

Girls Entertain Fathers at Daughter-Dad Banquet

LIPSCOMB TALKS

Program Carries Out Valentine Idea in "The Feast of the Hearts"

ARLINDO CATE GIVES SOLO

Six Men of the High School Faculty Serve in Capacity of Waiters

Last Friday, February 15, at 6:30 o'clock, the girls of the high school entertained their fathers at a Daughter-Dad banquet in the high school cafeteria. The Valentine idea was carried out in the color scheme as well as in the program itself.

The guests first assembled in the front hall of the main building. They were met at the door by a receiving line composed of the members of the Girls' Council, which sponsored the banquet, and by Miss Fannie Starr Mitchell, faculty adviser of the Council.

Forming a background in the dining hall for the red and white decorations was a wall covered with ivy from which hung red paper hearts. The lights were shaded with red paper. Around the tables at close intervals were red candles set in heart-shaped candlesticks. At each place there was a tiny cup filled with heart-shaped mints. Combined with the place card was a hand-painted program for each guest.

One of the interesting features of the night was the fact that the men teachers of the high school took the part of the waiters. Each wore a little white paper apron on which was a red heart. The head waiter was Mr. Byron Hlaworth. Assisting him were Mr. W. W. Blair, Mr. Edgar Allred, Mr. W. H. Coletrane, Mr. F. C. Shepard, and Mr. Norman Block.

The program was called "The Feast of Hearts." This thought was suggested by each of the talks. Elizabeth Boyst, president of the Girls' Council, was toastmistress. She made the welcome speech, which was called "The Open Heart." The remainder of the program was as follows:

MID-TERM REFLECTOR APPEARS FEBRUARY 6

Weave Idea of Publication Around Mother Goose—Seniors Dedicate Book to Parents

The 20th volume of The Reflector, published by the January graduates of Greensboro High School, made its appearance February 6.

The book, the dominant idea of which is Mother Goose, is dedicated by the seniors to their parents. There are clever jingles and a diary which feature the nursery rhymes. The prophecy is also written in the form of the Mother Goose story—being made up of bits of gossip taken from the future.

The section devoted to activities contains pictures and write-ups of the most important organizations of the high school, such as the Student Council, the Torchlight Society, the HIGH LIFE staff, and the various athletic teams.

The editor of the book was John Foster, the assistant editor, Emma Griffin, and the business manager, Robert Kelly. This volume of The Reflector is bound in an attractive maroon cover.

HENRY WEILAND

HENRY WEILAND BEST CITIZEN AMONG BOYS IN THE SENIOR CLASS

He Was Chosen in Election Held in High School During Past Week

HENRY OUTSTANDING BOY

Member of Debating Club, Monogram Club, Torchlight Society, and Has Received Other Honors

The students of the senior class chose Henry Weiland as the outstanding citizen among the boys of their class at an election held recently at the high school. Since coming to the high school four years ago, Henry has entered every field of activity.

Henry is a member of the Debating club, a wearer of a gold star, a member of the boys' Monogram club, a member of the Torchlight society, and manager of the Senior Supply Room.

Last spring Henry was manager of the baseball team, and though he had to work under difficulties, cars were obtained for the team to get to games.

During the last semester, Henry was vice-president of the Debating club, and chairman of the freshman advisory committee. Through his efforts, an active club has been organized.

When the president of the senior class was looking for someone to manage the supply room, he wanted a dependable, courteous person, so he chose Henry to do the work.

MISS FANNIE MITCHELL ATTENDS DEANS' MEET

Miss Fannie Starr Mitchell, dean of girls, left last Tuesday for Cleveland, Ohio, to attend the National Association of Deans of Women and the National Educational Association. The latter association will hold its meetings following the adjournment of the deans on Saturday.

While away Miss Mitchell expects to visit the Cleveland schools, which are among the best in the country. The dean will also visit some of the outstanding colleges in that locality. Lake Erie College will be the last visited.

Miss Lillian Killingsworth, of N. C. C. W., accompanied Miss Mitchell. They expect to return some time next week.

MUSIC CONFERENCE OF SOUTHERN STATES TO BE HELD IN MARCH

One Hundred and Fifty High School Players to Represent Southern States

HOLD FIVE-DAY SESSION

Members of Greensboro Glee Clubs and Orchestra to Attend—Miller and Slocum to Go

The All Southern High School Orchestra and All Southern High School Chorus of the Southern Conference for Music Education will be held in Asheville, N. C., March 4-8.

One hundred and fifty high school players will represent the Southern States in the orchestra. In the chorus will be 400 singers from the same states. A five-day session of intensive training will culminate in a concert given for the conference.

The orchestra will be under the direction of Joseph E. Maddy, head of the Public School Music department, University School of Music. Dr. Will Bearheart, director of music in the public schools, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and lecturer on music, College of Fine Arts, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, will have charge of the chorus.

The players and singers are chosen by comparison of qualifications as shown by applications and letters of recommendation. They will be housed in homes of the Asheville High School students, without charge, and under careful chaperonage. All other expenses will be paid by the students themselves. This includes the railroad fare, one and one-half fare round-trip, meals, and spending money.

All students are expected to master their music before the meet. Try-outs will be held the first day.

