CUPID'S CARAVAN

Margaret Ray Bilyeu, a former student of Senior high and a junior at Woman's college, was married to Sgt. James William Gardano, of BTC 10 and Buffalo, N. Y., last Friday afternoon at one of the BTC chapels. She is the daughter of Henry Perrine Belyeu, 1506 Grove street, and will continue her work at W. C., where she has been active in the Playlikers. Congratulations, Sgt. and Mrs. Gargano!

Invitations were issued last week to the wedding of Catherine Vincent Taylor, a former Senior high student, and Pvt. John Frazier Dickson, of BTC 10 and Nek Castle, Pa. Their engagement was announced Sunday, March 12, and the wedding date has been set for Thursday, March 30. We'd like to wish these two the very best of luck.

Miss Dorothy Marie Anderson and Sgt. William H. Andrus were married last Thursday, March 16, at St. Andrew's Episcopal church. The bride, a graduate of Greensboro high school, is now with her husband in Williamsport, Pa., for two weeks, after which they will return to Greensboro for the duration of the Sergeant's assignment at BTC 10. Happy landings, you two!

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen G. Conrad announced the engagement of their youngest daughter, Mildred Todd, and Lt. Eugene R. Kenney, III, stationed by the army air forces at BTC 10. The wedding will be an 8 o'clock ceremony at Presbyterian Church of the Covenant Saturday evening, April 1. High Life extends happiness and luck to this couple.

Miss Claire Hyman was married to Irvin Blumenthal, senior in the school of medicine of the University of Georgia, under the Army specialized training program, last Wednesday in Augusta, Georgia.

Recently a series of parties have been given for Alyne Roseberry, who was married last Saturday in Tampa, Fla., to Lt. Rozelle Kennedy, army air corps and Danville, Va.

By the way, did you happen to catch a glimpse of Johnny McAlister and Rene Burtner, home for a few days' visit after receiving their commissions in Marianna, Florida? As second lieutenants, they surely did look good wearing their bars and silver wings.

Bill Holt received a letter from Red Adams, who is now in Montevideo, Uruguay.

Elma Sellars and Bill Johnson took part in the mathematics contest which was given March 17. Tests on arithmetic, algebra and plane geometry were included in the contest.

Today the French contest which is being given covers vocabulary, the conjugation of several representative verbs, the composition of French sentences illustrating different grammatical points as well as a reading test.

On March 31 the high school Latin contest will be held. An ability to translate passages of comparatively easy Latin, including questions on form and syntax based on such passages and questions involving a general knowledge of grammar will be required of those who take this examination.

Dr. Polgar Lectures At W.C.; Local Student Hypnotized

In a lecture at Aycock auditorium, Woman's college, Wednesday, March 15, Dr. Franz J. Polgar hypnotized 16 people, among them Jimmy Huffine of Senior high.

"He just had us make our minds blank and he looked into our eyes," Huffine said. "Then he counted to three, snapped his fingers, and tapped us on the forehead." That was all as far as the victims were concerned—they passed out, insensible.

Dr. Polgar was born in Austria and for a while was a professor at the University of Budapest. He is now on a lecture tour of the United States. His performance at the college was through the efforts of the college lecture program which brings the best in educational entertainment to Greensboro each year.

In his local appearance, Dr. Polgar amazed his audience with feats of telepathy, uncanny memory, and hypnotism. The lecture with the demonstrations lasted approximately two hours.

Supt. Smith Speaks To Future Teachers

B. L. Smith, superintendent of city schools, spoke recently at a program of the Braxton Craven chapter, Future Teachers of America, of Greensboro college. Drawbacks and opportunities in the field of teaching were pointed out by Superintendent Smith.

Begonia Causes Sensation

Librarian Goes in for Nature

Apparently celebrating the advent of spring is the "Rat Tail Begonia" (we think it is a rat tail) now in bloom in the library. Mrs. Hall, when asked of its history, explained that the Begonia belongs to Miss Lily Walker, of the math department, who asked her to take care of the specimen during the winter.

For those of a scientific or historical inclination, the whole begonia family was named after Michel Bigon (1638-1710), one time governor of Santo Domingo.

The scholarship, which covers the tuition, is worth $500. Students who are applying for it should offer the Scholastic aptitude test and the achievement test given by the College Entrance Examination Board on April 15, 1944.

$15,000 Set As Goal For Council's Second War Bond Campaign

Having set a goal of $15,000, student council members will open a second war bond drive on April 18. Originally planned for this week, the drive was moved to this later time because assembly program dates were filled up to that Tuesday in April. A student assembly will open sales for the campaign although the program has not been revealed.

If Senior high students exceed the goal, a Fairchild AT-15 will be purchased with the bond money raised. An intensive campaign will be held in each homeroom, as council representatives lead the students. Charts and posters again will be installed in the session rooms to boost buying.

During the past weeks, Chairman Bill Bogart and his group have been working out further plans for this project which will close approximately May 2. The complete committee with Bogart includes Joe Albright, Gertrude Archer, Billie McNeely, Allene Parks, Irwin Smallwood, Pete Miller, Betsy John Hurley, Howard Morris and Margaret Rhudy. These volunteered their services at the March 13 meeting.

Supply shop sales will be handled in the mornings by Gertrude Archer and Billie McNeely. They kept records in the December drive which brought $12,601 in cash value of bonds.

Geometric Figures Displayed In Library Showcases

To make concrete abstract problems, Miss Lily Walker's solid geometry class has constructed various figures to illustrate the basic theorems. These figures are displayed in the showcase of the library.

Goodrich Thiel chose five convex polyhedrons for construction, while Tom Allred, Roy Hepler, Jimmy Truitt, Frank Jenkins, Louise Morton, and Pete Miller selected the three remaining theorems for their construction.
