

Student Body Gives Opinion Of Budget System In Chapel

WILL SAVE 1,000 STUDENTS $19 FOR SMALL SUM OF $2.50

No Longer a Limited Number of Students to Attend School Performances.

Tickets for Blanket Fee Now on Sale at the Senior Supply Shop.

"It seems to me that at least 25 per cent of the effort in connection with any production has been expended on getting an audience, or readers, as the case may be. With the budget system it should give us our full powers for the actual production of whatever concerned."

"I am particularly interested from a standpoint of saving to each individual student. I think there should be 1,000 tickets sold, including all teachers and some students of junior high school."

"There was a time when he had to limit the number attending plays or athletic events, but that is no longer true, since we have our large auditorium and the use of the stadium. This works us no more."

All this was said by C. W. Phillips, principal of Greensboro high school, when referring to the budget system.

As has been stated in the paper before, the budget system is being presented to the Greensboro high school, offering all the athletic events, three plays, "The Purple and Gold Revue," the opera, and subscriptions to Homespun and High Life, for the mere sum of $2.50, thereby saving $19.00 if every activity were attended. Another inducement for buying a budget system ticket is that it may be paid by the installment plan, paying $1.50 now and $1.00 later in the year.

"We are assured from the standpoint of a start on the budget system," said Mr. Phillips, "that if it does go across, it means that all the promoters and leaders of the system will have to keep up their work and enthusiasm."

Last Friday morning an opportunity was given to the student body for its opinion. At this time much discussion was made and many questions settled. Charles Shaffer, representing athletics, gave a brief talk in favor of the budget system, telling what a wonderful plan he thinks it is.

Anna Wills, president of the dramatic club, spoke, also in favor of the system. She spoke mainly from the viewpoint of actors being able to give better performances if they were assured of an audience.

As a representative of Homespun, the business manager, Rigdon Dees, spoke in favor of the budget system from a financial standpoint. He said, "Unless the system does go across it might be necessary to cut both the number of issues of Homespun and the size of it."

Olivia Branch, editor-in-chief of High Life, gave a brief talk, stressing three main points: (1) that the staff will know exactly how many issues of High Life it will be possible to publish this year, (2) that the staff will be able to write better, as it knows that it will have more readers, and (3) that with the larger circulation, the advertisers will be more willing to advertise.

These were just a few of those who expressed themselves openly about the budget; however, with a show of hands it carried across most successfully. If the same enthusiasm continues it will, without a doubt, go over. Tickets for the budget are now on sale in the Supply Shop.

W. B. MAYES GOES TO WASHINGTON AND LEE

Receives Scholarship Nomination Secured by Local Alumni—Is Greensboro High School Graduate.

W. B. Mayes, Jr., graduate of the Greensboro high school class of '29, has recently received a scholarship from Washington and Lee university, Lexington, Virginia. Dr. Francis P. Gaines, president of the university notified W. B. that he had been awarded the scholarship and he left immediately to take up his work there.

Each local alumni association is authorized to nominate one student each year for scholarship in any school in the university except the school of law. In the absence of an alumni unit in Greensboro several alumni who knew of the boy's ability secured the scholarship for him.

The requirements of the nominee are that he shall be of studious habits, good character, and prepared to fill all entrance requirements. He is a member of the Torchlight society, and ex-business manager of "High Life." He took the trip to Washington and Lee university when the Southern intercollegiate press association was held there. He will specialize in journalism at college.

Miss Craig speaks on creative English.

Miss Marjorie Craig, who teaches creative English at senior high, will address the English Teachers' Council at High Point on October 24.

Miss Craig has chosen as her subject, "In Behalf of Creative English."

Add New Column for Love-Bound Students; Dot Dicks Gives Personal Advice to Pupils

A new column of interest to the "love-bound people of G. H. S. in which all questions concerning affairs of the heart, "husbands," "crushes," "falls," "blackmails," and "whatnots" will be added to our paper next week.

