Mrs. Thomas Love Heads Kindergarten At Greensboro Senior High School

"It is something I have always liked to do," was the answer given by Mrs. Thomas J. Love when the HIGH LIFE reporter asked why she became the kindergarten teacher. Greensboro is not the only place Mrs. Love has taught as kindergarten teacher; there has been New York, Kentucky, and also private schools. Mrs. Love also stated that she thought children of the ages she is now in charge of are the most interesting ones. In her own family there are two grown children and one teen-age girl. After a morning at the kindergarten, Mrs. Love has many hobbies which she exercises. She writes books for children and also illustrates the stories. Sewing is another of Mrs. Love's interest.

To give a little information of how a morning at the kindergarten runs we will give a brief schedule of the daily activities.

The children arrive between 8:30 and 9 o'clock. On arriving they are checked by the Nurse to see that none are sick. After this they go to the room and look at books. At 9 o'clock the children have a conversational period. From 9:15 to 10 o'clock there is a period called the work period; at this time they paint, color, build with blocks, work with clay and play in the play house. At 10 o'clock they begin to clean up for fruit juice. After having juice there is rhythm work, skipping, playing toy instruments, or listening to records. At times they sing or listen to stories. They then have a sleeping period from 11 to 11:30. On fair days they go to the playground where they wait for their parents to call for them, or on rainy days they stay in the play room.

On interviewing a few of the children, we first talked with cute little blonde haired, blue eyed Judy Guilds. At first Judy would say nothing, but when we told her that her name would appear in HIGH LIFE she started to talk. Judy likes to color, play with clothes, and go swimming. Sitting in front of Judy was Martha Ann Martin, another blonde with brown eyes. She also likes to color, but she said she needed a new color book. Not overlooking the boys, we also talked with Trey Smith and Jimmy Waugh. Trey had beautiful brown eyes and a lovely smile that certainly must win the attention of all the little girls. Jimmy, who is a performer on the "bars" in the playground, has brown hair and blue eyes. Another little girl with beautiful black hair and eyes was, Christina Burnes.

They were all as sweet as could be. Everyone who loves children should stop by and see what lovely manners these children have. Senior high students could learn a few for themselves.

Who is that cute new Junior that's here this semester? Well, girls, it's Mack Trull and entirely too cute to be alone.

EXCHANGETTE

By JOAN KLEIN

WHAT IS SCHOOL SPIRIT ANYWAY? You say, "Attending the football and basketball games and cheering just as loudly as you can, of course." And you are so right. But that isn't all, by any means.

It is co-operating with the few requests and rules of our school, too. It isn't too much to refrain from running down the corridors and to get to class on time; is it?

It is participating in all the school drives as much as possible, such as Community Chest, Red Cross, War Orphan and many other collections. It is attending school programs, plays, and musical concerts.

We can all agree that voting, and voting seriously, is an important activity. Keeping up with your studies to the best of your ability is not only co-operating with the school and teacher but is definitely for your benefit, also.

There are so many various things that are included in school spirit, but after all when we boil it down it could easily be defined with one word—COOPERATION.

O

A man and his wife were suffering from seasickness, while their young son seemed to be enjoying the situation. Finally the mother mustered enough courage and strength to say:

"John, I wish you would talk to Willie." The father, unable to lift his head, said feebly, "Hello Willie."

Sedgwick: "Terribly sorry you buried your wife last week."

Wedgewood: "Had to—dead, you know."
