

Sack Lunches on Lawn To Climax Premiere of Student-Faculty Day

New Event Scheduled for May 2; School to Take Part in Outdoor Games

Informality and gaiety will be the predominant factors of Student-Faculty day, which will be held at Senior high school for the first time on May 2, from 11 until 1:30.

A period of recreation, during which time games, including baseball, soft-ball ping-pong, badminton, and croquet, will officially open the new event," announced Billy Brinkley, the student chairman.

To Have Lunch on Lawn

In order that everyone, students and teachers alike, may be together, sack lunches, topped by lemonade in paper cups, will be served on the lawn. Following luncheon, the major games of the day will be played. Selected baseball teams, representing two divisions of the school, will furnish entertainment for spectators, while a tug-of-war will be in progress on the front lawn. The last two periods will run on their regular schedule.

Student-Faculty Committee

Student-Faculty day, which has been in the making for the past month, is under the general supervision of Miss Sara Lesley, with Miss Lily Walker in charge of dividing the school; Mrs. Blackburn, lunches; Miss Hutchinson, games; with Miss Louise Smith and Mr. Jamieson as her assistants; and Miss Virginia Cohoon and Miss Bradley, publicity.

Students working with these teachers are Billy Brinkley, chairman; Richard Kisor, games; Peggy Yeats,

(Continued on Page Four)

Business Contest to Be April 24, 25, 26

Grand School Winner, Individual, and Team Placers to Be Announced

Tests in shorthand, typing, book-keeping, commercial law, and general business will be given April 24, 25, and 26 to the business students of Senior high school in connection with the annual North Carolina State Business contest, announced Mr. G. H. Parker, member of the Woman's college and G. H. S. commercial departments, this week.

Individual Copies New Feature

In previous years the tests have been dictated by the teacher, as only one copy was provided, but this year an individual copy for each student will be provided. The completed papers will be submitted to Woman's College of the University of North Carolina for purposes of checking.

Winners in each event will be classified as individual and team winners. In addition there will also be a grand school winner.

Caldwell Caps Record With Attendance of 95%

Averaging 95.48%, Miss Caldwell's room, 2, has highest attendance for the past six weeks, while Miss Blackburn's room, 313, was second with 95.6%.

Having 90% and above were the following rooms: Blackburn, 95%; Hucks, 95%; Mims, 94.58%; Lesley, 87.7%; Lee, 93.2%; Harrison, 93.67%; McNairy, 93.97%; Pike, 93%; Mitchell, 93.7%; Cahoon, 93.1%; Farlow, 92.4%; Wall, 92.41%; Hutchinson, 92.60%; McDonald, 92.15%; Braswell, 92.6%; Home, 92.3%; Avery, 91.48%; Moore, 91.9%; LeGwin, 91.66%; Bradley, 91.15%; Walker, 91.6%; Richards, 91.9%; Thomas, 90.53%; Sledge, 90%; Blackburn, 90.6%.

Those rooms falling below the 90% mark were: Peebles, 88.38%; Cansyer, 87.7%; Smith, H., 85.53%; Smith, L., 85.16%; Betts, 87.5%; Alton, 83.4%; Ironside, 86.4%.

Faculty Has Meeting; Discuss School Problems

Donuts and hot coffee were served to the faculty, by Ann Glass and Mary Joe Flippin of the home economics group, at the routine meeting on March 26. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss school problems and the committee work necessary for the evaluation service to be conducted here April 14, 17, and 18.

Dr. J. E. Morgan to Visit Local F. T. A. Club Today

On Tour of Southeast; To Address Teachers Tonight at 8 o'clock

Dr. Joy E. Morgan, editor of National Education association and supervisor of the Future Teachers of America organization in the United States, will arrive in Greensboro today at noon to visit the high school unit of the organization and to speak tonight at 8 o'clock to the teachers of the city at Central Junior high school.

Dr. Morgan is making a tour of the southeastern states and is visiting the local chapters of F. T. A., of which Allen Dixon is president. The Future Teachers of America club is a project sponsored by the N. E. A. and an organization promoted in honor of Horace Mann, father of the public school system in America.

During his stay in Greensboro, Dr. Morgan will be entertained at a dinner given by the F. T. A. club tonight at 6:30 at the Jefferson Roof restaurant. Immediately after dinner, the visitor will speak before the general meeting of city teachers.

Girl Reserves Plan Banquet for Mothers

A mother-daughter banquet, scheduled for April 26, will be the first big event on the spring calendar for the four high school Girl Reserve clubs, the inter-club council decided at its last meeting, March 18.

Daphne Lewis, president of the Be Worthwhile club, was appointed general chairman for the celebration by Ella Mae Morgan, council president, and Lucky Lassie head.

