Whirlwinds To Meet Bison of High Point In Important Tilt Here

Zero hour is here again.

Yes, the zero hour as far as this high school is concerned has arrived in the person of the annual test between the High Point High School Black Bison and the Greensboro Senior High Purple Whirlies. This year, as well as the past, will contain many football thrills and highlights.

This game is perhaps the most publicized high school football rivalry in the state.

Coach Tony Simeon of High Point will be minus the stars of many years ago. Little Curtis McDonald, who sparked the Bisons of 1945 to a 13-0 upset victory over Greensboro, ending a ten year victory reign for Coach Bob Jamieson, is not there, so all seems well. Also, Frank Von Drehe, terror of 1946, is missing along with Tommy McGee of 1947 and Wheat Miller of 1948.

In 1946, the two met in Albion Millis Stadium ground in High Point and after a very rough and worthwhile game, the two decided to present the record books with a 0-0 tie.

Very much out for revenge the Whirlies played host the next year and spotted the Bisons short-lived 14-0 first quarter lead. After the Whirlies had brought the score up to 14-7, Bill Patterson raced along the side lines and dived after the kick off ball rolling the end zone. Since the kick off is a free ball and any one can get it, the Bisons and Patterson fought for the ball and although outnumbered, Bill came up with it to make it High Point 14, Greensboro 13. "Old Faithful," Bob Watson booted true and the score then stood 14 all. This one touchdown is perceived to be the one that broke the camel's back as High Point showed little progress for the remainder of the game. Greensboro scored again in the third quarter and this was enough to win 21-14. Midway in the last quarter the Bisons started passing. They used their famed spread offense, but it was to no avail because the backfield battered down passes like flies and their line bucks were in vain. As the sound of the gun went off, the Whirlies ran into their dressing room a happy team. They had truly won

Tom Neal Heads Quill and Scroll

Officers of the Quill and Scroll for this year were elected at a called meeting on Friday, October 28, during the seventh period. The officers are: President, Tom Neal; vice-president, Carolyn Lentz, and secretary-treasurer, Barbara Hutten.

It was suggested that the club adopt two projects for this school year. The members are considering the revision of the standard Quill and Scroll handbook. The club also wants to undertake the publishing of a pamphlet of student compositions, including essays, short stories, and poems.

The Quill and Scroll is a national honor society for high school journalists. Although the Senior High chapter now consists of High Life and Whirligig staff members only, any student who is interested in journalistic (creative) writing is eligible to apply for membership.

A regular meeting of the club is scheduled to be held after school today in Room 10. Anyone who is interested in becoming a member of the organization is asked to consult Mr. Underwood or Tom Neal.

Checking some last-minute details for Social Standards day are the members of the planning committee. They are Miss Dorothy McNairy, Miss Lucille Browne, Alex Panas and Rebecca Frazier.

Twelve Students Attend D. E. Meeting in Hickory

Twelve Senior High students attended the Western District meeting of the North Carolina Distributive Education clubs, held in Hickory, North Carolina on last Tuesday, November 1. The Hickory High D. E. club with Mrs. Jack Spainhour, adviser, sponsored the convention.

Panel Discussion Held

One of the highlights of the convention was the panel discussion on "What Does Retailing Offer for also brought out the opportunities for retailing. There was a model program carried out according to parliamentary law.

Dr. Clyde Erwin Speaks

The Greensboro delegates registered at 9:30. Afterwards the students attended a discussion. Later at the luncheon Dr. Clyde Erwin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction addressed the group. The luncheon was held at the Hickory Moose Club house.

Delegates Listed

The students from Senior who attended the convention are Ronnie Britt, Frank Burton, Billie June Caudle, Billy Lewis, Rachel Slate, Gloria Combs, Betty Lou Waldrop, Nancy Deaton, Betty Davis, Jean Wells, Bobbie Jean Maye and Vernon Hurley.

Burton Presides

Frank Burton, local D. E. president, presided over the meet. Ronnie Britt was on the nominating committee, of which Mrs. Margaret G. Finch, D. E. co-ordinator at Senior, was sponsor.

Other D. E. clubs sending delegates to the convention are Pleasant Garden, Leaksville, Winston-Salem, Forsyth County Schools, Salisbury, Gastonia, Wadesboro, Shelby, Hickory, Asheville, Candor and Charlotte.

The D. E. club is one of the three national organizations represented here at Senior; the other two are Quill and Scroll and Torchlight.

