Support the Magazine Campaign

From the Gate City of the South and the Birthplace of O. Henry

Cheer for The Team Tonight

VOLUME XXIV

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL, GREENSBORO, N. C., OCTOBER 31, 1947

NUMBER 4

Stadium Is Fast Becoming Reality

Edgar Ansel Mowrer, Pulitzer prize-winning correspondent, is shown being interviewed by Don Hardison, High Life Staff reporter. Mr. Mowrer spoke on "The Chances of World Government" at Woman's College on Friday, October 17, during the state-wide World Federalist convention held there.

Correspondent Sees Need Tomorrow Night For World Government

By Donald Hardson
The United World Federalists of North Carolina held their first state convention at Woman's college the week end of October 17 and 18. John McNeil Smith, Jr., a local attorney and member of the World Federalists group, acted as executive director and presided over all meetings.

Among the severa distinguished beakers at the Convention was speakers at the Convention was Edgar Ansel Mowrer, Pulitzer Prize

Speakers at the Convention was Edgar Ansel Mowrer, Pulitzer Prize winning correspondent, who stated in an interview that chances of organizing a limited world government are about 50 to 50, and that the main hindrance lies in the fact that Americans are not willing to sacrifice their national soverguity for an international government. When asked how the American student could participate in the campaigning for a United World government program Mr. Mowrer replied: "Actulally, the student can take no directly active part in instituting such a program. But, and I hasten to add, the student should be familliarized with the actual political conditions which do exist in the world today. And also, he should see the dire need for some means by which war and other such forms of aggression could be completely in the second one in high school mathematics. In order that there be thorough know-what-so-ever in the United States. For instance, no Congress, no President, no mayor; well, that is exactly the state of affairs in the World today. The present veto-ridden (Continued on Page Eight)

y. The present veto-ridden (Continued on Page Eight)

Band Directors Review G. H. S. Music Makers

Annual Fall clinic of the North Carolina Music Educators association, sponsored by Womans' college in connection with the state music contest last week at the college. The meeting was attended by instructors in the band, orchestra, and vocal fields.

On Monday afternoon of last week, the band directors attended a marching demonstration put on by the senior high school band. Under the direction of Mr. George T. Bennett, a native of Augusta, Georgia, and an authority on marching, methods of executing counter marches were demonstrated by the band. From fifty to sixty directors from all over the state were present.

Mr. Herbert Hazelman, director of the senior high band and also president of the North Carolina Bandmasters' association, has ansounced that a meeting will be held in Charlotte in the near future to select the music for the state band contests to be held here in the

Superintendent Cites

Admission

High School graduation is granted upon the successful completion of sixteen units of credit; including four in English, one in natural science, one in social science (American history and government), and one in high school mathematics. In order that there be thorough knowledge of some particular fields, one is required to have in addition to English, at least eight units of credit in not more than four subject fields. The choice of subjects is left to you with the counsel of your principal and teachers, and with the approval of your parents.

High School graduation does not or your parents.

High School graduation does not guarantee college admission in a particular institution of higher learning. College admission requirements vary from institution to institution, depending upon whether it (Continued on Page Seven)

Parade To Highlight Activities for Game

Taking the form of a pep rally before the High Point football game Friday, November 7, will be a parade jointly sponsored by the Senior high cheerleading squad and the student council.

Starting from the Carolina theater, the parade will proceed to the south end of Elm Street near the traffic circle, and then advance down Elm to the O. Henry hotel where is will turn and terminate near the fire station.

In announcing the event Pat Anderson, head cheerleader, ask-ed that all students who are able to do so decorate their auto-mobiles and take part in the parade, which will be led by the school band followed by several displays.

Masquerade Is

Scheduled for the Youth Center tomorrow night is a Masquerade beginning at 8:30 with music furnished by Clyde Watson and his orchestra. In the customary Hallowe'en fashion, it will feature costumes of all sorts, fortune telling, a tunnel of horror, and other traditional Hallowe'en activities. Costumes are not required, but everyone should have a mask. A prize will be offered for the best costume, which will be judged on originality and effectiveness. They may be as simple or elaborate as desired.

At intermission a skit, "The Ghost Hunters," will be presented by members of the Youth Center dramatics club, under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Mashburn.

The Senior High Recreation Committee, headed by Carrie Chamberlain, has been working in close cooperation with Miss Katherine Monsees, program director, and the Youth Council's recreation committee, of which Julia Anne Doggett is chaiman. The high school committee is in charge of decorations and special departments, such as the tunnel of horror and the fortune tellers.

Stock To Be Issued By Group of Citizens

Greensboro high school's long lived and well preserved dream of completing the athletic stadium on its campus was transformed into reality at the meeting of the city school board Wednesday, October 22, when a proposal that a group of local citizens to be known as the Stadium Corporation complete the stadium and in turn sublease it to the school board of the Senior High School Athletic association was presented by W. H. Holderness and accepted by the board subject to the approval of the board's attorney.

