Job Training Students Successful in Work

Employers have often been quoted as saying, "I would much rather have a student who graduates from Greensboro high school with the type of training given there in the job training program, than one who simply starts in after school without any previous training."

This preference has been proved in a recent survey in which it was found that 96% of the students were still in the same job at higher wages a year after they left school. Of these, 41 per cent were girls and 55 per cent were boys. Majority of the girls who quit their jobs resigned because of marriage. Most of the boys left either for better jobs or further education or to go into the Army.

One senior girl has been particularly successful in her job. When she first started in the Art Shop, it was as a sales girl and to help with film development. Now she is in charge of all the film developing and is working toward assistant manager in the shop.

Another instance is the case of two boys who first started work in the National Theater as ushers, and who are now part of the manager training program.

Brotherhood Week To Be Observed

Throughout the nation during the week of February 16-23 public schools along with many other organizations will celebrate the fourteenth annual observance of American Brotherhood Week which is sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Honorary chairman of the 1947 celebration is President Harry Truman. John G. Winant will act as General Chairman and will be assisted by senators, representatives, mayors, school officials, student leaders, and hundreds of prominent Americans in the business and entertainment fields.

General Chairman Winant has acknowledged public school activities by saying, "It gives me the greatest pleasure to know that the students of our country are giving such support to Brotherhood Week and to the principles of good will toward each other. The future of our country and indeed of the whole world depends on our young people and their dedication to these ideals."

The theme of Brotherhood Week, which is celebrated annually during the period of the birthdays of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, is "Brotherhood—Pattern for Peace."

Seniors To Compete In Pepsi-Cola Test On Friday, Feb. 14

At recent home room meetings, seniors from Greensboro Senior high school were honored by fellow students when elected to compete with seniors from other high schools throughout the United States and territories for the 121 four-year college scholarships and more than 600 fifty-dollar certificates of merit being offered again this year by the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board.

Chosen from among the 400 seniors as the students "most likely to make important contributions to human progress," these outstanding boys and girls will try with other North Carolina high school seniors for the scholarships and certificates of merit which are set aside specifically for this state. They are: from homeroom 200—Margaret Alston, Peggy Bentley, Earl Betts, Dick Armfield, Jim Alexander; from 203—Beverly Sturgeon, Frank Tutzauer, Gerald Thomas, Bert Smith, Charlie Strong; 302—H. C. Fordham, Jim Finch, Martha Graves; 303—Nancy Burton, Julian Culton, Roy Clemmons, Ed Coble; 313—Helen Mae Sarles, Mary Reynolds, Herbert Sims; 317—Abe Jones, Dick Kelly, and Martha Nell Keith. The quota to take this test is set at 20, although 23 names are on the list. Of these, three will be eliminated by a means not yet decided upon.

At 9 a.m. next Friday, February 14, candidates will take a special aptitude test which has been especially prepared for this competition by the College Entrance Examination Board, an independent testing board composed of representatives of America's largest colleges and universities.

According to Miss Lucille Browne, every precaution has been taken by the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board to insure the uniform testing necessary for complete fairness to all candidates throughout the country. The tests will arrive at Miss Browne's office in a sealed package and are not to be opened until the day of the examination and then only in the presence of the candidates. Detailed instructions for the testing procedures will be enclosed, and, according to Principal A. P. Routh, two faculty members must be present during the entire two-hour testing period, these faculty members being thoroughly familiar with each step. Immediately following the examination, the papers will be collected, placed in an envelope provided for that purpose, and sent at once for scoring to the College Entrance Examination Board.

75 Students Given Tests Determining Suitable Vocations

Mrs. Margaret Foust, local representative from the United States Government Employment Office, in cooperation with the coordinators of the Diversified Occupations and Distributive Education departments at Senior High, gave aptitude tests to approximately 75 seniors last Tuesday. These tests were available to any senior interested in securing a permanent job after graduation in June.

In order that students be placed on jobs for which they are best suited and will be most successful, the results of these tests will be calculated and used for the advantage of the people taking them. These general aptitude tests will show the students' ability in certain lines, such as secretarial, nursing, journalistic, personnel, and many others. All seniors wanting permanent employment after graduation in June should see Miss Lucille Browne in order that certain information concerning grades, abilities, interests, and needs of the particular students be on file. This information should be turned in soon, as it will be helpful to the many graduates.

During the spring months, Mrs. Foust and the coordinators of D.O. and D.E., Miss Frances Sowell, Mrs. Grace Wilson, and Miss Lucille Browne will make a survey of business needs of all local employers. Later, with the results of the aptitude tests and individual interests on file, graduates will be given an opportunity to interview prospective employers.

Since the local employers offer to students such a variety of vocations and opportunities in the world of business, individuality will count a great deal. All possible efforts are being made by the D.O. and D.E. coordinators to aid the students in finding successful jobs.

Council Appoints 3 New Members

Tentative dates for a number of events to occur during the year have recently been set up by the Student Council. Close competitors for the honor of being the most active month will be April and May.

With April comes Alumni Day on the first, or March 31. April 11th will bring both Flag Day and Senior High's spring dance, closely followed by clean-up-day on the 17th. Beginning on April 29, and continued on May 6 and 13th will be the elections for next year's officers. Of course, such important affairs as Exams, Junior-Senior Prom, Class Day, and Graduation will also occur toward the last of the month. The dates for a number of minor events still remain to be set.

New Representatives

Recently appointed to the council to represent the sophomore class were Joslin Chamberlain, Richard Clemmons, and Sue Ellen Baxter. These representatives replaced Imogene Apple, Theona Pierce, and Martha Everett, all of whom did not return to council at the beginning of the second semester, due to schedule difficulties.

Profits of the council from the musical revue, "Foolish Fantasies," presented by the choir last December 8, amounted to $62.87, which was one third of the total returns.

Arrangements have been made to have photographs of the present council taken and mounted, a custom which will be carried on by future councils to form a record of Senior High's student governments.

Recreation rooms are to be reopened as soon as the numerous repairs necessary are made. Students have been requested to handle the equipment with care.