The local club will play host this February to the D. E. clubs of the state as the state convention is to be held here. The club is planning to send delegates to the National convention which will be held here in North Carolina at Asheville in April.

Johnson Will Sell Christmas Greetings

Attention, all students!

Do you wait until the last minute to buy your Christmas cards, and then have to take something that you wouldn't send to your worst enemy? Don't do it this year; see Mr. Johnson at the school store. He has a beautiful assortment of cards which will be on sale soon this month. Last January Mr. Johnson ordered these cards, and they were sold to him for half-price. All students can buy this beautiful group of 21 cards for only 50 cents. Later in the season these cards will be on display in the showcase of the main hall.

The cards are printed on an excellent grade of paper, and no two of them are alike. Out of these cards, one will find a card to send to his minister and one to his maid—the cards are of such quality that one can be found to suit each of your friends.

Best Citizens Named After Faculty Meeting

For the first six weeks period, as is always the custom, again six Senior High students were chosen by the faculty as best citizens. Mrs. Blanche Smith is the faculty chairman for both the scholarship and citizenship honor rolls. Each homeroom nominates two best citizens and then the final decision is left up to the faculty.

From the sophomore class Ed Hudgins and Lane McGregor are the best citizens, while Jerry Bryan and Elizabeth McPheeters are from the junior class. Steve Agapion and Carolyn Gergil receive the honor from the seniors.

Social Standards Conference, now a vital part of high school life in all the larger schools of the state, was originated in Greensboro by Senior High students in 1931. Since that time it has been the custom to designate one day each fall when students can meet in large and small groups, in true conference fashion to discuss problems important to them—sometimes practical, sometimes idealistic. This year's conference, to be held next Wednesday, is both practical and idealistic. The theme is "Life Demands That We Know Something—Do Something—Be Something."

Key Note Speakers

There will be four assemblies during the day. Two will be general assemblies, and two will be special—one for the boys and the other for the girls. Dr. John A. Redhead, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church will be the main speaker in the general assembly held in the morning. Alex Panas is the student chairman for this meeting. A group of orchestra students directed by J. Kemball Harriman will play for the morning assembly. The devotions will be read by Billy Ferguson and sung by Annie Laurie Rogers. The assembly will be greeted by Kemp Clendenin, student body president, Mr. A. P. Routh, principal, and Mr. B. L. Smith, superintendent of city schools. A string quartet composed of Terry Gaudin, Anne and Mary-Kaerny and Katherine Bobbitt will also play for this meet. Dr. Redhead, the morning speaker will be introduced by Rebecca Frazier.

At the special boy's assembly Dr. Herschel Folger, pastor of Ashboro Street Friends Church will speak. Billy Crowder will preside at this meet and special music will be furnished by the boys quartet. Members of the quartet are Kemp Clendenin, Bobby Greeson, Jerry Smyre and Carey Gibbs.

At the special girl's assembly Miss Ruth Shaver of the Woman's College faculty will speak. Nancy Beale will preside at the girl's meeting and Mary Jane Cornegay will sing.

At the general assembly in the afternoon Rebecca Frazier will preside. Music will be furnished by an instrumental group of Mr. Harriman's students. The conference will be officially closed at this meeting. Student speakers will summarize the talks in the individual group discussions.

The student speakers who will summarize the day's activities and their topics are as follows: Knowledge, Sue Purdom; Achievement, Billy Lowder; Character, Kemp Clendenin.

Council Sponsors

Each year the student council sponsors the annual Social Standards Conference. This year Alex Panas and Rebecca Frazier are the co-chairmen for the planning committee. Miss Dorothy McNairy and Miss Lucille Browne are the faculty members on the committee.

Elinor Wrenn, Charles Phillips and Elizabeth McPheeters are the students who will be in charge of registration of guests. As always a large delegation is expected—which comes from the numerous high schools in the state who also have or plan to have Social Standards Conferences.

Lunch Activities

When the homerooms assemble at 8:45 in the morning, students will be given programs and lunch tickets. The lunch period will be divided in half, and one group will eat while another is enjoying recreation facilities provided under the direction of Miss Gabriel. Cards will state which lunch period the student is to have, and without these cards admittance to the cafeteria will not be allowed. Other lunch-time activities include dancing in the gym and an airplane exhibit by six members of the Greensboro Prop-Twisters Model