We have secured as adviser for this department one of the foremost experts of this country, Miss Dot Dicks. Miss Dicks realizes the weight of her task in dealing with the questions you people will ask but she nevertheless has consented to take over her duties here.

Miss Dicks wishes to assure you at this time that any question whatsoever will be treated entirely confidentially and requests that everyone who needs, or seeks, advice on any of the above mentioned subjects, write her a letter marked "Personal" and place it in the publication room, 307, in the mail box she has especially for such correspondence.

Remember, Miss Dicks answers any and all questions concerning the heart and will give her personal attention to each and every letter received.

Shoot them in and watch for your answers in next week's issue.

H. S. DEBATING CLUB MEETS FIRST TIME

Edwin Holt, President, Makes Address and Appoints Various Committees.

LOUIS BROOKS SPEAKS

The first meeting of the senior high school debating club was held Friday, September 18, when Edwin Holt, president, made an informal address in which he very briefly reviewed the achievements of last year's work and outlined the ideas and ambitions to be accomplished this year. Edwin then appointed the following committees: program committee, Mack Heath, chairman; Alma Taylor and A. C. Holt; membership committee, Dick Cann, chairman; Alma Speed and Henry Nau; social standing committee, Charles Hagan, chairman; Edwin Cline, and Goldie Goss; publicity committee, Olivia Branch, chairman; Goldie Goss, and James Doubles. The inter-scholastic committee is composed of the executive staff.

The idea of forming a sophomore debating club was discussed. It was voted that a younger club be organized as quickly as possible. Its first meeting will be held Friday, September 25. A committee composed of Mack Heath and Clara Holt was named to look after the sophomore club and see that it is being run right. Louis Brooks, a former popular G. H. S. debater, then talked to the club for a few minutes. He discussed the preceding organizations of this type and very frankly compared the former ones with the present one.

The senior club will hold its regular meetings every two weeks. The sophomore club will meet every two weeks also, but their assemblies will be alternate to the senior clubs.

The subject scheduled for the next meeting is "The Budget Plan Pro and Con." Clara Holt will uphold the affirmative and A. C. Holt the negative.

DRAMATIC CLUB HOLDS ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Holt Knight and James Mathews Are Elected to Fill the Offices of Secretary and Treasurer.

HAVE ORGANIZED SIX GROUPS

Last Friday, September 20, the Dramatic club held the second meeting of the year. The election of secretary and treasurer, which was postponed at the last meeting, was held. Holt Knight was elected secretary, and James Matthews, treasurer.

Mr. Johnson then presented a new plan for the year. The club will be divided into six groups, or clubs. Each is named for a famous actor or dramatic, and will be responsible for a program. There will be seven contests between these groups, the winner of each receiving two points. At the end of the semester the club winning the most points will be given some award.

Lois Lazenby, Vivian Bast, Ethel Gray Rogers, Clara Applewhite, Anna Wills, and Winifred Penn were appointed directors of the six clubs. Members and prospective members are asked to give their names and session rooms to one of the club directors as soon as possible. This is the only way that the club roll may be obtained. Members being absent from meetings three times without reasonable excuse will be automatically dropped from the roll.

MISS CRAIG SPEAKS ON CREATIVE ENGLISH

Miss Marjorie Craig, who teaches creative English at senior high, will address the English Teachers' Council at High Point on October 24.

Miss Craig has chosen as her subject, "In Behalf of Creative English."

She plans to discuss the value of creative English as shown in actual work done in classes of Greensboro high school for the past year or so.

Miss Craig will illustrate her talk with selections written by Greensboro high students.

FORMER G. H. S. STUDENTS WILL STUDY IN FRANCE

Glenn Boyd Will Devote Time to French Literature, Expects to Return Next August.

WILL VISIT OTHER COUNTRIES

Glenn Boyd McLeod, a former student and graduate of Greensboro high school, will study in France, September 18, from New York on the "Lafayette" for Paris.

Glenn Boyd would have been a senior at the North Carolina college had she gone back this year. She went to New York with her father for about a ten-day visit before her sail for the continent. Glenn Boyd had studied French for seven years, Latin and Spanish, but she was particularly interested in French, its language, and its literature. She will arrive in Paris a month before the university, which she will attend, will open.

