Women Outnumber Men By Nine-Three Count

This year at Senior twelve new teachers have replaced or supplemented part of last year's staff. They come from all parts of the country and have had some amount of previous work teaching in other schools.

Mr. Manzi, who has taught for two years in Burlington, is doubling as a history teacher and line coach of the football team. He is a veteran of World War II and has served in Europe. Football and education are his primary interests. He attended Elon College and is now working for his master's degree there.

Another new arrival is Mrs. Gerry Burch. She graduated from Woman's College in Greensboro and is now teaching business, English, and typing at G.H.S. Her special interests are bridge, golf, and music.

The Misses Abernethy and Bost (Paula and Cathy if you're really good friends) are two of the new teachers who have joined the staff this year. Miss Abernethy, who teaches English and journalism, graduated from Westhampton College in Richmond, Virginia; and, after a year of graduate work at the University of North Carolina, she spent a vigorous two months teaching at Appalachian High School in Boone. She is very much impressed with our school, and most of all, with the friendliness of the students and faculty.

Bost from Wilmington

Miss Bost, who graduated from Appalachian State Teacher's College in Boone, spent a year down in Wilmington and came to G.H.S. this fall. Although her home is in Kannapolis, she likes Greensboro very much. She is greatly pleased with the library and enjoys her position as assistant librarian.

Garrett from Greensboro

Mrs. Garrett, a new English teacher, is a native of Greensboro and a graduate of Woman's College and the University of North Carolina. She taught in Rockingham last year and has taken a place on Senior's faculty. When asked if she had a comment for this article, she said that she would like to put in a "plug" for the sophomores, who, in her opinion, have done a wonderful job in acquainting themselves with Senior's customs.

Woman's College Graduates

Miss Ann Hall, who is taking Mr. Luttrell's chemistry duties over this year, hails from Charlotte, North Carolina. She graduated from Woman's College and taught at Curry for one semester. Generally interested in sports, she is also interested in student government. She compliments the band, and appreciates the friendliness shown her.

Another graduate of Women's College, Miss Penelope Bogart, has had teaching experience in Robersonville, a town in the eastern part of the state. She is interested in photography, but her favorite pastime is water sports, mainly because her home is located on a river in Washington, N. C.

Scott Attended Vassar

Another new English teacher, also a native of Greensboro, is Miss Scott. She attended Vassar College in Poughkeepsie, New York, where she majored in English and minored in English history and philosophy. She did graduate work in English at the New York State College for teachers of the universities of the state of New York and at the University of North Carolina. She has been an instructor of English at Syracuse University and at Woman's College. Her principle hobby is collecting dolls.

Illman from Greensboro

Mr. Ernest Illman, who makes his home in Greensboro, attended G.H.S. and graduated from the University of North Carolina. He
