

Home-Coming Day To Feature Musicales; Reunions To Be Held

Thornton, Smith Formulate
Plans for Annual Affair;
Routh to Make Roll Call

Ann Thornton, chairman of the Alumni committee, with the assistance of Mrs. Blanche Smith, adviser, is busily at work completing plans for the annual Senior high school Home-Coming day which will be observed January 2. The feature of the day will be the chapel program at third period.

Although it is not yet definite, the program will include a brief greeting by a former principal, musical selections by former students, and roll call of classes, starting with 1920, by Principal A. P. Routh, on the stage.

Invitations Sent to Presidents

Letters have been sent to the everlasting class presidents of the last four years, inviting them to attend the program, and the committee, assisted by Torchlight members, will also call as many past students as possible.

While the main attraction will be the chapel period, this will not be the only activity of the day. In the letters mailed to the class presidents, it was suggested that either a class reunion breakfast or luncheon be held. Also special tables will be reserved in the cafeteria for the respective classes. The alumni will register in a book, made by Miss Henriett Lee, in which they will record information concerning their present work.

Home-coming day was inaugurated several years ago when it was found that colleges opened a few days later than high school, and so gave an opportunity for the alumni to visit the alma mater. However, because of the delay in opening school last year during the snow, Home-coming day was not observed.

Children's Crusade Nets Approximately $140,000

Approximately $140,000 was secured for needy children in war-torn areas during the ten day children's crusade held last April in the public schools of America to raise funds for this cause, according to a letter received by HIGH LIFE from Dorothy Canfield Fisher, distinguished American novelist, this week.

The committee in charge was enabled by generous efforts of Al Smith, who supplied the necessary officials to distribute the funds, several philanthropists, who payed postage and shipping bills; and the Can Manufacturers' institute, which gave the needed cause— to send all the money collected abroad.

Because, at the beginning of the rainy season, sickness causes the deaths of large numbers of people, China was the first country to which the Jury of Awards gave money.

Twenty-two thousand, five hundred dollars was also donated to France; Poland and England received like amounts.

Author Speaks to English Class on Her New Novel

Mrs. Eula Duncan, southern writer, spoke before Miss Cathleen Pike's first period English class last week on her new book, Big Road Walker, a description story of southern negro life. Mrs. Duncan told of her interesting experience in getting information for her book. Her inspiration for the dialect was supplied by her sister's colored cook, Alice.

MARY AND HERALD ANGEL

Janet Cox, herald, and Zoy Anton as Mary, mother of Christ, are pictured in a scene from the Christmas pageant.—(Staff Photo by PURNELL KENNEDY.)

Ella Lee Taylor Reveals Faculty Holiday Addresses

With Christmas holidays just around the corner everyone is rushing about trying to get the addresses of his teachers in order that he may greet them with a Christmas card. To save both the students and the pedagogues a great deal of trouble HIGH LIFE is publishing, by popular demand, a complete list of teachers Christmas addresses.

Addresses Given

Listed below are the addresses of the faculty from December 19, until January 2:

A. P. Routh, 1312 Fairmont St., City; Miss Elizabeth Harvell, Box 683, Weldon, N. C.; Miss Ella Lee Taylor, 313 Jackson St., Roanoke Rapids, N. C.; Miss Agnes Wren, 410 E. Duval St., Lake City, Fla.; Mrs. Grace R. Alton, Box 1344, City; Mrs. Emma S. Avery, 311 S. Mendenhall St., City; Mrs. John Betts, 807 S. McDuffie St., Anderson, S. C.; Mrs. Nellie Blackburn, 2304 Lawndale Dr., City.

To Be in New York

Miss Mary Ellen Blackmon, 340 Marlborough Rd., Brooklyn, N. Y.; Miss Snowe Bradley, 1233 W. Franklin Ave., Gastonia, N. C.; Mrs. Carrie Braswell, 307 Tate St., City; E. Raymond Brietz, 206 Adams St., City; Miss Lottie Burnside, McLeansville, N. C.; Miss Amy Caldwell, 521 Stirling St., City; Miss Mozelle Causey, 634 Ashboro St., City; T. James Crawford, 7020 Mt. Vernon St., Pittsburgh, Pa.; James C. Day, 1120 N. Wood St., City; Glenn E. Deason, Carbondale, Ill.; Miss Gertrude Farlow, Guilford College, N. C.; Mrs. Christine Florence, 404 N. Mendenhall St., City; Miss Ann C. Harbison, Shelby, N. C.; Miss Emily Harris, 510 Country Club Dr., City; Herbert R. Hazelman, 104 Virginia Ave., Asheville, N. C.; Herbert Hucks, Jr., Pinopolis, S. C.; Miss Frances Humphrey, 209 Lindell Rd., City; Miss Doris Hutchinson, 1824 Ewing Ave., Charlotte, N. C.

R. B. Jamieson, Box 545, City, or Blainestown, N. J.; J. Stanley Johnson,

Friendly Rd., City; Miss Henri Etta Lee, O. Henry Hotel, City; Mrs. Estelle LeGwin, 500 Lake Drive, City; Miss Sarah Lesley, Lake Junaluska, N. C.; Vance T. Littlejohn, 209 Harrison Ave., Jeannette, Pa.; Miss Agnes McDonald, 8 A Oak Court, City; Miss Dorothy McNairy, Rt. No. 2, Box 211, City; Miss Sara Mims, 404 Walker Ave., City; Miss Estelle Mitchell, Rt.

(Continued on Page Three)

School Faculty to Fete Rouhs at Bridge Party

To honor A. P. Routh, principal of Senior high school, and his wife, Mrs. Routh, the faculty of the school will entertain at a bridge party tonight at 8 p. m. at Mrs. Herbert Cartland's tea room on Leftwich street.