Glenn Boyd will study French conversation for two weeks before starting in school. She will be necessary as all the teachers speak French and all lectures are in the same language.

An intimate friend of Glenn Boyd from Tennessee is making the trip with her to study French literature also.

Miss McLeod will study in Paris until Christmas, when she expects to visit Switzerland, Italy, Spain, and Germany. She will then return to her studies until the spring; then she will probably visit Scotland, Ireland, and England. Glenn Boyd will go back to her study of French literature until about August, 1931; she then will return home. If Glenn Boyd completes her course, she will be given the B. A. degree from that university. When she returns home next August, she may months and earn an M. A. degree from the college she chooses to attend.

TWO G. H. S. STUDENTS RETURN FROM TEXAS

Edwin, Mervine, and Mary Agnes Garrett, with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Garrett, have recently returned to Greensboro from Waco, Texas, where they attended the golden wedding anniversary celebration of their mother's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Byars.

In the early part of the summer Mary Agnes, Edwin, and Mervine left Greensboro with their mother for Waco, where they stayed until joined by their father, E. B. Garrett. They then took a motor trip to the Pacific coast and returned to Waco early in September for the anniversary celebration, which took place September 9.

GREENSBORO HIGH'S NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

E. W. STREET GIVES SCHOOL CINE-KODAK

Byron Haworth Works on Fifty-Foot Film Called High School Days.

WILL MAKE HEALTH REEL

To keep in step with the national movement of visual education, the Greensboro schools have purchased a Cine-Kodak for taking moving pictures and kaleidoscope.

This week Byron Haworth has been working on a fifty-foot film which takes five minutes to display, called "High-School Days." This picture includes different scenes at high school which are familiar to all students: such as pupil's arriving in the morning, lunch room stampede, football team in action, etc.

During the next few weeks Mr. Haworth is to begin a picture of the health program in the schools which shows the methods and practices used in schools to prevent contagious diseases and to keep students healthy.

The Greensboro schools have received two moving picture machines as a gift from the local theatre manager, E. W. Street.

CHEMISTRY STUDENTS WEIGH LIGHTED CANDLE

Charley Brimmer, Amos Shelton, Randolph Covington Set Up Apparatus.

GLOWING WAX PROVES HEAVIER

Miss Katherine Jones wished to prove to her third period chemistry class that a candle weighs more while it is burning than when it is not burning. So Charley Brimmer, Amos Shelton, and Randolph Covington were detailed to set up the apparatus for their own plans.

First a lamp chimney was prepared and by the aid of wires a wire gauze was suspended inside the chimney. Then a cork stopper was cut to fit the bottom of the chimney, then small holes were cut in the cork to allow the candle to burn. A small candle was put on this cork. The chimney was attached to a pair of balances and was balanced by weights. Then the candle was lighted and the cork placed on the bottom of the chimney. As the candle burned the class noticed that the side of the balances which held the chimney slowly went down. Thus a candle weighed more while burning because it became unbalanced while it burned.

JUNIOR HIGH MATERIAL FILLS GAPS IN CHORUS

Grady Miller Expects to Have Another State Championship Next Spring.

Mr. Miller, high school musical director, says that he is optimistic over the prospects of the glee club for this year. Due to graduation, several prominent singers were lost, but the material from the junior high is promising and will no doubt fill the gaps. Another encouraging thing is that 60 boys are out for the chorus. This is the largest number in the history to go out for this course.

Mr. Miller declares if the boys will apply themselves and grasp the spirit of the thing, Greensboro will take another state championship next spring. At present all interest is centered on the opera and already some of the principal parts are taken.

SCHOOL FOLK WITNESS PASSION PLAY MATINEE

Over 500 Greensboro high school students attended the Passion Play Wednesday afternoon aside from the many grammar school students who were present. The Aycock auditorium of North Carolina college, in which the play was given, was packed.

