

Senior High Is Outstanding in Scholarship

Alumni Are Honored In Annual Ceremony; Dr. Smith Is Speaker

Honoring the oldest living alumnus of Greensboro High, Dr. Henry Louis Smith, and the past student body presidents was the theme for the homecoming ceremonies of Alumni Day, December 30.

Smith Speaks

Dr. Smith, who is 89 years old, stressed three things that every person should do. They were, "Increase your vocabulary, make friends, and do your best in everything."

Answering to the call of their names were the presidents: P. B. Whittington, 1925-26; Charles Rives, 1928-29; Bill Murray, 1936-37; Edward Hipp, 1937-38; James Wolfe, 1938-39; Tim Warner, 1942-43; Howard Morris, 1943-44; Ed. Mabry, 1944-45; Bill Moore, 1945-46; Jim Finch, 1946-47; and Andrew Bell, 1947-48.

Former Student Talks

Zack Piephoff, who was an outstanding student last year and is attending Duke University this year, said that Senior High taught the "know how of living" to its students.

Superintendent of the City Schools, B. L. Smith praised the high record of local alumni.

Among those participating in the program were singer Lyndon Sikes and impersonator Merlin Bynum. Bob Carlson, president of the student body, presided.

Mrs. Jean Newman was faculty chairman, and Betsy Bishop, student chairman.

Students Wear Stars As Merit for Grades

At Senior High there are always those people who hold high the scholastic standards set in the school in years past. This year there are 18 people who wear the gold stars as merits of good grades. Besides the gold star wearers, there are also those who wear silver and bronze stars.

To earn a gold star one must make the honor roll throughout his sophomore and junior years. No one but seniors are eligible for these stars; however, both juniors and seniors may receive silver stars after making the honor roll six consecutive times. A bronze star is presented to those making the honor roll for the first time. If a student does not continue to make the honor roll, he must return his star to Mrs. Blanche Smith.

Furnishing the stars is one of the many projects of the Civitan Club. The system was begun in 1921; and one of its founders was Mr. Guy B. Phillips, who was at that time principal of Senior is now head of the Department of Education at the University of North Carolina.

The Civitan Club replaces the stars on graduation night as permanent gifts to those seniors who have continued to make the honor roll for three years. Other than the gold stars presented that night all other stars must be returned or paid for at the end of the school year.

Those people who are gold star wearers are: Oscar Paris, Dick Painter, Tommy Payne, Beverly Chalk, Delores Whisonant, Bill Wright, Jackie Stafford, Jean Thacker, "Chippy" Johnson, Hope Leonard, Emily Ann Dees, Julia Ann Doggett, Bobby Michael, Jackie Miles, Lois Rosencrans, Bill Sarles, Sidney Smith, and Anna Beeson.

Those wearing silver stars are: Gordon Nelson, Helen Greer, Mildred Hedrick, Rebecca Fondren, Anne Gross, Sara Swain, LeRoy Tutterow, Josephine Langley, Geraldine Fletcher, Peggy Morris, Herman Rierson, Jean Sharp and Treva Adams.

Best Citizens Named In Faculty Meeting

Mrs. Blanch Smith has announced the best citizens for the second report period who were selected by the faculty from the candidates submitted by the homerooms. These students are: from the sophomore class, Abbie Keyes and Elizabeth McPheeters; from the junior class, Kemp Clendenin and Carolyn Birgel; from the senior class, Bob Carlson and Jackie Stafford.

'College Day' Is Observed For First Time Since War

College Day was observed yesterday at G.H.S. by the seniors and juniors for the first time since the war.

Representatives Present

Representatives from 28 colleges and universities in North Carolina were present to tell students and parents about their colleges.

The purpose of College Day was to give the students a chance to talk about the requirements, expenses, scholarships and other things they wanted to know about the colleges of their choice; another purpose was to give the college representatives an opportunity to meet students.

Seniors Go First

In the earlier part of the day the seniors went to the library by homerooms to talk with the representatives, and juniors were given a chance to see the representatives during their studies and for a half an hour after school.

Hosts and hostesses were Torchlight members, who sponsored the College Day. Jackie Stafford is president of the Torchlight Honor Society, and Miss Sara Mims, adviser. Other faculty advisers were Miss Luella Browne and A. P. Routh.

Miss Browne and her D.O. students were responsible for all the correspondence while Miss Mary York's Home Ec classes prepared the luncheon for the guests and the Torchlight members. The favors were made by the art classes under the direction of Mrs. Grace Faver.

Lowder Is Declared Cedar Chest Winner

Winner of the Lane Cedar Chest awarded on the basis of scholarship during the second report period was Nancy Lowder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lowder of 1613 Marion Street. Nancy, a senior, was declared the winner of the contest on the basis of the five A's or perfect grades she had earned in the past report period.

There are 14 other girls who made A's or A-'s and who were also eligible for the cedar chest which was given by Rustin's Furniture Company. These girls were: Sue Ellen Baxter, Julia Ann Doggett, Ann Edwards, Mildred Hedrick, Betty Matthews, Jackie Miles, Jean Sharp, Sarah Swain, Peggy Wicker, Julia Thomas, Edith Trooper, Delores Whisonant, Betsy Wright, and Inez York.
