on the following: Value of an Education, What Governor Aycock Did for Education, Does Greensboro Need a Manual Training Department, Things That Would Improve Greensboro High School.

ROOM 202

The girls of the Literary Society who meet in Room 202 held a very interesting program last Friday afternoon:

1. Contest—Judges, Miss Killingsworth, Doris Stinnett, Mildred Singer.
2. Some Interesting Facts About Trees—Yvonne Stinnett.
3. What Is North Carolina Doing to Preserve Her Trees—Loretta Stev.
4. Reading—Elizabeth Pitckard.
5. Things That make Us Laugh—Helen Glenn Rankin.
6. "About Our Trip to Asheville"—Doris Stinnett.
7. Uses of Wood—Kate Strader.
8. Awarding of Prize for Contest—Doris Stinnett.
9. Critic's Report—Doris Stinnett.

FIRST CIRCLE MEETING HELD BY FACULTY

One of the best faculty meeting ever held, from the point of view of enjoyment, was held in the Sunday school room of the First Baptist church Thursday before last. The occasion was the organizing of the High School Circle for study of school problems. A very attractive supper was served, during which quite a few stunts were pulled. "Hits" on each member of the faculty were read. They were in the form of limericks written by Miss Tyer, and were unusually clever.

Miss Killingsworth told the object of the meeting. She said that since the N. C. Board of Examiners had decided that the teachers must meet to study that the Greensboro High School teachers were going to have some fun with their study.

Miss Beam gave some very amusing poems on the teachers' names, and Miss Dry, accompanied by Mrs. Loftain, gave a bright original reading.

Mrs. Stearne, city welfare officer, gave a most interesting talk on "Problems of the Greensboro Boy." Dr. Kephart discussed some of these problems. This meeting is to be repeated monthly.

IN MEMORY OF

Dallas Ruffian Phelps, son of L. P. Phelps, 1000 West Lee street, born Dec. 20, 1906, at Winston-Salem, N. C., died Nov. 11, 1920, at Greensboro, N. C.

Dallas was a faithful student in the B section of the Junior High School. Having won promotion the first month of school by his satisfactory work and praiseworthy manner of deportment, he was admired by both teachers and fellow students.

His interest did not cease in the classroom; on the playground he was a fine athlete, a good sportsman, and "fair play" was his motto. His previous record at the West Lee School bears the same testimony. Usefulness, honesty and loyalty had stamped his young life; and the favor, which he had won in the hearts of his associates, was expressed by the fruits sent him in his illness; by the flowers for his burial, and by the representative body of students which attended the last sad rites.

He was an earnest worker in the Spring Garden Street Methodist Church, and his presence will be sorrowfully missed from all places where his interests contered. To the bereaved ones, and into the home where the shadow is deepest, our hearts go out in sympathy.

Literary Society in Room 203 Has Interesting Program.

The girls of the chapter of the Girls' Literary Society that meet in 203 had a unique program last Friday. Instead of the usual seriousness observed there, they had a circus show. There were a very "melodious" band, a monkey, a burlesque dramatization of "Lord Ullins' Daughter," a clown and other necessary circus features. Quite a number of recitations and solos were also rendered. The circus certainly did amuse the chapter very much and everyone in the society pronounced it a roaring success.

Miss Marion Gilmer of R. M. W. C. spent the week-end with her parents.