Every one was thrilled about the way the drama was produced. Christ appeared as His picture show Him. Peter and John were portrayed true to type which would be imagined. Some of the most beautiful scenery was the mountains on which Christ, John, and Peter appeared. The costumes were of beautiful colors. The last supper was impressive.

STUDENT COUNCIL MEETS FOR BUSINESS SESSION

Election of Secretary is Postponed; Various Committees Appointed by Charles Hagan.

MEMBERS MUST ATTEND MEETINGS

The student council met last Friday afternoon at the activities period to elect a secretary of the council and to arrange for the various committees. It was decided that since the representative of semester six had not been elected it would be best to wait until a later date to elect a secretary. Until that time Rigdon Dees was appointed to keep the minutes and attendance and to write up the two meetings of the student body at which time the budget system was discussed. He was also asked to write up the last two meetings of the council.

Next, Charles Hagan appointed the chairman of the various committees. James Doubles was made chairman of the scholarship committee to work with Miss Grogan and a group of teachers. Elmer Wrenn was appointed head of the grounds committee, though any council member is to have authority as to the school grounds. Susanne Ketchum was put in charge of the buildings committee to keep students out of the halls. Rigdon Dees was asked to head the traffic squad, being already a member. The point system committee was to be under the secretary of the council. The chairman are to appoint the members of their committees and begin work immediately.

The council agreed that their organization was to come first and that any member missing more than one meeting would be asked to retire.

FIRST HONOR RATING AWARDED HIGH LIFE

Receives Certificate From National Scholastic Association, University of Minnesota.

HIGH LIFE has just received a certificate of award, stating that it received first honor rating in the tenth National association at the University of Minnesota, department of Journalism, for 1930.

This convention, in which High Life holds memberships, convenes every year. The eleventh newspaper critical service will be different from all others, if present plans materialize. High Life will be entered before January 17, 1931, which is the deadline for entering. With this first class honor rating High Life will have many papers to defend.

Instead of the convention being held in April as the case was last year, it will be held December 4, 5, and 6, in Cleveland, Ohio. This association has been endorsed by all administrators and teachers, who are familiar with it.

CELEBRATE BATTLE ANNIVERSARY SOON

President and Mrs. Hoover With Official Staff Will be Present at Affair.

REDUCED RATES OFFERED

Sesqui-Centennial celebration of the point in the Revolutionary War, will be held Tuesday, October 7, at which time President and Mrs. Hoover, 33 congressmen and senators, 10 governors with their staffs, military companies with their bands, colleges with their colorful delegations, and high schools will be present.

This will be the greatest historical and patriotic celebration North Carolina has ever held, and it is a real opportunity for every college and high school student and their families to take advantage of the low prices of transportation offered.

The price on the special trains from Greensboro to King's Mountain is $3.75. This price includes a round-trip transportation from train to Battle Ground and return distance of 10 miles, and reserved seats at speakers' stand, service of an experienced tour manager to look after every detail.

All students who wish to attend this celebration will be excused from school. C. W. Phillips said "Surely any student who wishes to attend such an affair will be granted the privilege."

LOUIS WOODWARD VISITS HIGH SCHOOL MONDAY

Former Teacher and Athletic Coach Thinks School Plant Among the Best He Has Seen.

WORKS FOR INSURANCE COMPANY

Louis H. Woodward, who taught mathematics and coached athletics in Greensboro high school three years ago, visited Greensboro Monday, September 22, for the first time since his leave.

C. W. Phillips took Mr. Woodward over the buildings and grounds, explaining what each building and room is used for. This being Mr. Woodward's first visit to the new high school, he said that he received a thrill at the sight of the new buildings. He said they were quite beautiful indeed. Mr. Woodward stated, "Of all the many high schools I have ever seen, this is the prettiest." The plan, Mr. Woodward thought unusually good, because the different kinds of classes may be conducted in different buildings.

"With a high school like this one and with the same type of students and you had when I taught in Greensboro, the high school should do wonders," said Mr. Woodward. He feels that the school is an inducement to the body to work.

