EXCHANGETTE

By JOAN KLEIN

"If you are not satisfied when your report card is presented to you, you should buckle down now and work for the information that gets good grades.

"Of course, everyone can't make all A's, but everyone can do his best whether it is a low or high grade. You have to consider that everyone doesn't have the same ability so the person who is good in school work may not do so well in manual work and vice-versa. The grade is not nearly as important as what you learn.

"Many older people have regretted that they didn't do their best in high school for they find themselves handicapped in the business world. No one wants to waste four years of his life by just loafing. Life is too short for that. People with a purpose always keep up with their work and do even more.

"There are four more months of school left this year in which you can either rise or fall. You can waste a whole year by loafing four months or, if you have done nothing so far, you might be able to save a year by working hard this term. The students with a goal have worked hard this term. The students with a goal have worked all along this year and will continue to do so.

"You are at the halfway mark of this year; decide now whether you'll waste it or make it useful. It's up to you to decide now, for later will be too late."

C., held the first of these classes last Wednesday night. A fee of about $50 for the entire course will be charged to all persons who are not Y-Teens. Miss Lorraine Ridenhour, Y-Teen program director, has further information for interested persons and can be contacted at the YWCA.

Girls, ELLIS-STONE'S has SO many cute and fashionable outfits that it's a real problem to decide which one to start with. First, let's talk about coats—Easter coats, that is. If you prefer white, then this coat is just for you. The lining is of white crepe and the full swinging back is in the latest fashion trend. Gold buttons on patch pockets provide the finishing touches to this beautiful coat.

Maybe your favorite color is blue. Then, of course, this light blue coat will be sure to make a hit with you. Only $35, this coat has a swagger back, round yoke, full sleeves, and inset pockets. Wonder how Georgia Katsikas would look in this creation. (Bet she would look very pretty; don't you think so?)

Everyone seems to be afflicted with "petticoat fever"—plaid or solid color taffeta petticoats and petticoats with ruffles, tiny bows, or ribbons drawn through the ruffle. One of the cutest is this $4.95 half-slip. A wide eyelet embroidery ruffle and two tiny blue ribbons provide the novelty effect. Jean Thacker, how about modeling this creation with one of your ballerina skirts?

It certainly is a consolation in this ghastly weather to know that 'Ol' Man Winter will soon be making his exit. Yes, spring isn't so very far off, so you'd better start buying for that new wardrobe. At ELLIS-STONE'S you can find the very latest in spring and summer attire. If you want something original as well as figure flattering, then this $25 Sun-Seeker creation is just the thing you're looking for. A scalloped ruffle goes all the way around the neck and each scallop has a tiny daisy in the center. The scallop also forms the sleeves. Big, plastic novelty safety pins on either side of the neck make this a most unusual dress. The color is battleship grey or gunmetal. Margaret Osborne would really look cute in this. Congratulations upon winning the "Miss Front Page" contest, Margaret!

Do you need a new blouse (and who doesn't)? A plaid of blue, black, lavender, and white is the color of this $5.95 blouse. Long sleeves, wide cuffs, and a white pique collar with a ruffle of the same plaid complete the picture of this charming blouse. Why not take a look at the next time you're near ELLIS-STONE'S? Or maybe you'd like a solid color blouse better, such as this one available in blue, tan, pink, and light aqua. It has a round Peter Pan collar, long sleeves, and wide cuffs. Three rows of shirred ruffle surround either side, and novelty buttons with a tiny red set in the center go down to the waist.

Peplums are going to be the style again this summer. This two-piece has a pleated peplum. For accent the deep cuffs on three-quarter length sleeves are striped. Also you have a choice of color schemes—grey skirt with grey top and grey and white striped peplum or blue skirt with blue top and blue and white striped peplum.

Remember, girls, at ELLIS-STONE'S you can find the very latest in the Easter style parade. (Adv.)
