Statistics Quoted About Honor Roll

Two hundred and ninety-one students were recognized for outstanding scholarship in the first grading period. Of this number, two hundred and forty-eight made the regular Honor Roll, with forty-three reaching an average of 95 or better, to be placed on the special Honor Roll. These figures show that 20.9% of the student body made the regular Honor Roll, and 3% made the special.

The Sophomores had a total of ninety-two on the Honor Roll. Seventy-eight were placed on the regular Honor Roll, and fourteen on the special. This means that 14.9% of the entire class was on regular Honor Roll, with 2.2% on the special Honor Roll.

Of the Juniors, seventy made regular Honor Roll, and eight made special. These figures represent the 19.8% of the Junior Class who achieved the regular Honor Roll, and the 1.9% who reached the special group.

The Seniors, having the largest number of honor students for this grading period, had one hundred students on the regular and twenty-one on the special. Of this class 32.6% attained the regular Honor Roll, with 5.6% placed on the special Honor Roll.

Citizenship Honor Roll Winners Are Announced

Citizenship honor roll students have been chosen from the three classes. Bobby Clark and Lane McGregor represent the senior class. Juniors selected were Bill Greene and Pat Gregg. Chosen from the sophomore class were Bob Jackson and Betty Bell.

Merits required for this honor are sufficient scholarship, outstanding citizenship, and leadership.

All of the honor students for the first six weeks are active in the student government. Bobby Clark and Lane McGregor are president and vice-president of the school, respectively. Bill Greene is the junior class president, and Bob Jackson holds the top office of the sophomore class.

At the close of each six weeks, homerooms elect their citizens. From these the faculty chooses the six representatives.

Twenty-fifth Annual Student Council Congress Holds Meeting in Greensboro

The twenty-fifth annual meeting of the North Carolina Student Council Congress was held in Greensboro, October 28-30. The meeting was sponsored jointly by Greensboro Senior High School and Curry High School. Members of student government councils from sixty-five North Carolina high schools attended.

The purpose of the Student Government Congress is to exchange ideas on student government and improve present techniques on government.

The Student Government delegates arrived in Greensboro Sunday afternoon, October 28, and registered at the Youth Center from 2:30 to 6:30. From the Youth Center, they were taken to homes of Greensboro and Curry High School students, where rooms had been arranged for the delegates. During the delegates' stay at local homes, they were furnished meals for Monday breakfast and Tuesday breakfast.

Monday morning the first session of the Student Government was called to order in the auditorium at Senior High School. Gene Williams, of Rocky Mount, called the meeting to order. After the devotional by Norma Veney of Greensboro, greetings were issued both to the new and to the returning delegates by Bobby Clark, treasurer. Mr. A. P. Routh, principal of Senior High School, and Mr. Ben L. Smith, superintendent of Greensboro City Schools. The roll call and minutes of the twenty-fourth Congress were read by Eleanor Smith, secretary of the Twenty-fifth Congress. Gene Williams then proceeded with announcements of mutual importance to all delegates.

Gravely Speaks

The keynote address was delivered by Mr. Lee L. Gravely, Jr., assistant vice-president of the China American Tobacco Company. He chose as his subject, "Tomorrow—What?", intended to bring the delegates into a further realization of the problems which they face as members of the new and forthcoming citizens of a fast-changing world.

Interesting Facts Revealed by Survey

Janet Davis and Jack Crutchfield took a survey of the number of students at Senior High School who have television sets, radios, and take a daily newspaper. They also asked how long each student watched television and listened to the radio each day.

The first period journalism class tabulated the votes. The results showed that almost as many people had television sets as those who did not. The outcome proved that 514 people have television sets, while 552 do not. Of those who have television sets, only 65 look at it less than one hour a day. A total of 309 people watch television between one and two hours, and 151 students watch it longer than two hours per day.

The survey showed that only ten of the students in school do not have a radio in the home. Of the 1,044 who did, only 194 listen to the radio less than one hour a day; 522 students listen to the radio between one and two hours, and the remaining 259 listen to it more than two hours a day.

Only 13 students do not subscribe to a daily newspaper, compared to the 1,048 who have dailies in the home.

the delegates went to discussion groups for the remaining part of the day.

Monday evening at 6:30 the delegates assembled at the Home Economics building on the Woman's College campus for a banquet supper. Following the banquet, there was a dance at the Youth Center for all representatives of the Student Government Conference.

