

Playmasters Enter State Drama Meet Bard Of Avon Feled In Birthday Party

Leaving on Thursday morning at 9:15 the Playmasters of Greensboro Senior High School, accompanied by Miss Mozelle Causey, journeyed to Chapel Hill in order to present the winning Senior Class play, "Highness," in competition with the other high school plays at the annual Drama Festival. Written by Ruth Giorloff, "Highness" has as its cast, Norma Veney, Tess Russell, Dave Wright, and De Armon Hunter. The two student directors who also made the trip are Evelyn Greenberg and Doris Irving. The play was presented at 3:30 and everyone returned home on Thursday night with the exception of President Norma Veney, who remained until Friday as the representative for the group.

At noon on Friday, April 25th, the Junior and Sophomore members of the drama class went down to Chapel Hill in order to observe and learn from the plays given. This group included: Miss Causey, Ann Falk, Barbara Massey, Julia Blanchard, John Black, and Billy Hiatt. One or two of the Seniors returned to Chapel Hill and all of that group remained until the close of the festival on Saturday night.

At 8:00 on Saturday morning Miss Causey attended a director's breakfast and business meeting.

On April 23 Miss Mims' Shakespeare class held a birthday party in honor of Will Shakespeare. Miss Mims and Jack Harden, a member of the class, share their birthday with the great writer. The party began with the customary procedure of singing "Happy Birthday" to Will, Jack, and Miss Mims. It was sung in old English. Refreshments of ice cream and Krispy-creme doughnuts were served.

Two teams were formed consisting of the girls against the boys and charades was played. They acted out famous Shakespeare quotations such as: "The course of true love never runs smooth" and "Parting is such sweet sorrow." The girls won eight to seven.