Students participating from the boys' and girls' glee clubs of G. H. S. are: Cleo McCready, Lizzie Adams Powers, Catherine Sykes, Lois Lazenby, Adelaide Fortune, and Lucille Ferree; Guy Hope, John Lindeman, "Red" Paris, Allen Stanley, Everett Stamper, and G. W. Stamper.

Those going from the orchestra are: Kathryn Jenkins, Arlindo Cate, Earl Harlee, Doris Bennett, J. C. Coe, Holt Knight, Henry Parrish, Maddy Mitchell, C. T. Strickland, and Bobby Moore. Mr. H. Grady Miller and Mr. Earl Clocum, conductors of the Greensboro orchestra and glee club, will also attend.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL WILL BE READY IN THE FALL

"If the weather conditions permit, the new high school will be ready for occupancy by the first of September," said Mr. N. W. Pinney, of the Angie-Blackford Construction Company, to a HIGH LIFE reporter.

Mr. Pinney further stated that the Science Building is well under way, that fifty per cent of the concrete foundation for the Administration building has been completed, and that excavation has begun on the cafeteria.

The new high school plant will consist of five buildings, but work on the other two structures has been delayed by the weather.

The IFKA Girl Reserves entertained at a colonial tea Tuesday, February 19. The high school faculty attended in large numbers.

Chapel Committee Plans Future Chapel Program

SERIES OF TALKS

Program Designed to Help Students in Making Choice of Their Life Work

TO BEGIN ON FEBRUARY 25

To Be Given by Professional Men and Women to the Student Body

RACHEL LIPSCOMB

RACHEL LIPSCOMB IS BEST GIRL CITIZEN BY A RECENT ELECTION

Rachel Was Chosen from All Senior Girls as Recipient of This Honor

OUTSTANDING ATHLETE

Member of Girls' Monogram Club, Captain of Varsity Hockey Team in Sophomore Year

The fact that Rachel Lipscomb was chosen as the outstanding citizen among the girls of the senior class is very significant in view of the many things that Rachel has done. She has distinguished herself in the field of athletics.

During her sophomore year in high school she was captain of the varsity hockey team, and a member of the Girls' Monogram Club. It is unusual for a girl to get her local monogram during her second year.

In her junior year she was president of the Girls' Athletic Association as well as a player on the varsity hockey squad. However, that year, her leg was hit by a hockey stick, and the bone was crushed, which kept her out of school for about six weeks.

For two years she has been a cheerleader. This year she is the head one.

Besides playing hockey, Rachel has made the swimming team every year. She has also played tennis and been out for track.

FIVE STAFF MEMBERS TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Five members of the HIGH LIFE and Homespun staffs, with Miss Mary Ellen Blackmon as adviser, will leave for New York on March 6. Harold Cone and Bernard Ahman, from Homespun, and Emma Griffin, Elizabeth Leak, and Albert Lindy, from HIGH LIFE, will represent G. H. S. publications at the fifth C. S. P. A. convention.

The convention begins Friday morning, March 8 and closes Saturday afternoon. The delegates will remain in New York about a week and return to Greensboro probably March 14.

HIGH LIFE and Homespun are both entered in the annual contest of the C. S. P. A.

Vocational talks are planned for chapel programs beginning the week of February 25. The first two days of chapel will be devoted to these talks, which will be heard by the sophomores, juniors, and seniors. In accordance with the various professions to be represented there will be speakers for both the boys and the girls. Those boys who usually attend chapel on Monday and Tuesday will meet on Monday. The girls will attend on Tuesday.

The idea of bringing to the students professional men and women originated with the program committee. Miss Mary Dosier, chairman of that committee, is in charge of the girls' program. She stated that the first talks for the girls will probably deal with the Y. W. C. A. and welfare work. Although it has not been definitely decided who the speakers will be, the committee plans to have the very best in each profession present.

The talks will deal with phases of each occupation. The speaker will explain why he or she was attracted to that special work. The need of workers and preparation necessary to enter the profession will be discussed. Average salary and opportunities for advancement will also be mentioned.

Those in charge of the boys' programs plan to have general talks by the members of the faculty for the first week. Throughout the spring various professions will be represented, notable among which will be law, medicine, banking, salesmanship, and service.

It is hoped that from these series of talks the student will be aided in choosing a life profession. Presenting different sides to the work will no doubt clear up many questions in the minds of those planning to pursue that work.

FINAL "PEG O' MY HEART" TRY-OUTS HELD ON FEB. 8

Rehearsals Now Under Way and Players Expected to Be Presented in About Three Weeks

For the past two weeks Mr. J. H. Johnson, head of the dramatic department, has been holding tryouts for the three-act play, "Peg o' My Heart," which is to be given by that department in the near future.

Peg, Elizabeth Wood.
Jerry, J. Barnes.
Alaric, Bill Spradlin.
Hawkes, Settle Avery.
Mrs. Chichester, Rachel Lipscomb.
Ethel, Lois Lazenby.
Brent (not yet chosen).
The Maid, Susan Gregory.
Jarvis, E. D. Robbins.

The rehearsals are now under way and the play is expected to be presented in about three weeks at the Odell Memorial building.

The story of the play is that of an orphan girl from America who inherits a large fortune and goes with her aunt to live.
