

ALUMNI NEWS

Cadet Samuel E. Anderson, class of 1928, United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., formerly a student at Greensboro High School, is a member of the committee for the annual "Camp Illumination." Cadet Anderson, of 1606 Guilford avenue.

Among his other accomplishments and credits may be mentioned the following: Assistant manager of the soccer team for the seasons of 1925, 1926; a member of the B squad in soccer for the seasons of 1925 and 1926; a member of the construction and property committee for the annual Hundredth Night show in 1927.

Cadet Anderson was appointed a temporary cadet corporal during the Christmas holidays in 1924; he was appointed a cadet supply sergeant in 1927; Cadet Anderson qualified as a pistol and rifle marksman in 1925.—From the Greensboro Daily News.

Red Oak, N. C., July 10, 1927.

Dear Marguerite:

I suppose you remember that last fall at the first of school the announcement was made that a scholarship would be given to the freshman who made the best scholastic record during her first year. This scholarship is given through the Kappa Nu Sigma Honor Society and is given by Miss Ruth Liverman, of Norfolk, Va., who was the first president of the honor society. This scholarship is to cover the expense of tuition for the winner's sophomore year. I wasn't able to determine the winner before the close of school because some of the grades were late in being recorded. I am so glad to write now, however, that you are the winner. I want to congratulate you on your record. It was splendid and I am sure you will continue in just such a way. I, as president of the society, wish to tell you that each member is very glad that you have won the scholarship and our best wishes will follow you through all of your work.

Sincerely,

LUCILE JONES.

My Dear Mrs. Morehead:

I think the Morehead cup is the most beautiful I have ever seen, and I feel so fortunate to have won it. I can hardly wait until next year to see who will get it then.

I shall be glad to make you a copy of my essay, if you would like to have one, just as soon as I can get the original from Mr. Phillips.

Again I want to thank you just heaps and heaps, but I could never thank you enough for the cup.

Sincerely,

FRANCES COBLE.

WHERE OUR OLD FRIENDS ARE

- Miss Clara Mae Allen will study at Columbia University this winter.
- Miss Daisy Anderson is studying library work in Atlanta.
- Miss Robbie Bayer is at the University of Tennessee.
- Miss Marian Bliss is in charge of Public Speaking and Dramatics in a school near Denver, Colorado.
- Miss May Bush is studying at Columbia.
- Miss Elizabeth Donald is at Cornell.
- Miss Catherine Hight will spend this year at her home in Henderson, N. C.
- Miss Ina Mae LeRoy is resting at her home at Elizabeth City, N. C.
- Miss Jean McAllister is at her home in Irving Park.
- Miss Lucy Morgan is studying at the University of Tennessee.
- Miss Sallie B. Newman is studying at Duke University.
- Mrs. Stacy Hockett, formerly Miss Ruth Reynolds of the math department, is teaching at Pleasant Garden.
- Miss Emily Wright is studying at Columbia University.
- Mr. George B. Wynne will be at Harvard this winter.

STUDENTS OF G. H. S. HOLD VARIED JOBS DURING VACATION

High School Claims Summer Paint Slingers, Railroad Hands, Truck Drivers DRUGGISTS, BUTCHERS Landscape Gardeners Vie With Lawn Mowers—Life-Guards and Jewelers Positions Filled

By careful observation and delicate questioning an inquiring reporter has been able to ascertain the jobs—some were even positions—held by G. H. S. boys during the summer months.

Mr. Edmund Turner, Esq., our high-toned artist, slung paint at the National Theater. His close associates at the National were: Houston Barbee, Lee Whiteheart, and Jimmie Forsythe, who served as ushers.

Bill Petree played "ice-cream" boy, while his friend, Dick Burroughs, was diligently inspecting desks for the city school system.

Carlton Wilder was mowing lawns, but evidently he overlooked Finley Atkinson or he would have gotten in touch with the most beautiful lawn that has been seen in this section since Leon Wells lost his mustache.

"Pat" Patterson sings "I've Been Working on the Railroad" each evening as he wearily treads his way home, ward, while Clarence Phoenix was staying out late at night with his moving van. Gordon Matlock was farming.

Now we found Harold Bowman at the freight depot. Bill Latham rolling brick, and later washing dishes at a coffee shop. Monroe Shepard was at Wiggins, and Bill Hobbs drove a truck.

Helping to down the upkeep of the battleground we found Norris Long, Boyd Morris, Wade Stockard, and King Charles Shafner all busily engaged.

"Shag" Lindy was just motoring, selling watches and taking in the picture show.

Bill Teague and Dave Quate handled clothing for Mi-Valet, while service at Parke's was sufficiently rendered by Mr. Robert Blair, Buck Eubanks, and Clyde Andrews.

Settle Avery openly admitted and boasted of the fact that he "sawed wood and dug ditches."

Ray Henderson, O you meat cutter, you can't out-do Max Holland as a gasoline dealer.

Cecil Bishop still loves his Columbia laundry, while Norman York liked electricity and plumbing enough to last for the summer.