The party will be a formal one, but Miss Mozelle Causey, president of the faculty club, was not at liberty to discuss other information regarding the affair which, it is said, will feature a surprise or two, at the time HIGH LIFE went to press.

Journalism Class Journeys Through Daily News Plant

To get an idea of what goes on behind the scenes in a daily paper, the journalism one class journeyed to the Greensboro Daily News plant Tuesday, sixth period, according to Dianne Page, the class chairman. Mrs. James O. Crawford, switchboard operator there, conducted the students on their tour through the building.

After visiting many places of interest such as the circulation department, linotype room, engravers, and press room, the students went down to the Greensboro historical museum to see the Indian exhibit being shown there.

Senior Class to Present Christmas Pageant Dec. 18

New Registration Card Now Being Prepared

"Although a definite date has not yet been set for filling out proposed schedule cards, registration blanks for next semester are now being prepared," announced Miss Lily Walker, keeper of the records yesterday.

She also added that it would be wise for all students to "take stock" of their credits and begin planning their schedules accordingly. "Also," she continued, "it might interest the students to know that it takes an average of at least seven hours on the part of the faculty advisers to prepare each of these cards."

District Tournament For Practice Debating Set for December 14

Schools from Other Cities
To Enter Saturday Meet;
States Chairman Causey

Debating the query "Resolved: That the United States should adopt a policy of requiring one year of military training of all able bodied men before they reach the age of 23," the first district forensic tournament will be held Saturday, December 14, at Greensboro high school, announced Miss Mozelle Causey, acting chairman for the event, last night.

This meet, held only for practice purposes, will provide however for real debating experience with critic judges, who will be secured from Guilford, Greensboro, and Woman's colleges. Although it will prepare the teams for the state debate, the organization's real purpose is to promote increased forensic activities among high school students.

Hour for Each Debate

Rules include provision of an hour for each debate, giving 15 minutes to each speaker, not more than 10 of which shall be used in the main talk. The remaining 15 minutes will be utilized by the critic judge. To members of teams winning all four rounds, certificates of honor will be presented, while honorable mention will be given to teams winning three of the rounds.

Schools to Participate

Each school in the district may enter any number of teams, but only the following groups have indicated acceptance of the invitation and stated

(Continued on Page Seven)

Quartet to Sing Carols Over Local Radio Station

The high school quartet composed of Annie Laurie Bennett, Doris Osborne, Jack Smith, and Adin Gibbs, will sing Christmas carols each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoon over the local radio station, WRIG. Their programs will begin at 4:15 and end at 4:30.

The group will sing from Ebird's department store, sponsor for the programs. Not only is the music presented to the public by radio, but it is amplified and carried to the street by a public address system.

Musicians Give Brietz Credit

"Give Mr. Raymond Brietz, our G. H. S. music instructor, credit for our good luck," Annie Laurie Bennett pointed out yesterday, "as we received the job through his work in the music department."

Hipp, Page, Readers; Anton to Depict Mary; Myrick to Play Joseph

"The senior class will present its annual Christmas pageant Wednesday, December 18, as the last event of the day before the holidays begin," announced Mrs. Nellie Blackburn, production adviser, who, with the aid of Jane Eller, student chairman, has planned the program. This year there will be two readers, Dianne Page and Martha Hipp, instead of the usual one.

Zoy Anton will portray the part of Mary; Albert Myrick will enact the character, Joseph; and Janet Cox will have the role of chief angel. Among the innovations this year will be the use of two readers, in place of the customary one. These parts will be taken by Dianne Page and Martha Hipp.

Other Characters Chosen

Other characters will be ladies with water jugs, Martha Lowry, Evelyn Glass, and Marian McPherson; Mary's mother, Sara Armstrong; soldiers, Bobby Beane and Bill Hodgin; rich man, Jean Yache, his attendants, Leo Rouche and Clark Foster; inn keeper, Bayard Whitehurst; wife, Elaine Willer; beggar, David Brady; wise men, James Patton, Garland Gentry, and Sam Poole; Herod, John Pleasants; and children, Barbara Jamieson and two Johnson boys, sons of Stanley Johnson.

Twenty-Five Angels Named

The girls portraying the 25 angels will be Frances Heath, Miriam Young, Pat Fordham, Eva Travis, Henriette Mangot, Peggy O'Connell, Rose Hoelderfield, Aurelia Dunstan, Frances Winslow, Dale Warmath, Laveta Melts, Jean Shinn, Irma Estes, Ruby Meacham, Margaret Stark, Clarice Crutchfield, Ruth Winterling, Charlotte Hume, Della Mae Trotter, Virginia Vestal, Arleen Whitener, Ella Mae Norman, Mary Scott, Sara Daly,

(Continued on Page Eight)

Refugee's Clothing Made By Home Ec Students

The outstretched, pleading arms of war-torn Europe's refugees have found would-be angels of mercy in the form of Miss Snowe Bradley's home ec students. Not to be outdone by the Red Cross sweaters, and Bundles for Britain which have been prepared by other G. H. S.'ers, they are in the process of completing approximately 25 children's-size dresses.

"We can't be prejudiced," declared Eva Bosles, would-be seamstress. "Therefore all are the same size, same material, and same style!" Thus, made from Red Cross contributed burgundy wool material all the dresses have plain straight sleeves, gored skirts, and all are made entirely without pockets.

History Class Hears Greensboro Attorney

"The most unique factor in our government is our system of checks and balances. Unchecked power is un-American," declared Robert Frazier, Greensboro attorney, when he spoke to F. E. Thomas' history 6 class last week on the subject of the development of the constitution.

The speaker, introduced to the class by Miriam Young, program chairman, also stated in his address, "There are only two types of government in the world, one of laws and one of men. Ours is a government of laws, not of men."