Officers Elected

Tuesday morning, the delegates assembled at Curry High School for the final session of the conference. After the opening formalities, an election of next year's officers took place. Elected to serve for the Twenty-Sixth Annual Student Government Congress were: president, Wright Langley, of Four Oaks; vice-president, Walker Jones, Kannapolis; secretary, Jo Padgett, Chapel Hill. After the new officers were presented, the Twenty-Fifth Annual Student Government Congress was adjourned by the newly-elected president, Wright Langley.

Miss Kate Parke Kitchin, the advisor for the twenty-fifth Congress meeting, stated: "I think the Congress has been wonderfully planned. The students were well poised and the delegates participated wholeheartedly." She commented, "Curry High School and Senior High School have been unparalleled in cordiality and hospitality."

Mr. Vaughn, principal of Curry High School, stated: "I have never seen a group better behaved, more business-like, or more industrious." Mr. Routh, principal of Greensboro High School, had this to say in regard to the conference: "I think it's a most worthwhile conference. Something good is bound to come from a gathering such as this, when representatives of student leaders from all over the state assemble."

Variety of Names Found at G. H. S.

While rambling through the files of G. H. S., your roving reporter found a great variety of names listed. There is such a great number of us here with the same name that there is great danger of someone being confused with someone else. (Confusin', too, ain't it?)

For the girls, Betty leads the field with 42, and Mary comes second with 37. There are 35 Barbaras, 30 Pats, 28 Margarets, 26 Nancys, 25 Shirleys, 24 Annes, 21 Carolyns, 16 Dorothys, 16 Joans, and 15 Marthas. Raoula is probably the most unusual name for the girls.

Robert led the way for the boys with 52. James revealed 44, John 41, William 36, Charles 28, Richard 21, Thomas 16, Edward 14, David 13, and Jerry 13. The most unusual name for the boys is Fritz with our little Eli next. And there is only one "Pedab."

'Whirligig' Receives All-American Rating

Greensboro Senior High School's 1950-51 Yearbook, "Whirligig," has received an All-American rating in the National Scholastic Press Association Contest.

This rating is the highest possible rating a yearbook can receive. Only eleven other high school yearbooks from schools the size of Greensboro High received this rating. G.H.S.'s publication was entered in the National Scholastic Press Association.

A complicated procedure is used in grading. The Whirligig was entered in the high school class which has an enrollment between 1,000 and 1,399. Method of publication, type letters, press work, photography, makeup, and general editing are graded to determine the final rating.

Last year's editor of the Whirligig was Sara Ann Taylor and the adviser was Mrs. Estelle LeGwin, now living in Fayetteville.

Famous Documents Displayed at Senior

G. H. S. has recently acquired a Freedom Shrine. This shrine is made up of plaques which are copies of the documents in the Freedom Train. Since few people are able to see the real ones, photostatic copies have been made. These are very nice because they will not tear, break or scratch. The Greater Greensboro Exchange Club bought a set of these plaques and presented them to our history department. They were given to us under one condition—that we display and use them.

Some of these documents are quite rare, such as Jefferson's original copy of the Constitution and Ben Franklin's Epitaph (in his own hand-writing). We also have two letters of Washington's. He was not much for letter-writing, so these are also rare. Another is a copy of Lee's letter accepting the presidency of Washington and Lee College.

The three of which we are proudest are Eisenhower's appointment as commander-in-chief of the allied forces, and the two surrender documents from Germany and Japan.

We at Senior should be very proud and grateful for this gift as it was very expensive. It is being enjoyed more and more as the days go by.

D. O. Club Elects Officers for Year

On October 1, the second period Diversified Occupations class held a meeting to elect officers for this semester. Becky Phipps will act as president. She will be assisted by Kenan Neese, vice-president; Dot King, secretary; and Jackie Fink, treasurer.

Committee chairmen include Nancy Bell, social; Sara Perkins and Judy Meece, bulletin board; Sylvia Pickard, clean-up; and Betty Ruth Austin, reporter.

Two young married girls are members of this class. Hilda Langley has changed her name to Mrs. Bass, and Judy Cox is now Judy Meece.

Functionaries of the third period D. E. class are: president, Carol Royal; vice-president, Jean Maulden; secretary, Betty Welborn; and treasurer, Peggy Thomas. Gene Stout will serve as reporter. Heading various committees are Mary Teasley, scrap book; Lucille Alston, social; Opal Frye, welfare; Esther Hodgkin, bulletin board; and Gene Frederick, clean-up.

Demonstrating his whirlwind speed and agility above is one of Greensboro High's fastest and most outstanding football backs, Charlie Sneed. He is shown eluding Reidsville linemen, Drum (70), Hoover (88), and Turpin (62). Sneed has been a consistent ground gainer all season and has tallied quite a few of the scores.
