Academy of Science Welcomes Chemists

Several members of Miss Hall's chemistry classes will attend the annual North Carolina Academy of Science at State College today.

Students who have made projects to enter in the state-wide exhibits left for Raleigh this morning with Miss Hall, Jim Bynum and Dickie Chalke will enter clay and wire models of atoms; Carolyn Hendrix's poster on nylon, "the wonder fiber," will also go on display.

The two-day annual session will feature scientific lectures and displays. Last year's Academy was conducted at Woman's College.

PTA President Chosen; Mrs. Maness To Serve

Mrs. A. K. Maness of 1914 Granville Road has been named president of the 1953-54 Parent-Teachers Association of Greensboro Senior High School, at the final meeting April 30.

Other officers are as follows: Mrs. H. S. Godwin of 610 North Mendenhall Street, first vice-president; Mrs. J. Dan McConnell of 202 Waverly Way, second vice-president; Mrs. K. H. Bodell of Route 4, secretary; and Miss Lucille Browne, Jamestown, treasurer.

Committee chairmen include Miss Mary Ellen Blackmon, 814 Olive Street, welfare; and Mrs. C. C. Bell, 300 North Chapman Street, recreation.

Dr. George Douglas, family life coordinator for the city of Charlotte, was guest speaker at the final meeting of the year. "The Alert Teenager of Today—The Citizen of Tomorrow" was Dr. Douglas' topic of discussion. Emphasizing that if the adults' responsibility to set an example for teenagers, Dr. Douglas carried his discussion into a question and answer session. Mrs. Hoskins presented the guest to the audience.

Prior to his address, he was the dinner guest of the P. T. A. board, Board of Education, teachers, and 25 civic organization representatives.

Faculty Members Select Best Citizens of Classes

Citizenship honor roll students have been chosen from the Senior, Junior and Sophomore classes for the past six weeks' grading period.

Chosen from the Senior Class were Pat Gregg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Gregg, 2219 Friendly Road; and Bill Greene, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Greene, 309 N. Tremont Drive.

Bettie Jane Upchurch, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Upchurch, 319 South Chapman; and Forbes Ramsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ramsey, 901 North Eugene Street have been selected to represent the Junior Class.

Representing the Sophomore Class are Phyllis Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Brooks, 415 Sunset Drive; and Norman Odyniec, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Olyniec, 822 Rankin Street.

Homerooms of each class select a boy and a girl as representatives to enter the citizenship competition near the end of every six weeks' grading period. The outstanding boy and girl of each class for this six weeks are then determined by the faculty.

These six students were recognized in this week's assembly by Barbara Massey, chairman of the student council citizenship committee.

No final report cards or diplomas will be issued to students having overdue library books.

Pat Gregg, May Court Visit Land of Fantasy

Strains of the processional ushered in the 1953 May Court of Greensboro Senior High School at 5 p.m. on Thursday, May 7, after rain cancelled Wednesday's activities.

Fairy Tales and the stories from Mother Goose entertained Queen Pat Gregg at the traditional exercises. Members of the honor court preceded the queen and assisted in the festivities of the hour. In order of their appearance they were Frances Strother and Eddie Yost with Ben Nita Black and Buster Jenkins. Frances and Ben Nita wore baby blue dresses; Tricia Booth and Kay Wrenn, in pink formals, were escorted by Frank Holt and Tommy Kirkman, respectively.

Third Couple Enters

Sue Simmons and Charles Woods with Chris Velonis and Gary Sheffield were the third couples to enter. Both Chris and Sue wore green. Next in the procession came Susan Hege and Delaine Turner with partners Buddy Birgel and Wallace Freeman. Susan and Delaine were dressed in yellow.

Betty Bell and Jimmy Armstrong entered with Josie Ward and Joe LeBauer. Betty and Josie had aqua gowns. Ann Flaherty and Gloria Gilmore, in pink formals, were escorted by Donnie Evans and Jack King. Beckie Schweistris and Pat Joyce, dressed in turquoise, were escorted by Bob Jackson and Don Patterson. The sophomore and junior maids of honor, Juliana Clark and Marian Cornelius, with escorts Kelly Maness and Arthur Scott, came in next. These girls were dressed in American beauty. Senior maid of honor, Mary Henri Arthur, who was escorted by Bob Bell, entered just before the queen. Mary Henri's dress was white.

Flower Girls

Flower girls of the court were Lauri Lake, Mary Jo Clark, and Pat Martin. Tommy Booth was the crown bearer. Queen Pat was crowned by student body president, Bill Greene.

Bill Mauldin, narrator for the entertainment, introduced the events which fell into three general classifications: Mother Goose, Fairy Tales, and Arabian Nights. Members of the W.S.T. club danced to Four and Twenty Blackbirds, and the G.W.I.'s presented the story of the Old Woman in the Shoe. Elliot Hole and Buck Carson with their trampoline act, performed under the story title of Jack Be Nimble.

In the second part members of the L.S.P. club danced the story of the Sleeping Beauty, which was followed by Hansel and Gretel, dramatized by members of the high school co-operative nursery. Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs was presented by the D.D.T. club and members of the Queen's Court did the traditional minuet in Cinderella at the Ball.

Part three, The Arabian Nights, was opened with a dance solo by Gretchen Kelley, Schaharizad. Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves was given by members of LesSoeurs. This part ended with the May Pole dance, done by members of the girls' physical ed classes. This dance closed the program and was

They are Jimmy Powell, president; Tim Rae Chambers, vice-president; Rose Wharton, secretary; Jimmy Griggs, treasurer; and Student Council members, Bob Jackson, Betty Bell, Kitten Barringer, Beckie Schweistris, Stewart Colson, and Frances Strother.

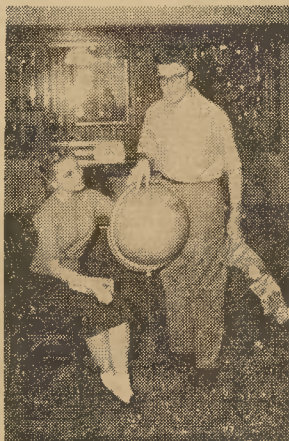

The rising Junior Class officers installed for the 1953-54 school year are Jimmy Jordan, president; Paddy Sue Wall, vice-president; Rita Boggs, secretary; and Charles Woods, treasurer. Julianna Clark, Margie Boren, Lynn Boren, Jerry Lee, Sue Simmons, Kay Wrenn, and Bob Cowan were installed as Junior Student Council representatives.

The climax of the ceremonies was the installation of school officers in the following order: Traffic Chief, Pat Price; Treasurer, R. B. Arthur; Secretary, Susan Hege; Vice President, Stewart Cass, and President, Kelly Maness.

Bill Greene, president of the student body, and Ann Carlson, vice president of the student body, concluded the chapel program with short farewell addresses to the student body.

Students Embark On World Tours

"Give the old world a spin," say Jane Fryman and Frank Bondurant, two Senior High School students who are bound for far away places.

Jan Fryman and Frank Bondurant

Their schedules call for two European tours; Frank's featuring the coronation; Jan's, an expense-paid tour with her parents.

Frank boarded a plane last week en route to New York, and on May 6 he walked up the gangplank of the famous Queen Elizabeth bound for France. A former member of the professional Apollo Boys' Choir, the sophomore will tour Europe with his director and two boys whom he knew as a part of the choir.
