See Winston Game Story-Page 4

All-American, N. S. P. A.-International Honor Rating, Quill and Scroll

VOLUME XVII

GREENSBORO SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL, GREENSBORO, N. C., OCTOBER 25, 1940

NUMBER 4

GRAHAM TO TALK STANDARDS DAY

Home Was Never Like This!

Shown above eating the "Sunday" dinner they prepared last week in connection with their home economies course are, left to right, Nellie Beeson. Beverly Lewis, Celia Varner, and Doris Smith.

Home Makers Renovate Old Clothes and Theories

Students Plan Meals, Cook, Eat, Wash Dishes, Practice Economy

By making over old clothes, by planning meals to fit the family income, and by applying all resource and tested theories of their course, Miss Snowe Bradley's home economics classes are fitting themselves for a part in the home life where economy and thrift must be a by-word.

No Balanced Meal

These cooking students, who are noted for their rattling of the pots and pans, have learned that there is no balanced meal but that the three meals of the day are balanced when the daily food requirements of one quart whole milk, two eggs, one leafy, one yellow, and one starchy vegetable, a citrous fruit or tomato, one serving of meat, something sweet, butter, whole grain in some product, and eight glasses of water are included somewhere during

Work by Patterns

"In proof that not only do my sewing students have patterns, those who are specializing in cooking use these food requirements as their pattern and check their work for its nutritional, economical, managerial, and aesthetic requirements," declared Miss Bradley. "We are studying from a booklet sent by the government called 'Diets to Fit Your Income,' and Edith Lowman has, with the help of the book, made a cost chart for feeding the five members of her family a week on the four diet tests, which are: a restricted diet for

(Continued on Page Four)

Glee Club to Present Student Performance

To give the students greater confidence in themselves and in their ability to sing, the music department will sponsor a student recital Thursday afternoon, October 81.

All members of the voice department who wish to do so will be given a chance to sing a solo on that afternoon. The event will take place at 3:30 o'clock and will last an hour.

Brietz Makes Statement

"I think that this recital will strengthen our hopes for the state music contest this year," explained Mr. Raymond Brietz, head of the music department, when queried about this program. He also extended a blanket invitation to school patrons to attend this program.

Miss Reeves Receives State Appointment

Miss Cynthia Reeves, principal of Irving Park school, has received an appointment as a member of the State Textbook commission from Governor Clyde R. Hoey, an-nounced Superintendent B. L. Smith this week.

Smith this week.

The commission will judge and submit recommendations to the state board of education covering these subjects: North Carolina history, fifth grade; readers, first through seventh grades; world history, sixth grade; and art and health.

health.

Members of the commission are chosen from outstanding school workers from all over the state. Miss Reeves is the only representative from Greensboro.

City Schools to Aid National Defense Plan

Courses in Preparation For Future Protection Offered to Students

now drafted for active service in the United States army, Mr. B. L. Smith, city school superintendent, is introduc-ing a plan whereby the faculty members and students alike of the Greens boro city schools may aid in the na-tional defense program.

students and teachers are able to addition themselves for future participation in the program for cooperative building up of American defenses. D. G. Hughes, former industrial art

(Continued on Page Three)

Rev. Walser Allen Speaks At Schoolmaster Meeting

Speaking on "Trends in Religion at the Present Time," Rev. Walser Allen addressed the Schoolmasters club at the October meeting, Wednesday, Oc-tober 16, in the W. C. U. N. C. home cafeteria

Also fenturing the program was the special music by Professor Julian Gardiner, of the Elon college faculty.

Sharpe Tops Special Honor Roll With 97.5; Page Ranks Second

Total of 106 Students Average 90 or Above; 16 Make 95 or More

Leading in the race for scholastic nonors during first report period, Les-lie Sharpe, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Sharpe, of the Alamance road, scored the highest possible average, with a rating of 971/4%. Diame Page rating of 97½%. Dianne Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Page, 4028 West Market street, and Betty Shipman, daughter of Mr. G. L. Shipman. 635 Martin street, claim second and third places with averages of 96.8 and 96.5 respectively.

Special Honor Roll
A total of 16 students averaged 95 or above, placing them upon the special honor roll, They are; Beverly Heitman, Josephine Duncan, Sara Jeffress, Elmer Jones, Berry Reid, Leslie Sharpe, Betty Shipman, Louise Morton, Billy Brinkley, Dianne Page, Evelyn Glass, Rachael Baxter, Martha Flem-ing, Ruth Winterling, Elva Spencer, and Mary Lou Sawyer.

