EDITORIAL

Is this a motorcycle speedway out front?

Why swipe a perfectly innocent janitor's hat?

Hold steady! Ready! And we will soon go! Exams are looming on the horizon and they aren't a mirage!

Why not practice now? Why aren't we just as much Seniors, Juniors, Sophs and Freshies now as we will be in college? Start the ball rolling!

Soon we will hear the once familiar noise of the Boys Glee Club practicing. They have re-organized and are ready for work again.

We will have to admit that the two annexes do not look as barns any more. With the gray paint and green trimming, they look a real home. What a transformation has taken place during the holidays.

There were many handshakes and farewells about the school Monday and Tuesday after the holidays. Many of the former G. H. S. boys and girls were here to tell their friends goodbye, before returning to their place of higher learning.

It seemed a pity that the boys should lose the three games during the holidays after winning the first three of the season. We all feel that the main reason for this was sickness of two members of the team. We are not down-hearted, go to it, Greensboro; the town and the school are behind you.

The one night in the year when we all try to see how long we can stay awake has come and gone, leaving behind, memories of leap year and bringing with it new plans and resolutions. We hope you have all enjoyed and made the best of leap year and that you will live up to your plans for the new year.

Last Saturday morning one of the freshman hiking clubs walked out several miles from the city for breakfast in the open air. The January breezes put everyone in good spirits, and served to put a keen edge on the appetites of those who enjoyed the fun.

Hiking Clubs and Hikes

Since school started after the Christmas holidays, not much interest has been shown in the Hiking Clubs. They are still alive and kicking, however, even if they have not had out a brass band to announce the fact. Miss Rudd, The Junior Leader, is planning some big times for her club, and wants to have full attendance on all occasions. Those of you who have not joined need not despair for they are still open for membership. All of us stood behind the football boys and we are still there when it comes to girls and boys Basketball. Hiking is as much a school activity as either of these and it should be supported the same.

Johnny: "Grandpa, will you make a noise like a frog?"

Grandpa: "What for, my boy?"

Johnny: "Why, papa says he will get ten thousand dollars when you croak."—Exchange.

FACULTY NOTES

Miss Ione Cates, efficient manager of the Cafeteria, spent the Christmas holidays with her brother in Washington, D. C.

It is with sincere regret that the news of Miss Elizabeth Barton's resignation is learned. Miss Barton was head of the Commercial Department in the High School. Ill health was the cause of her resignation.

Miss Madge Rudd, of the Science Department, spent the holidays with her sister in Birmingham, Alabama.

The High School Reading Circle group is looking forward with pleasure to a second meeting, scheduled for Friday evening, January 14. The meeting is in charge of a specially appointed committee, who are planning a most attractive program.

Miss Cornie Henley, librarian of High School, has been forced to give up her work on account of her health. Miss Henley was thoroughly acquainted with the best library methods and was constantly making improvements in the library.

Miss Iva Rea, of Madison, Ky., comes to take charge of the Commercial Department and to fill the position vacated by Miss Barton.

Practically all of the members of the faculty spent the holidays at their respective homes and report an unusually pleasant time. The entire High School teaching force was ready for work Monday, Jan. 3rd.

Mrs. Helen Mangum Laughlin visited her brother, Rev. J. T. Mangum, at Lincolnton, during the Christmas holidays.

Miss Martha Doughton takes the position as teacher of Latin, a position vacated by Miss Lucille Temple.

HOW ABOUT YOUR POSTURE?—TAKE SWEDISH DRILL

In speaking of our athletics we naturally mention basket ball, volley ball, tennis, etc., but sometimes we forget that the girls have another feature of physical activity in our Greensboro High School equally as important as any of the games with balls. Every Monday and Wednesday at 3:30 o'clock a group of our High school girls meet in the Greensboro College gymnasium, where they spend forty or fifty minutes taking well-planned Swedish gymnastics, playing games and developing gracefulness of action through folk, dancing, not only do these periods afford much physical development and recreation, but they also bring a kind of happy mental recreation that these girls enjoy all about the buildings and campus daily, one may hear such comments as: "I am just crazy about Swedish Drill;" "I never knew how to get a correct posture before;" "Yes, and we have such a good time;" "and we have a piano too," etc. Those girls who are taking no part in athletics are missing something worthwhile, beneficial and enjoyable—Several new girls have joined the Drill class since Christmas. If you would like to join now too, give your name to Miss Coleman at once.

Miss Parr—Joe, that explanation is about as clear as mud.

Joe Grimsley—"Well, it covers the ground, doesn't it?"

Miss Minish—What does "single tax" mean?

Allan S. (perfectly serious)—Oh, that is a tax on single men.