Committee chairmen announced Further plans for the occasion will be made by special committees also appointed by Ella Mae. Theresa McCormick will be in charge of the program; Oleta Overstreet and Frances Heath, decorations; Margaret Allred and Annie Mae Dillon, tickets; and Jean Nowell, food.

Representatives of the clubs also made plans for a senior family night to be held in May at the Y. W. C. A., with Barbara Bentley as general chairman for the affair, assisted by Elizabeth Bennett, Dorothy Oates, and Frances Heath.

Bentley, Darby, Dunstan Win Local Quill Contest

Are Eligible for Entry in National Scholarship Competition for $500

Winning out in the local Quill and Scroll contest on headlines, editorials, and feature-writing, held last week, were Barbara Bentley's feature story, "Baby Snooks Takes a Census of the Census Taker"; an editorial, "Black Shirts, Silver Shirts, or Plain American Work Shirts for 1940 Graduates," by Aurelia Dunstan; and a double-barreled headline by Allene Darby.

Quill and Scroll is offering a $500 scholarship to the national winner of the contest. Any school with a Quill and Scroll chapter was eligible to compete in the contest, and March 30 was the deadline for all entries. Students taking part in the tryouts were allowed 45 minutes for each contest, and no

(Continued on Page Four)

Final College Day Plans Announced; 28 Schools to Attend

Part-Time Seniors Begin Conferences At 12 o'clock

Part-time seniors will start the conferences in the library, on College day, April 5, with college representatives, beginning at 12 o'clock, with rooms going in groups of three.

All students in rooms 313, 315, and 317 will go to lunch at 12, and will report to either their fourth or fifth period classes to have attendance checked. After all work is turned in and assignments made, they will be expected to go to the library for the remainder of the period.

Sixth and Seventh Periods

At the sixth period, rooms 305, 306, and 206 will be able to talk to the delegates, while 104, 100, and 201 will have seventh period.

Schools which have accepted the invitation to College day and their representatives are: Salem, Miss. Jane Rondthaler; Guilford, Dr. E. Gamess Purdom; Greensboro college, Dr. L. L. Gobbel; N. C. State, student representative: W. C. T. N. C., C. W. Phillips; Mars Hill, Hoyt Blackwell; Citadel, L. A. Prouty; Mary Baldwin, Miss Blessing Whitmore; W. C. T. C., John W. McDevitt; King's, Leroy Thacker; Mary Washington, Ronald W. Faulkner; High Point, N. M. Harrison; Peace, William C. Pressly; U. N. C., Roy Armstrong; Flora Macdonald, Mrs. Genev. MacMill; E. C. T. C., Miss

(Continued on Page Four)

Rotarians Give $50 To School Library

Wren to Order Books For Boys' Careers; Begins Vocations File

Not to be outdone by the Altrusa club, which recently made a substantial gift, the Rotary club has made a similar contribution of $50 to the school library, the money to be used for the purchase of vocational and occupational books for boys. Miss Wren has already bought a set of 92 bulletins on careers and will secure other books soon. These bulletins are to be considered regular books and will be checked out as all others are.

Wren Begins File

In connection with the guidance work of Mr. Mathis, Miss Price, and Miss Harrison, Miss Wren has begun a special file on careers. An entire section will be devoted to each one of the main divisions of industry or professional service, every imaginable type of work being included. Along with the pamphlets she has on this material, Miss Wren is saving clippings on the various fields. She will add these to the file.

Should Aid Students

As soon as the file becomes better organized, each student will receive a mimeographed sheet telling of the materials that may be found there. This file should be of much value to students in determining what courses to take at school and how to advance in their chosen fields.

Current Chosen to Reign Over G. H. S. May Festival

May Queen and her Maid of Honor

Pictured above are Irene Current, May Queen, and India Groome, maid of honor, shown with an old spinning wheel, reminiscent of the old South, which will be the theme for the annual May Day.—(Photo by staff photographer Salomon Kennedy.)

Groome Maid of Honor; Bond General Chairman Of Event on May 5

"The Old South" to Be Theme, Featuring G. W. T. W. Costumes

Irene Current was chosen by popular vote to reign over the annual May festival at Senior High May 5. Irene is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Current of the Tabernacle road, Maid of honor, runner-up for queen, is to be India Groome, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Groome of Greensboro. Defeated in the race for queen was Carolyn Colker, campus actress.

Sponsored by Playmasters, the second of the annual events will be under the direction of Oscar Bond, general chairman. Other committee heads for the celebration are costume, Dorothy Crafton; music, Doris Peoples; decorations, Frances Winslow; and dance, Margaret Sawyer.

G. W. T. W. Costumes

"The Old South" will be the theme of this year's court—a special feature to be the Virginia reel. In keeping with the topic, ladies of the court will wear the traditional Scarlett O'Hara dress. Although definite arrangements have not been completed, it is probable that the dresses will be in one color.

