

ANNUAL THEME IS CARRIED IN CLASS DAY

Superlatives of the 1949 graduating class were presented this morning at the annual Class Day program. Fred Price read a verse of poetry as each couple was presented on the stage which was decorated as an old fashion garden.

Annual Class Day Program Is Presented This Morning

Class Day for 1949 was presented this morning in the G. H. S. auditorium. The yearly review of activities at Senior had a theme that is familiar to all, "This Is the Annual, Mr. Routh."

Leading characters Anne Rudd, Beverly Baylor, Bob Carlson, and Fred Price opened the humorous pageant in a scene showing the planning of the annual. As they looked through material for the annual, certain of the pictures came to life, making up the scenes of the program.

The opening scene was a portrayal of the senior class. The other scenes, and as they were given, were: the band; Torchlight tapping; sports and a basketball game; Sue Ellen Baxter singing "My Two Front Teeth"; Bob Carlson on nominating day; a home-room scene; the library; in the halls; in the office; eighth period study; the Youth Center; May Day scene; the Washington trip. Each of the scenes was portrayed by members of the senior class, supposedly taken from true experiences.

Immediately following the pageant, the Last Will and Testament and the Class Prophecy were read. The last thing on the program was the presentation of superlatives. Each superlative was introduced in poetic verse.

Special Events To Honor Graduating Class of '49

As always, several events have been planned to honor the graduating Seniors. This series of events will begin today with the Class Day program and the Senior luncheon.

Clemmons To Preside

Senior class president Richard Clemmons will preside at the 11:30 A.M. luncheon at Starmount country club. Invocation will be given by Superintendent B. L. Smith, while Emogene Apple and Wilhelma Motley are toast mistresses. There will be informal entertainment with Miss Eula Tuttle in charge of the music.

Special guests for the luncheon are Dr. W. C. Jackson, Dr. Eugene C. Few, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Routh, and Miss Diana Darden. Other special guests are the Senior class teachers Misses Estelle Mitchell, Maude Carter, Sarah Lesley, Dorothy McNairy, Virginia Powell, Eula Tuttle, Mary E. York, Mrs. Cordelia Walke, Mr. Clifford Long, and Mrs. Mabel Pleasants.

A free ticket to the Carolina theatre will be given to each Senior. It is hoped that Seniors will use their tickets in the afternoon when the theatre is not so rushed.

Concert To Be Given

Next Sunday the Band, under the direction of Herbert Hazelman, will present a program in the auditorium to honor the graduating class.

An overture, "Das Pensionat" by Von Suppe, followed by "Tocatta and Fugue in D Minor" by Bach will be the first selections. Solos will then be given by a senior, a junior or a sophomore, and a rising sophomore.

Cornet player Bobby Ritch will play a solo, "Romance in B Flat" by Rubinstein. Next an oboe solo, "Serenade Roccoco" will be played

Summer School Begins June 13; Ends July 20

Senior High summer school will begin Monday, June 13 and last until Wednesday, July 20. A fee of $15 per subject will be charged, but if a student wishes to take two subjects, he may do so for $25. Tuition must be brought Monday, June 13, at nine o'clock, at which time schedules will be assigned.

Any subject will be offered if there are as many as five students wishing the subject. Any student passing the work taken will receive credit. However, no credit will be given a person with more than one unexcused absence of more than two unexcused tardies. Each period will last two and a half hours, and no student may take more than two subjects.

Dr. W. C. Jackson To Give Commencement Address

Commencement exercises will be held at Greensboro Senior High next Friday night at 8 o'clock.

The Processional, "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar will be played by the Orchestra under the direction of J. Kimball Harriman. Invocation will be given by the Reverend Paul Townsend. Special music will be sung by the high school quartet, and the Commencement address will be given by Chancellor W. C. Jackson of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina.

