Family Life Classes Give Mock Wedding

The members of the first and second period family life classes, taught by Mrs. Kates S. Hoskins, presented a mock wedding in the auditorium. The second period class presented theirs on Tuesday, April 22. The two girls and two boys selected from each class to be the bride and groom were Lois McKinnon and Billy Rhodes from the second period class and Janet Brooks and Frank York from the first period class.

The wedding was presented by the classes so that they might learn the correct procedure of a wedding ceremony and also learn how to plan a wedding.

Each of the classes gave a serious wedding and every detail was performed with the utmost care.

The stage was decorated with flowers and the girls also wore flowers. Because of the limited amount of time, it was not possible to dress in the proper clothing for the wedding but nevertheless both of the weddings turned out to be successful.

Ellis Stone
Super Snooper
By Catherine McLean

Well, graduation day is just about here seniors. After June 2 many of you will be anxious to complete your summer wardrobe.

Girls, for those lazy summer days at home or at the beach, I have some wonderful news for you.

You get more out of the new Tanbro fabric which is made of Orlon and 100 per cent nylon pucker, because the research development program carried on by Tanbro Fabrics Corporation brings about greater efficiency and economy of production, resulting in greater value to the consumer. It is washable and requires no ironing. There are coordinate pedal pushers, hal ters, shorts, skirts, and tops which are priced from $3.95 to $8.95.

For a decidedly youthful play suit, Ellis Stone has a bloomer style in navy and white check, as seen in Madamoiselle. This play suit has a coordinate skirt and it is made of cotton plisse. The set is $17.95 and will definitely add glamor to your summer attire.

Everyone of you girls can always use a sun dress. Jo Collins has designed a playtina cotton sun dress in royal blue with a wide white belt, or piazza pink with a black belt. The dress is fashioned with a square neckline and a button down the front style. This is really smart for only $10.95. Sizes 9-15.

You must see the print seersucker skirt and denim halter top coordinates by Raissa Masket for $12.95. They come in brown and gold in Misses' sizes 10-16. They are fine for date or daytime dress.

All of the above articles require little or no ironing which is a splendid feature for vacation clothes.

If any of you girls are planning any beach trips, (and I know many of you are) you can never have enough shorts and shirts. Terry cloth has made a big hit this year with many of us. Ellis Stone's Sportswear Department has a great quantity of shorts, halters, sleeveless pull-over shirts, belted jackets, and regulation style shirts just for you. These regulation style shirts are fashioned with two big pockets with plenty of room to carry your comb, lipstick and other articles. All of these are big values for tiny prices.

Boys, don't think I'm going to leave you out because I'm not. I have also been shopping and snooping in the Men's Department and I've found several things you might be interested in for summer wear.

For swimming or sunning at the beach the McGregor all nylon "Beanbag" swim trunks are perfect. They fold into the change pocket and dry in a flash. There are many colors such as blue, yellow, tan, ginger, and green for only $5.00. All sizes, too.

Maybe you would like the McGregor terry cloth beach jacket in white. It is hip length and fashioned with a belt and patch pockets for $7.95.

For night wear at the beach or here at home you should see the washable rayon gabardine slacks by Lissner. They come in all sizes and the colors are tan, grey, and navy. The price is only $5.49.

Be sure to come into Ellis Stone and get fixed up for your summer fashions. Ellis Stone and I wish every senior a happy graduation.