Among the students making honor roll were 25 on special and 205 on the regular honor roll for first six roll were 25 on special and the regular honor roll for first six weeks.

Making special honor roll were six sophomores, ten juniors, and nine seniors, as follows: Sophomores—From Room 6: Jeanne Martin; Room 302: David Bradley, Edwin Boyd, Ronald Britt; Room 305: Sue Purdon; Room 313: Frank Hough; Juniors—Room 4: Julia Ann Doggett; Room 7: Bobby Michael; Room 8: Barbara Oakley, Oscar Paris; Room 10: Sidney Smith, Jackie Stafford; Room 15: Mildred Hedrick; Room 24: Delores Whisonant; Room 100: Lois Rosecrans, Billy Sarles; Seniors—Room 12: Jim Murray: Room 14: Zack Plephoff, Betty Pearl; Room 16: Betsy Smith, Nancy Smith; Room 20: Bill Ledford; Room 203: Roger Gibbs, Bill Hooke; Room 300: Glenna DeWitt. On regular honor roll, were 75 seniors, 77 juniors, and 53 sophomores:

seniors, 77 juniors, and 66 soptemores.

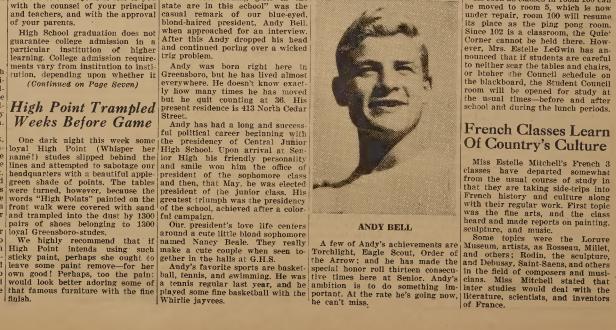

Room 1: Jean Marjorie Scott,
Mary Blair Smith, Donald Southern.
Room 2: Carole Williams.
Room 23: Edith Trosper, Fred
Upchurch, Bert Wade, Carole Turner, Dorothy Vuncannon.
Room 25: Betty Talbert.
Room 27: Anna Larsen, Burt
Keister, Barbara Kearns, Sue King,
Marie Jennings.
Room 206: Hope Brown, Sue Bull,
Lining Burnet, Joan Butler, Mary
Catherine Clymer.
Room 301: Gilbert Murray, Mabel
Ruth Nease, Bobbie Jean Oldham,
Paul Osborne.
Room 302: Nancy Benson, Peg
Bowman, Barbara Blaylock, Keith
Rowman, J. W. Bolejack, Carolyn
Birgel.

(Continued on Page Six)

Portrait of the President Shows Divided Personalities

"The best looking girls in the state are in this school" was the casual remark of our blue-eyed, blond-haired president, Andy Bell, when approached for an interview. After this Andy dropped his head and continued poring over a wicked trig problem.

Andy was horn right hore in the approval of the board's attorney.

The horseshoe-shaped stadium, located on the northwestern end of the school campus was begun in 1943 and scheduled to be completed during the summer of 1946. The school board invested $40,000 for the excavation and turfing of the field, but the lack of sufficient funds for the construction of the concrete stands and other features of the stadium has delayed completion. Bestimates of the amount needed to finish the structure range from $125,000 to $150,000.

To Issue Stock

000 to $150,000.

To Issue Stock
Nonprofit stock will be issued to local athletic and civic minded citizens by the corporation in order to finance the project. Holderness stressed the fact that the corporation had no other aim than to complete the stadium and retire the stock.

That the stadium be dedicated to the Senior high boys who were slain (Continued on Page Four)

'Jive Joint' Is Slated To Be Reopened Soon

"Jive Joint," recreation room for dancing and lounging which has been closed during the first few weeks of school, will be reopened with many improvements soon. The delayed arrival of a new nickelodeon has held up things, but it is expected to arrive within a few days. Carrie Chamberlain and Clyde Collins are co-chairman of the recreation committee, which is in charge of the room.

The vocational woodworking class is making benches to be used in the room, and Carrie Chamberlain is painting a mural depicting recreational scenes around the top of the room.

tional scenes around the top of the room.

A new autograph bulletin board is being set up, with separate sections provided for the autographs of both students and alumni.

As soon as classes in room 100 can be moved to room 5, which is now under repair, room 100 will resume its place as the ping pong room. Since 102 is a classroom, the Quiet Corner cannot be held there. However, Mrs. Estelle LeGwin has announced that if students are careful to neither sear the tables and chairs, or btoher the Council schedule on the blackboard, the Student Council room will be opened for study at the usual times—before and after school and during the lunch periods.