Henry Welland was seen at Camp Greystone, and Wyatt Taylor was life-guard at Hamilton Lakes.

Last, but still going, was Charles Root at Fort Bragg, dispensing soda. Now if HIGH LIFE has overlooked anyone and he is interested in letting the world know what he accomplished during the summer, just drop by the publication room and we will try to picture your desire in the next issue.

NEW REGISTRAR IS DISCUSSED AT MEETING

C. W. Phillips, principal of Greensboro High School, presided at the first teachers' meeting of the school year, Friday, September 2.

The new form of registration was the main topic of discussion. Mimeographed directions for each pupil had been prepared.

A plea was made for the North Carolina Teacher, Mr. Phillips asking that the teachers subscribe 100 per cent.

Chaperones for each new teacher were assigned. The old teachers' task will be to advise and help the new teachers throughout the coming year.

Mr. Phillips' talk stressed the need of a purpose and the loyalty to back that purpose. He also pointed out the need of a "big plan" and not of a "day to day" schedule.

NEW ADDITIONS TO THE LIBRARY

- Bennett—Claphanger, Milda Lessways, The Old Wife's Tale, These Town.
- Cather—Old Pioneers.
- Churchill—The Crisis, A Far Country.
- Dreiser—The Financier.
- Galsworthy—The Country House, The Freclands, The Patrician, The White Monkey.
- Hardy—Jude, the Obscure.
- Hardy—The Return of the Native.
- Howells—A Modern Instance, The Rise of Silas Lapham.
- James—The American, The Portrait of a Lady.
- Orczy—The Scarlet Pimpernel.
- Rogers—There's Not a Bathing Suit in Russia.
- Tarkington—Alice Adams.
- Well—The New Nachivelli, Tono-Bungay.

MRS. A. L. THOMPSON ADDRESSES P. T. A.

Purpose of Meeting to Give Parents a Full Understanding of G. H. S. Life

DEAN EXPLAINS ROUTINE

"Our aim is to bring a closer relationship between the home and school and make nobler and better citizens," said Mrs. A. L. Thompson, president of the Parent-Teacher Association, at a meeting held in the Central High School auditorium, Friday, September 2. This meeting was arranged for the benefit of mothers who have children entering high school for the first time this fall.

C. W. Phillips, principal of G. H. S., and Miss Fannie Starr Mitchell, dean of girls, explained the routine of the school. Mr. Phillips stated that all grammar grade children who are entering high school should report to their respective grammar schools Monday, September 5, and to the high school Tuesday, September 6. Among the details explained were: the course of study, daily schedule, and lunch hours. It was further stated that the school faculty would include fifty-five teachers, and that owing to the inadequacy of the high school plant, only one-third of the student body could be seated in the auditorium at one time.

SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT ENTERTAINS AT HOME

Finley Atkinson Gives Reception For Members of Graduating Class From Four to Six

Finley Atkinson, president of the senior class of 1927, entertained his class with a reception at his home on Gorrell street on June 3. The calling hours were from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Carroll Atkinson and Betty Brown welcomed the guests at the front door. Mrs. L. A. Atkinson received at the door of the music room. In the music room officers of the senior class composed the receiving line. They were: Finley Atkinson, Mary Elizabeth King, Cynthia Vaughan, and Bill Campbell.

Miss Eugenia Atkinson invited the guests into the dining room where Mrs. Ray Bond served tea, sandwiches and bon-bons.

Mary Lynn Carlson and Mrs. Mary S. Ashford said the good-byes in the den.

RUTH HEATH WINS O. HENRY PRIZE AT GRADUATION IN JUNE

Submits "The Dragon in a Rose Garden"—Awarded by O. Henry Study Club Henry Study Club

SHE GETS WUNCH TROPHY

Former Greensboro High Teacher Offers Prize For Best Creative Literary Work by High School Student

Through the merit of her short story, "The Dragon in a Rose Garden," Ruth Heath was awarded the 1927 O. Henry prize, given by the O. Henry Study Club. This prize, consisting of a set of O. Henry's works, is given each year to the Greensboro High School senior who writes the best short story. As the prize is highly coveted, there is keen competition.

Ruth Heath had the signal honor of winning, not only the O. Henry prize, but also the Wunch prize. This is a newly created award given by W. R. Wunch, former teacher in Greensboro High School, for the best piece of creative literary work done by a student of high school. This may be either prose, poetry, or a play. The winning production was a one-act play, "The Royal Crescent."

Throughout her high school career Ruth Heath has shown unusual talent as a playwright. She also has demonstrated her ability as a poetess, as well as a short story writer.

FIRST MEETING OF GIRL SCOUT TROOP IS HELD

Fall Work of Troop Begun at Meeting September 3—Picnics and Hikes Planned

THIRTY-FIVE GIRLS ARE PRESENT

Scout troop No. 2 of the First Baptist Church met Saturday morning, September 3. The troop disbanded for the month of August, but is now beginning fall work. Thirty-five of the scouts were at this meeting.

Miss Inabelle Coleman, scout captain, told of things that she was planning to carry out in the winter program.