General Honor Roll
Those students averaging 90 or above and placing on the general honor roll numbered 106. They are as follows:
Room 2—Althea Hardin, Jack Harris, Virginia Haynes, and Walter Hiatt.
Room 3—Terpsie Kypriss, Elsie Lewis, and Helen Leonard.
Room 4—Nancy Cowherd, Janet Cox,

(Continued on Page Six)

G. H. S., One of Forty To Make Study Course

To verify a time schedule developed through trial classes, the Southwest-ern Publishing company requested last Wednesday that Mr. William Richards, as head of the department, have the school bookkeeping classes help with the project. Senior high is one of the ls chosen to participate in this

The publishing company has asked Mr. Richards first to send a record of the bookkeeping classes up to this date. Then each week he is to send a record of the number of chapters, exercises, and supplementary exercises completed, to them.

Need Information for Book

Need Information for Book
The commercial publishing company is doing this final checking before it prints and releases the course of study with a time schedule for the new ley junior, and Gillespie Park junior Twentieth Century Bookkeeping and Accounting book, now emerging in its eighteenth edition.

Principals A. P. Routh, H. A. Helms, of Senior high, Central junior, Lindley junior, and Gillespie Park junior meeting of secondary school principals in Chapel Hill, Saturday, October 12.

President to Speak

G.H.S. Band to Play At Asheville Game

Parade Prior to Game; 3 Concerts Scheduled; To Return via Lenoir

To hold their own in the pre-gam parade and to play at the football meet at Asheville, the G. H. S. band will embark for that city Friday morning, November 1, for the first out-

morning, November 1, for the first outof-town game for which the local band has played this season.

Having received three invitations to perform in the "land of the sky," the band will play at the junior high school at 1:30 p. m. and at the senior high school at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Following rehearsals with the Asheville band Saturday morning, the two groups will give a public concert two groups will give a public concert in the city auditorium Saturday after-

Band to Tour Lenoir Band Roo

Immediately after this performance the musical group will begin its journey home, via Lenoir, where the members will give a concert in the high school Saturday night. The Lenoir hand director invited the local musical division to play there as a friendly gesture and to provide the local group with an opportunity to see the famous band building there.

Four City Principals Attend Meeting at Chapel Hill

Theme of 'Freedom With Responsibility' Choice of Committee

November 18 Selected As Date for Conference; Group Titles Announced

Highlight of the program for the ninth annual Social Standards confer-ence, to be observed November 18, will be the keynote address by Dr. Frank Porter Graham, president of the Greater University of North Carolina.

Theme Is Selected

select Striving to select a subject that would arouse the interest of the student body and that would carry on the thought of former conferences, the Social Standards committee, chose "Freedom with Responsipility" as the topic for the day. Lecturing for the first time on a Social Standards program. In Graham will hope the table first time on a Social Standards program, Dr. Graham will base his talk on this theme. The group felt that this theme would be very appropriate, since it is very closely related to "Together We Live" and "The World We Want," the themes of the 1938 and 1939 conferences.

Committee Most Fortunate

"The committee members considers themselves very fortunate in securing such an outstanding figure as Dr. Gra-ham to deliver the keynote address," stated Billy Brinkley, conference chairman, when he received Dr. Graham's letter of acceptance.

We feel that this will add a great deal to the success of the 1940 con-ference," he added.

Miller Plans Lunch Period

Recreation

While the committee in general works on the detailed schedule for the day, Paul Miller is busy laboring over the entertainment for the lunch periods. Plans are underway for many different activities during this time

(Continued on Page Eight)

Playlikers to Present 'The Warrior's Husband'

The Warrior's Husband will be the first production of the year of the Playlikers, dramatic students organiza-tion of W. C. U. N. C., at Aycock auditorium tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

The play, a comedy by Julian Thompson, which tells of a mythical land where women rule and men stay at home and do the housework, is directed by Mrs. Poster Fitz-Simmons. She is assisted by several students, Oleen Norman, Clara Roesch, and Jean Church in designing costumes and sets and arranging the music.

Student Actresses

Student Actresses
Among the college students who will have leading parts are Ann Pitomiak. Petic Roberts, Mary Frances Cox, and Phyllis Barker. The Warrior's Husband is the first of five plays to be presented by the Playlikers during the 1940-41 season.

Despite the fact that only male teachers between the ages of 21 and 35 may give their immediate help, there are many ways in which the remain-

Announcing the programs of the address is to be followed by an oper

Announcing the programs of the Greensboro civic forum for the next three meetings, Miss Charlotte Van Noppen, program chairman, revealed today that Miss Alice Pope of Aycock school is scheduled to lead a discussion on the topic, "Our Present Economic Inequalities," at the regular meeting to be held at the Guilford county courthouse Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Other programs announced by Miss Van Noppen include a discussion on "Religion and the Present Crisis" to be led by Reverend J. K. Roberts, Jr., of the First Preshyterian church, on November 11; and a talk by Dr. A. Lang, a former citizen of Vienna, Austria, on "America As I See It." The