FIRST DEVOTIONAL CONDUCTED MONDAY

The first devotional of the year was held Monday morning, September 22. When the schedules were being made out a devotional was included. This was to come on each Monday morning during ten minutes of the first period. At this time no announcements are made or any other subjects discussed. The purpose of this is to start the week off right.

C. W. Phillips read from a book entitled "Morning Readings" selected from the Bible. This particular reading came from the 28th chapter of Job and was headed "A Father's Advice."

ENGINEERS START WORK BEAUTIFYING SCHOOL GROUNDS

Don Fish, Landscape Engineer, Directs Work on Campus at Senior High.

ONE ACRE SOWN IN GRASS

Completion of Task Will Take About Another Week—To Plant Bushes and Shrubs.

If notice has been taken of the school grounds since school has started, it will be seen that quite a great deal of work is being put on them. Don Fish, a landscape engineer, who has charge of all the school grounds in the city, is working here, with five men under him. They are now getting ready to plant the grass.

Mr. Fish relates the process that must be gone through when planting grass: first, it is necessary to have a grass stand—that is to get a bed, get the soil in a good loose condition, free from all stones and trash. On the high school yards is being used ashes from the incinerator and manure, which had been piled up for a year. This is the second step. After this it is harrowed many times. The grounds for the lawn which is to be put on them, after which the grass will be planted. Bushes are to be laid over the grounds when the work is complete, which will be in about a week's time.

Only about an acre of the school grounds is being planted in grass now. Next fall this other part of them will be finished.

Mr. Fish said if financial circumstances allow him, he will put some foundation plants around the science building this fall.

Mr. Fish said that he is very anxious to make the grounds look as beautiful as possible. However, he said he could only do his part of getting them pretty and it would be left to the students to keep them that way.

He wished to impress it upon the student body that it is not only their duty to keep them in good condition but that a school is judged partly by its outward appearance. It means much for a school to be noted for its beauty and cleanliness.

ADMINISTRATIVE STAFF DINES AT PINECROFT

Mrs. Park and Mrs. G. B. Phillips Entertain Officers of Greater Greensboro School District.

A supper for the administrative officers of the Greater Greensboro school district was given Thursday evening, September 18, at Pincroft Inn by Mrs. Herbert W. Park and Mrs. Guy B. Phillips, superintendent of the Greensboro city school.

A color scheme of gold and green, including green candies, set in holders of golden hue, and goldenrod was carried out in the decorations.

Mrs. Park and Mrs. Phillips were assisted in serving by Miss Carrie Phillips. Preceding the supper games were played. After the thirty-two, composing the party had dined, indoor contests was the attraction. However informal, the party was enjoyed.

The guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. E. T. McSwain, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Helms, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McEane, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Strickland, Mr. and Mrs. John J. McSorley, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Harlow, Miss Florence Panill, Miss Florence Hunt, Miss Rosa Abbott, Miss Vera Wharton, Miss Hunter Irvin, Mrs. R. A. Merritt, Miss Margaret Ludwig, Don Fish, Miss Lillie Hyams, Miss Matie Morgan, Miss Isabelle Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Peeler, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Broadhurst, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Hudson, Herbert W. Park and Guy B. Phillips.

SEMESTER SEVEN MEETS ELECTS 1930-31 OFFICERS

At the first meeting this year of Semester 7 class, Friday afternoon, September 19, all officers except the president were elected. Mack Heath was elected president last spring.

The report of the nominating committee was submitted and nominations were received from the floor. Mamie Leake Parsons was elected vice-president; Charles Shaffer, secretary; John Gunter, treasurer.

The president appointed the invitation committee: Edith Bennett, chairman; Polly Moore, and Bill Edgerton. This committee is to meet with the invitation committee of Semester 8 so that the invitations may be bought jointly, thus lowering the cost for each class.

Miss Paris Visits G. H. S. Miss Mary Bynum Paris, who taught history in Greensboro high school for the past three years, was in Greensboro last Saturday morning. She visited the school and her old friends here. Miss Paris is at present teaching in the Rockingham high school.