(Continued on Page Four)

Richards Resigns G. H. S. Position

Will Become Head Of Business Department At Asheville College

William A. Richards, head of the G. H. S. commercial department, announces his resignation from Senior high in order to accept the position as head of the business education department at Asheville Teachers' college next fall. For the past two years Mr. Richards has been connected with the business department of this high school and during the time has taught various commercial subjects. At the Asheville institution he will teach typing, accounting, and methods of teaching business math.

Wife to Go Also

Accompanying him to Asheville will be his wife, the former Miss Myrtle Stedman, supervisor of the home economics departments of Greensboro schools.

Mr. Richards' leaving will be a tremendous loss to the Greensboro high school, each individual commercial student, and particularly to the commercial faculty," declared Mrs. Peebles and Miss Cohoon of the department this week, "but the good wishes of the entire group will go with him and Mrs. Richards to his new post."

Announcement of Mr. Richards' successor will probably not be made before May.

Election and Tea to Feature P. T. A. Meet

Parents of incoming juniors are to be special guests of the Parent-Teachers association at its meeting, Tuesday, April 9, at 8 p.m. Mrs. W. B. Little, program chairman, has planned a musical program for this meeting, which is the last one of the school year. Both the glee club and the band will present numbers which they are using in the music contest the following week. Preceding the program, an election of officers for 1940-41 will be held.

Tea to Be Served in Library

Following the program there will be a tea in the library, with exhibits from the art, woodwork, home economics, nature study, and journalism departments being displayed in the conference room.

Greensboro Photographer Addresses School Club

Mr. Charles Farrell, Greensboro photographer and well-known illustrator of Time, spoke to the Photography club yesterday at the regular club period. Mr. Farrell's talk was based entirely in the questions asked him by members of the club.

Annual Career's Day Planned for May 3

Greensboro Employers To Speak to Students On Various Professions

Career's day will be observed by the seniors in May 3 for the second time in the history of G. H. S., announced Miss Christine Price, director of the event, Monday.

The general purpose of the day is to give the seniors a chance to receive first-hand information on the general working conditions in various fields. Also students will be given an opportunity to learn from Greensboro employers the types of jobs available.

Various Fields to Be Described

In the professional field there will be speakers on nursing, newspaper work, law, medicine, engineering, including mining, civil, electrical, and mechanical, library work, secretarial, art, teaching, and radio service. There will also be addresses on aviation, insurance, general office work, sales, retail, and wholesale, mechanics, textile work, hosiery and rayon, building trades, carpentry, masonry, plastering, plumbing, house wiring, and insulation, home economics, beauty work, and social work.

Each senior will have an opportunity to attend two group meetings during the morning on two separate vocational fields. These meetings will be held from 9 till 11 o'clock.

Miss Ann Harrison is assisting Miss Price with general plans for the day, but group leaders will be chosen from among the students.

Alumnae Help Plan Freshman Formal

Spring dances at W. C. T. U. N. C. will be headed this year by the freshman formal on April 20. Local students and G. H. S. alumnae will take an active part in the preparations, as Jane Webb will be in charge of arrangements for the orchestra. Jane Murray, one-time cheer leader, will collect the money from town students.

Chopsticks, Oh, Chopsticks There's Nothing Like Chopsticks

Tinkle! Tinkle! Bell-like tones wafted over the cafeteria's din and cabbage fumes emitted one strangely of a xylophone. But listen closer:

"This one's 'do,' that's 'mi,' there's 're,' and 'fa'—hand me your milk bottle, Jo, and pour half the water out of that glass. That can be 'ti.' No, I don't want the vinegar bottle," comes the unexpected refrain.

Be not perturbed, gentle reader; that's not a lunatic at large. A second glance will reveal only a neat row of eight glasses and milk bottles in the center of a lunchroom table. It's an amateur's symphony arrangement of music notes a la G. H. S., its theme song being the scales.

This recent serenade proved short-lived. Its feminine originators harmonized happily with knives, forks, and glasses, until one musician sat in the whipped cream and the cafeteria monitor's approach sent inspiring geniuses demurely back to salads and French preserves.

'Modern Art' Subject Of Hunt's Talk to Room 21

"Modern art is getting away from the traditional little details resembling photography," began Douglas Hunt in his address to Mr. Thomas' session room 21 on Friday, March 17, "and is concentrating on design and emphasizing dominant elements."

Hunt illustrated his talk by examples of bad and good art. Miss Braswell's oils, watercolors, and pencil, but group leaders will be chosen from among the students.

Modern Concept of Art

The speaker indicated that the modern concept of art goes beyond the classical field, crafts and handiwork being examples of this. He demonstrated so-called tricks in art which cause optical illustrations and stressed the fact that art not only includes painting but sculpturing also.

Hunt also explained that interpretive music does not give exact details, but abstract ones of such subjects as winds, birds, and oceans.