

THE PLACE OF THE SCHOOL IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF CITIZENSHIP

Mary Margaret Bates

The school is a means of preserving the ideals and teachings of society for the coming generations. These are also taught at home, in the church, in the business world, and in the government; but the school was created for that special purpose.

During the first years in school the child is taught to read and write, to spell correctly, and to work a little with figures, combined with elementary drawing and singing.

In grammar school the child realizes, to a certain extent, that there are others in the world beside himself, but when he reaches high school, he is suddenly thrust into such a throng and variety of students that there he discovers that unless he studies and shows himself capable, he will accomplish nothing.

Ike Fesmire Leads Whirlwinds In Scoring With 3 Points; Wrenn, Shelton, and Critz Follow With 2 Points Each

Coach Lester Belding's Purple Whirlwinds lost the second conference basketball game of the 1933 season to the Winston-Salem five by the score 19-10 in the R. J. Reynolds high school Tuesday night, January 17.

Pike, pivot man of the Camel City quintet, led the scoring for the game with three field goals and a free shot for a total of seven points. Ike Fesmire, Greensboro center, led the scoring of the Gate City team with one field goal and one free throw for three points.

New Basketball Rules Increase Offensive Work

One of the purposes of the new rules for basketball, which have been put into play only this season, is to speed up offensive play and reduce stalling. Since these rules have obtained there has been distinctly more offensive play than heretofore in games throughout the country.

In this game Coach Belding's team showed a marked improvement over the exhibition of playing that they displayed in the Charlotte game. Fesmire and Wrenn played the most outstanding games of the night.

Summary: Substitutes—Greensboro: Clements, Rolland, Winston-Salem: Fisher. Referee, Davis; scored, Wicker.

Amos Shelton, forward on the local basketball five who failed to make his letter last year, has been playing some outstanding games so far this year. He has made a number of good shots.

Reidsville Five Ties Whirlwind Cagers

One of the toughest battles Belding's cagers have fought this season was the one with Reidsville, Tuesday night, January 10, which ended in a 27 to 27 tie.

Throughout the game both teams battled with everything they had. At the end of the half, the score was 15 to 10 in favor of the Lucky Strike boys, but at the end of the third quarter, Greensboro led 20 to 19.

When the game ended the score was 25 to 25. Two extra quarters were added, in which Wrenn scored for the locals and Sharp for the opponents. Greensboro (27) Pos. Reidsville (27) Critz (3) ... Good Baseball Season Prophesied

Coach Stanley Johnson should have a prize winning baseball team this spring with seven of last season's letter men back. The nine will suffer, of course, from the loss of Red Whitt, Bill Wharton, and Red Riley; but this depletion is well made up with the return of Buck Peak, first string pitcher; Lee Wall, catcher, and Amos Shelton, Charlie Carroll, Ed Clements, Hughes Clements, and Ernest Remmy.

Only One Veteran Back for Tennis

This looks like a very skeptical season for tennis, but perhaps with Mr. Cobb and Jack back on the job, a pretty good team can be assembled. Hats off to G. H. S.'s boxers and wrestlers! They won a more spectacular victory over Leaksville last Saturday night than any of the other high school athletic teams have been able to do this year.

Boxers and Wrestlers Outstanding

The five knockouts handed to Leaksville by Whirlwind boxers in this meet was unusual in the boxing history of Greensboro high. Our matmen won equal laurels by taking five out of seven of their matches. Coach Jenrette, the wrestling mentor, is new to this school, but he has certainly won the approval and following of all the students interested in sports, and we knew Hamilton could bring the best stuff out of the boxers. You have the support of the whole school, boxers and wrestlers!

Five Track Lettermen Back

Five of the nine men awarded letters for track last year will be back this time. This is not a promising number of veterans, but there will probably be a large group of candidates out, for this sport seems to be the second most popular of spring sports. Bill Elias, Powell Banner, Jack Nowlin, and Jack Burroughs are the lettermen not returning. Coach Routh may have a tough job developing the material into a winning track team, but it might be a good one.

Famous Humorist Sports Writer

Did you know that Ring Lardner, one of the best known of contemporary American humorists, was for a long time editor of the Chicago "Sporting News"? He also wrote a sports column for a well known New York paper, and through this started the use of slang phrases among sports writers, which has stuck since then and is still going strong. Lardner has since given up his sports writing but scattered through his books are evidence of his past profession.

Drop First Game to Meyer's

Greensboro met the strong Meyer's department store quintet December 28 on the Y. M. C. A. floor and dropped their first game by the score of 28-12. McCabe, Meyer's forward, led the scoring in this game with 9 points, with Fesmire leading the highs with 7.

Whirlwind Quintet Defeats Bessemer

Opening the 1933 cage season Saturday night, January 7 at the Y. M. C. A., the Whirlwind quintet won a 22 to 12 victory over the Bessemer boys.

George Critz, of the locals, led both teams in scoring with a total of eight points. Following closely behind Critz with a score of six points was Amos Shelton, Greensboro forward. Pete Boone, pivot man of the Bessemer quint, led his team in scoring with a total of six points. Collins and Price also played a good game for the opposing unit.

A heavy loss to the local boys was that of the services of Ike Fesmire. His position at center was held down by a promising pivot man, Payne.

Girls Lose Initial Games

Miss Kate Robinson's basketball girls lost their first two scheduled games of the season. In the first game they were defeated by Winston-Salem's Black Bison girls by the narrow margin of 36 to 33, but they were completely outclassed by the Walnut Cove aggregation, the final score being 30 to 15.

