Student Council, Faculty Develop Plans For Social Standards Day, October 17

Pictured above are the students who are planning Social Standards Day. They are: seated, Jimmy Powell and Mary Henrie Arthur; standing, Joyce Steele, Kay White, Bill Greene, Ben Nita Black, and Chris Velonis. After not having had a Social Standards Day last year, these students are working hard to make the one this year a booming success. It takes a lot of good 'hard work' to make the proper plans, which include the selecting of discussion topics and speakers, but they're looking forward to it just as much as the rest of us are.

Speakers Follow Theme From Shakespeare Play

Plans for Social Standards Day, the first to be held here in two years, are now in progress. The day set aside, according to the present schedule, is Friday, October 17.

Program Theme

Theme of the program is one of the most famous quotations from Shakespeare's "Hamlet."

"This above all: to thine own self, be true and it must follow as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man."

Planning groups composed of members of the student council will be advised by faculty chairmen Mrs. Nellie Blackburn and Miss Lucille Browne; student chairmen are Mary Henri Arthur and Jimmy Powell. Council and faculty members acting as committee heads are:

Art, Mr. Ilman and Ben Nita Black; Program, Miss Matthews and Chris Velonis; Recreation, Mr. Earey and Bill Greene; Flowers, Miss Blackmon and Joyce Steele; Social, Miss Hall and Mary Henri Arthur; Luncheon, Miss York and Kay White.

Consider Attitudes

Social Standards Day is one set aside for the students to consider their attitudes toward their fellow men, the community, and the church, according to Mrs. Blackburn, chairman of the advisory committee. She also observed that students should reflect their standards of living and think of new ways to live up to the high ideals set by them and the founders of their country.

Noted and interesting speakers have been secured for the various discussion groups. The proposed schedule for the day is as follows:

- 8:45-9:00 A. M. home room period
- 9:00-10:00 A. M. first period class
Return to home rooms
- 10:10-11:10 keynote speaker in auditorium
- 11:10-11:20 recess
- 11:20-12:00 group meetings and discussions
- 12:00-1:30 picnic lunch on school grounds; recreation
- 1:30-2:15 evaluation of discussions
- 2:20 pep rally for Winston-Salem game

Discussion leaders include Mrs. Carlton Jester, Mrs. Richardson Freyer, Mr. Lacey Anderson, Mrs. Randolph, Mr. Philip Weaver, Mr. Tim Warner, Mr. Joe Flora, the Reverend Mr. F. C. Smathers, and the Reverend Mr. C. Herman Duncan. Mrs. A. K. Maness, Mr. Fred Carlton, Mrs. H. Holderness, Mr. Stark Dillard, Miss Mims, Mrs. K. Literary Contests Open To Senior High Students

Two literary contests are once more open to Senior High students interested in comparing their creative genius to that of writers from other schools throughout the nation.

Entries to the fifteenth annual high school poetry contest must be submitted by December 5, and November 5 is the closing date of the essay contest. Winning poetry and prose selections will be published in the Annual Anthology of High School Poetry or the Annual Anthology of High School Essays.

No charge is required for the inclusion of talented offerings in the anthologies. The purpose of the contest is to give recognition to students' work as well as to afford personal satisfaction and prestige to the student who views his own writing in print.

Senior High students in previous years have won top places in the contests. Those interested in again producing fine artistic work in the fields of poetry and essays may contact their English teacher or Miss Mims, head of the English department, for more information.
