ed over W. G. P. S. An outline of the play is as follows: setting—an average American home; plot—what is making Johnnie Davis so interested in Professor Sheldon's library? Characters—Father, Burdette Shope; Mother, La Reeta Stanley; Johnnie Davis, Charles Woods; Louise Davis, Barbara Sharpe; Peter Davis, John Williams; Hilda, Nancy Hillard; Margaret Sheldon, Mary Ellen Kaelin; Professor Sheldon, Mr. Charles Brinkley.

Several interesting projects have been undertaken in behalf of Book Week by the English department. Miss Maude Carter's home room has a colorful bulletin board of books overflowing from a cornucopia with the underscription—Be Thankful for Good Literature.

Two panel discussions will be held by Mrs. Margaret Garrett's senior English classes. Members on the panel from both classes are; Dan Wood, Martha Jester, Rose Wharton, Betty Jane Upchurch, Jimmy Morrow, Buddy Birgel, Raoula Bach, Henrietta Reed, Jean Bateman and Mike Stallings. One topic to be discussed is the different types and levels of reading. Various radio programs—quizzes, reviews and questions—on books will be broadcasted by her sophomore classes. Walker Lockett, John Jester, Jackie Mabie, Shirley Smith, David Beschurer, Donald Oliver, "Mike" Gardner, Houston Groome, Nestus Gurley, "Bose" Ravenel, Weslie Schofield, Jackie Williams, Vivian Bare, Bobby Thomas and Jack Rich are participants in this project.

Miss Edna Nicholson's sophomores are making book jackets to coincide with their fiction reports.

Clubs Feature Projects

At Youth Center Carnival

Senior High students partook of Halloween celebrations in many and various ways, but the majority of G. H. Sers attended the Greensboro Youth Center carnival. The festivities started at 8 o'clock and continued until 11:30.

Various social clubs either erected booths or sponsored shows. The W. S. P.'s had a raffle booth, where oversized teddy bears, cakes, cartons of cigarettes, collars, and jewelry were among the various prizes won.

The D. D. T.'s had a grab bag . . . 10c a grab. The Venettes held a popularity contest which was won by Frances Strother. The E. S. A.'s raffled a small puppy which was won by Skip Heitcamp.

The Les Soeurs sold invitations to a mock, all male wedding, and the G. W. L.'s held a variety show with Michael Temko emceeing.

The W. S. T.'s had a fortune teller booth, with tickets for 10c. The Les Freres had a penny pitching board, and the Key Club sold cider and doughnuts.

As Gwen Christiansen expressed very aptly, "Everyone had a grand time."

Interview With School Dietitian Reveals Interest In Students

"What's her name? What does she do? Where did she come from?" These are some of the questions asked about the dietitian in the cafeteria.

Her name is Mrs. Nernie S. Roberts. She prepares the meals consumed by hungry G. H. Sers each day, and she came from Greenville, S. C. Her family consists of two sons, two daughters, and six grandchildren of which she is a mighty proud grandma.

Grocer Sons

Both her sons are in the grocery business, one in Raleigh and the other here in Greensboro at the Midget Grocery. Mrs. Roberts' oldest son, Berkeley, is the only child who did not graduate from Senior. Francis, was of the class of '37, Vivian, who is now employed at J. P. Stevens, '42, Louise, who's husband is in the Air Force, '45. Pretty nice contribution to the old Alma Mater, don't you think?

On Saturday Mrs. Roberts prepares her Sunday meals, (she says all she does is prepare meals) shops and just "loafs." She is a member of the College Place Methodist Church and attends regularly. Some of her hobbies are sewing, crocheting and anything she can do with her hands.

No Peeve

When asked what pet peeve about high school students was, she replied, "Nothing." I've never had so much respect given me from a group of students and faculty members as I have here at Senior. I enjoy my job and hope the students enjoy having me." Her only request was that students take their bottles to the window and not leave them on the tables. "This would save us a lot of time and trouble."

Mrs. Roberts wants the students to feel free to come to her at any time for help or advice.

Rotary Club Hears High School Choir

Greensboro High School's choir under the direction of Miss Eula Tuttle performed for the Rotary Club last Monday, November 9.

President Bob Strandberg was master of ceremonies for the program and Mary Ann Hill accompanied the choir on the piano.

They opened the program with "Once to Every Man and Nation." Their second selection was an old Hebrew song, "Song of Galilee."

The Queen's Men sang a medley of college songs and "Over the Mountain." The pace of the program was changed when the choir sang "Country Style" and "See Me Across The Water." The singing of "America the Beautiful" concluded the program.

This program marks the first in a series of programs scheduled for the year.

Five Students Apply For Morehead Grants

Application as candidates for the John M. Morehead Scholarship have been made by five Senior High students so far.

Michael Temko, Ralph Bright, Stewart Colson, Kelly Maness, and Forbes Ramsey, applied for the grant to the University of North Carolina which gives a boy as much as $1,250 a year. D. E. Hudgins, chairman of the Guilford County Morehead Scholarship Committee, has received the application blanks.

Scholastic achievements and leadership abilities are the main points on which the nominees are judged. These scholarships were given last year to approximately 100 boys from North Carolina high schools.

According to Mr. A. P. Routh, Sunday, November 15 is the deadline for application for one of the scholarships.

Carousel Presented At Half-Time Show

Performing at the half-time show at the Greensboro-Reidsville game, 350 students representing the band, choir and choruses, and the girls' physical education department presented a tabloid version of Richard Roger's play, Carousel.

The band entered from both sides of the field, forming three sides of a huge rectangle. As the band struck up the "Carousel March", the choruses marched out on the field, forming the fourth side of the rectangle. "Mr. Snow" was sung first, as a skit depicting a marriage to a snowman was presented. Some Mariner Scouts then 'swabbed the field' as "Blow High, Blow Low" was rendered. As "If I Love You" was sung, the band majorettes whirled about the field in their evening dresses. This was followed by "June is Busting Out All Over," "This Was a Real Nice Clambake," and "You'll Never Walk Alone." A little girl representing the people at the polio hospital aroused the feelings of the crowd as the piece was concluded.