Two Golf Lettermen Back

The '32 golf team, coached by Lester C. Belding, has only two of its lettermen returning, Carl Jeffress and Ernest Remmy. The ones not returning are Bill Venning, Bill Bonkemeyer, and Frank Causey. This makes the coming season look pretty cloudy, doesn't it?

Reserves Lose Battle

The Whirlwind nine is unusually lucky this season in having seven of its letter men returning. These are: Ed Clements, Hughes Clements, Buck Peak, Lee Wall, Charles Carroll, Amos Shelton, and Ernest Remmy. Some of the best men, however, were lost; Ralph Riley, Red Whitt, Bill Wharton, and Eugene Bullock. J. Stanley Johnson will coach the diamond men.

Camel City Five Downs Locals 22 to 16; Reeding Is Star For Winners With 12 Points; Rankin Best For G. H. S.

The Winston-Salem high school reserves swamped Coach Lester Belding's Purple Whirlwind reserves 22 to 16 on the Winston court last Tuesday night in a preliminary to the regular varsity game.

A. C. Awards Letters To 16 Football Men

The Athletic Council consisting of Coach Belding, A. P. Routh, C. W. Phillips, and Sidney Ogburn, awarded letters to 16 members of the 32 football squad.

Lacy L. McAlister Given High Award

The meeting was held in the Jefferson Roof restaurant and was well attended. The officers were elected as follows: Paul W. Schenck, president; Hill Hunter, Lunsford Richardson, Herman Cone, and F. A. Whitney, vice-presidents; W. M. York, secretary; E. C. McLean, treasurer; Ed P. Benbow, scout commissioner; R. D. Douglas, president of court of honor; John E. Ford, R. M. Mitchell, Guy B. Phillips, Bart Leiper, C. W. Phillips, J. D. Williams, Dr. C. I. Carlson, directors. New directors of the council chosen were Allen T. Preyer, Frank D. Shaw, Rev. D. D. Holl, Ben Cone, E. H. Strickland and W. G. Wharton.

AW, RATS!

But it was probably mice that were found in a girl's locker. She set a trap on the cabinet's floor, but a mouse made merry upon the shelf. When the locker door was opened, he escaped from his prison walls. Did the girl scream? No, these modern women "jest ain't" what they used to be.

CLASS HISTORY

The word "history" calls to mind a narrative form of events of a particular people or thing. Thus, in strict accordance with the word, a history of our class should contain an account of the outstanding events and happenings that have befallen us since we entered high school. So, let us look back over these last few years and reflect how various things have affected us.

Way, way back in the days when the girls wore stiff, starched dresses, and the boys, instead of the girls, wore stockings—way back when a group of bushful half-grown kids sank self-consciously into those creaking seats at the old high school—way back when that same old Central high swung open its doors for the last time to a class of mid-term freshmen—way, way back when, with tottering knees and thumping hearts, we ventured from the room under the guidance of some kind and pitying upper-classman—then, began the nucleus of the mid-term class of '33. For that first year we were practically obscured.

It was with no great sorrow that we gave up the title "foolish freshmen" for that of "stilly sophomores." Indeed, no. In fact, we rather welcomed our new position. We were one step nearer the upper-classes and ready to bestow upon our successors those same paddings and hair pullings that had been so generously given us by our predecessors. We came out of that year none the worse. We considered it a veritable success.

Our junior year seems to have been a nightmare. First, came the day to measure for our rings, and then all else seems to have been forgotten in planning the junior-senior party. Our thoughts were of nothing else for a few months. Our plans were of the most elaborate, and we were to be the most successful hosts and hostesses. But during all those anxious moments of planning we did not forget that ours was the next turn—ours the next to be guests—ours the next triumph. And, then came that day of long waiting when the banquet was marshaled.

Lacy L. McAlister Given High Award

The meeting of the Greensboro Council of Boy Scouts on the night of January 9 led to the re-election of all officers. Special tribute was paid to President Paul W. Schenck and Henry W. Johnston, former scout executives. The silver beaver, the highest award scouting can give to an adult volunteer worker, was awarded to Lacy L. McAlister, scoutmaster of troop number four.

Reserves Lose Battle

The game was featured by the playing of Reeding, Twin City forward, who led both teams in scoring with five field goals and two free shots to his credit for a total of 12 points. Rankin, Greensboro center, played a good game for the locals and led the Whirlwinds in scoring with a field goal and a free throw for three markers. Neal, another Camel City forward, also played a nice game and shot three field goals to count six points. Floyd Rees and Ed Cockman played well for Greensboro and scored four points each.

The Winston victory was the first defeat of the local reserves, the Whirlwind seconds having defeated the Belk's department store five of this city in a well played game on the Caldwell gymnasium floor during the Christmas holidays.

A. C. Awards Letters To 16 Football Men

The Athletic Council consisting of Coach Belding, A. P. Routh, C. W. Phillips, and Sidney Ogburn, awarded letters to 16 members of the 32 football squad.

The players who received letters were: Captain Elmer Wrenn, Horace Brezeale, and Lawrence Wilson, guards; Hilton Gerringer, Arnold Dempsey and Tom Roland, tackles; Oka Hester, center; Ed Cockman, J. B. Payne and Charles Norcum, fullbacks, and Ed Lee, Bill Boren and Bill Elias, halfbacks. Several players failed to receive letters on account of injuries; these were given honorable mention. They are: Ike Fesmire, Lee Wall, Charles Elder and Sam Rees. Of the 16 lettermen, Wrenn, Gerringer, Pittman, and Wilson will finish this season, while O'Brien and Elias are now out of school. Harry Kuykendall, manager, and Coach Belding were also awarded manager and coach's letters. Paul Martin and J. T. Causey were named as joint managers for the 1933 team, but no captain has been elected.