Next Saturday, September 10, all the scouts will meet at the church at seven o'clock. From there cars will take them out to the country, where they will have breakfast. After this the girls will go swimming; other sports and games are being planned.

BETTS HOME SCENE OF HIGH LIFE STAFF PARTY

Bridge, and Contests are Features of the Evening—Dick Burroughs Wins Question Contest

The final get-together of the HIGH LIFE staff was on May 24. At this time the members of the staff entertained themselves with a party at the home of Margaret Betts.

The main features of the evening were two contests. The first was a group of questions to be answered in newspaper terms. This was won by Dick Burroughs, who was presented with a bottle of stick candy. The second was a dancing contest and was won by Margaret Britton and Pat Patterson. Punch was served during the dancing, and refreshments were later served. Bridge was played at two tables.

Seniors Buy Class Rings

One hundred and twenty-one seniors have secured the Greensboro High School class rings for 1928 from Schiffman Jewelry Company. The students were allowed to get their rings after their examinations were completed.

The ring is of yellow gold with a shield bearing the high school letters and dates of Greensboro. It has been standardized by all pupils of Semester VII and down.

Teachers' Names and Addresses

- Bessie Behney, 15 West Market.
 - Mary Ellen Blackman, 1016 Carolina Street, telephone 4495.
 - W. W. Blair, 1007 Asheboro, 4456-W.
 - Margaret Bridgers, 411 South Menhall, 952-J.
 - Amy V. Caldwell, 521 Sterling, 3233-W.
 - Jo Causey, 2017 Asheboro, 3470-W.
 - Mrs. H. B. Christie, 501 N. Greene, 1260.
 - Homer W. Coltrane, Y. M. C. A., 2727.
 - Nellie K. Dry, 222 College Place.
 - Lula East, 509, W. Washington, 738.
 - James A. Farthing, 515 W. Gaston, 3791-J.
 - Rachel Freeman, Y. W. C. A.
 - Ruth Greenwaldt, 602 Magnolia, 1973-W.
 - Ione Grogan, 610 N. Greene, 1194.
 - Willie T. Hall, Arcade, 26.
 - Mary Harrell, 342 N. Elm, 344.
 - Sarah Hodges, not located.
 - J. Stanley Johnson, 2613 Beechwood.
 - Sarah Leslie, 521 Sterling, 3333-W.
 - Evelyn Martin, 610 N. Greene, 1194.
 - Lucille Mercer, 602 Magnolia, 1973-W.
 - Grady Miller, 418 West Washington, 1387.
 - Estelle Mitchell, 417 N. Elm, 1109.
 - Ida Belle Moore, 1410 Asheboro, 3470-W.
 - Mary Morrow, Arcade, 26.
 - Julia Potts, 112 Fisher Park Circle, 2602-J.
 - Mrs. Edith Robinson, 703 Percy, 953-J.
 - A. P. Routh, Y. M. C. A., 2727.
 - Earl A. Slocum, Justall Apts., 1082-W.
 - Laura A. Tillett, 610 W. Market, 319.
 - Lily Walker, 401 W. Bessemer, 3527-J.
 - Mary Wheeler, 404 McGee, 2998-J.
 - C. W. Phillips, 210 S. Tremont Drive, 3049-R.
 - Fannie S. Mitchell, 115 W. Bessemer, 4307-W.
 - Lottie Morgan, Brown Summit.
 - Mrs. A. F. Comer, 204 Blandwood, 1473-J.
- New Teachers
- Nell Chilton, 608 Courthouse, 3495.
 - Mrs. Wm. G. Coltrane, 210 South Edgeworth.
 - Mary Beatrice Dostler, 411 Edgeworth, 439.
 - Eleanor Wilson Hill, 416 W. Washington, 3835-J.
 - Mrs. Zoe Irvine Hogsette, 211 Tate, 522-J.
 - Virginia Hollingsworth, 416 W. Washington, 3835-J.
 - Joseph Harrison Johnson, Y. M. C. A., 2727.
 - Katherine Parker Jones, 610 Simpson.
 - Mark Thomas Lambeth, 902 South Tremont, 1469-J.
 - Julia Searcy, 411 N. Edgeworth, 439.
 - Louis H. Woodward, Y. M. C. A., 2727.
 - Margaret Young, 211 Tate, 522-J.
 - Dorothy McNairy, Route 5.
 - Mary Broome, 110 Cypress, 2982-J.

BRAND NEW

"Whew! Look at that! Aren't they beauties?" "Home, James. I say, old top, cawn't you hurry a bit?" "Gee, won't they be high-bat with those? Wouldn't blame them a bit, though, with those two pretty 'horseless carriages.' Hope they won't be too proud with all the paint and trimmings to speak to 'us lesser mortals' when they roll by in those."

The objects of all this admiring attention stood gleaming and shiny, occupying the center of attention, until Miss Martin and Mr. Blair stepped into their respective cars, a Pontiac and an Essex, and drove proudly away, not forgetting, however, to speak to their friends.