Superintendent B. L. Smith will present the diplomas to 350 Seniors. Presentation of the awards and honors will be done by Principal A. P. Routh. Those awards to be presented are the Troxler Music Award, the Brietz-Hazelman Music Award, the Miller Music Award, Jamieson Football Trophy, Torchlight Scholarship, Jenkins Home Economics Award, Basketball award, Betts Journalism Trophy.

Dr. E. C. Few To Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon

Baccalaureate sermon for the seniors will be conducted Sunday, June 5 at the West Market Street Methodist Church by Dr. Eugene C. Few, pastor.

The Senior High School Choir will present the music under the direction of Miss Eula Mae Tuttle with Mrs. Lucas Ables acting as organist.

Seniors are asked to meet at the church at 7:15 p.m. If the weather is clear, they are to line up on Library Place, the street beside the church. However, if it is raining, the line will be formed in the basement of the church.

Awards Presented at Tuesday's Assembly

Last Tuesday in chapel, Mr. A. P. Routh presented awards to juniors and sophomores: these awards, in years past, were given on class day.

The Debating Cup was given jointly to Lining Burnet and Thomas Gintis. For essays on Soil Conservation, four Senior students won prizes given by the Guilford Dairy Cooperative. Receiving $5, $3, $2, and $1 respectively were Jim Mark-ill, Bill Ferguson, Jean Fogleman, and Bob Carlson. Jim also won third place in the county contest.

At the beginning of the program Bob Carlson was presented the Civitan Best Citizen Plaque by Mr. Bryce Holt.

Seven High Life staff members were presented with Quill and Scroll pins. They were Julia Ann Doggett, Alice Hardin, Treva Adams, Anne Rudd, Tom Neal, Yvonne Schweistris, and Gordon Battle.

Burnet Is Elected Chief Marshal

With Lining Burnet as their chief and Mrs. E. W. Madlin as their faculty adviser, marshalls from the ten junior homerooms are scheduled to participate in the 1949 graduating exercises at Senior. Each junior homeroom elected two marshalls who will take part in Class Day. The Band concert, Baccalaureate Sermon, and Graduation Night.

The marshalls are: Thatcher Townsend and Suzanne Sparling, room 304; Sam Eberdt and Rebecca Frazier, room 313; Don McCollum and Pat McMahan, room 6; Bob Highfill and Sally Gray Hicks, room 306; Bill Wrenn and Carole Williams, room 302; Lining Burnet and Peggy Coble, room 100; Alex Panas and Mickey Pickett, room 305; James Robertson and Sue Purdom, room 315; J. W. Boejack and Anne Allred, room 311; Don Johnson and Martha Lashley, room 2.

Announcement Made Of Exam Schedule

Examination schedule for the spring semester of 1949 has been released by Mr. A. P. Routh's office. Spring exams are different from those of the first semester in that the seniors end their exams a day earlier than the juniors and sophomores.

Below is the schedule:

Monday, June 6—9:00, first period exams for seniors; 10:45, second period exam for all students.

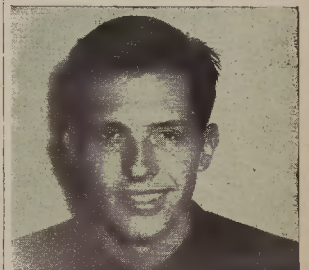

Tuesday, June 7—9:00, third period exam for all students; 10:45, fourth or fifth period exam for all students.

Wednesday, June 8—9:00, sixth period exam for students; 10:45, seventh period exam for all students.

Thursday, June 9—9:00, first period exam for sophomores and juniors and "make-up exams" for seniors.

The first exam of each day will last from 9:00 until 10:30, and the duration of the second exam will last from 10:45 until 12:15.

On Friday, report cards will distributed to all underclassmen.

Bob Carlson Is Award Winner

Bob Carlson, 1948-49 president of the student body, was chosen by his classmates winner of the Civitan Award. Each year members of the senior class elect the year's best citizen; this program is sponsored by the Civitan club.

At a luncheon honoring representatives from each senior and junior high school in Guilford County, the Civitan club presented the winners with certificates of honor.
