

HIGH LIFE

From the Gate City of the South and the Birthplace of O. Henry

VOLUME XXX

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL, GREENSBORO, N. C., JANUARY 15, 1954

NUMBER 8

If Mary Frances Colvert, right, looks slightly less ecstatic about being with movie star Tyrone Power than does Cordelia Goodnight, it's only because she has already met, and even had dinner with the famous actor. His "darling little green scarf" attracted much comment from the girls, and they enjoyed his teasing remarks about the pencil behind Mary Frances' ear.

Tyrone Power Grants Interview As He Strolls Off Golf Course

Tall and handsome, he came strolling across the golf course looking for all the world like the movie star that he is—famous Tyrone Power, right here in Greensboro.

One of the greatest dramatic portrayals ever produced in the Gate City, "John Brown's Body," brought three top-flight movie stars right from the film capital of the world. Ann Baxter, Tyrone Power, and Raymond Massey drew capacity crowds to Aycock Auditorium on the nights of January 4-5.

Mary Frances Colvert, daughter of the manager of Sedgewick Inn where the actors were staying, met the performers and arranged an interview. Reporters Dick Frank and Cordelia Goodnight and photographer Bob Johnson rushed to the Inn in hopes of catching the actors as they returned from their game of golf. They did!

While posing for pictures, Mr. Power expressed his like for Greensboro and the whole South and said that he hoped to return here soon.

Mr. Massey was quite hesitant about posing for pictures, but during the interview joked about his putting, which, when demonstrated, looked far from bad. Mr. Power paused to comment about a particular shot which "Ray" made. According to the reporters, Mr. Power is not a bad golfer himself. He shot par golf on 18 holes.

When questioned about his favorite co-star, Mr. Power stated that he had none. "As long

Jaycee Minstrel Show To Be Held In January

"Covers Up" will be the name of the Junior Chamber of Commerce's annual combination variety and minstrel show to be held in the Senior High School auditorium on January 27, 28, and 29.

For this occasion the Jaycees have obtained the services of Mr. Robert Bancroft, a professional director. Mr. Richard Wharton, a Jaycee, is in charge of the show.

Talent tryouts were held during the week of January 4 on the seventh floor of the Jefferson building. Several girls from Senior High will be featured in the performance.

There will be a charge of $2 for reserve seats and $1.50 for general admission. Tickets may be purchased at McDade's, Johnson-Aulbert, Cornatzer-Mock, or from any Jaycee.

93 Students Entitled To Exempt One Exam

Ninety-three members of the Junior and Senior Classes are entitled to one or more exemptions on mid-term examinations, according to Mrs. Blanche Smith, chairman of the scholarship committee.

Gold star wearers who take five major courses are allowed to exempt any two exams. The 10 seniors who have this privilege are Raoula Bach, Betty Lou Cudd, Lucinda Holderness, Ann Inman, Forbes Ramsey, Nancy Shelton, Nancy Jo Smith, Doyle Swofford, Henry Turner, and Nancy McGlamery.

Members of the Senior Class wearing gold stars number 32, the remaining 22 being allowed one exemption. Twenty-three seniors and 38 juniors hold silver stars and can claim one exemption.

As in past semesters the Mathematics Department received the most requests for exemptions, the total being 33. The English Department is next in line with 28 students claiming exemptions.

Thirteen chemistry students and 13 members of the trigonometry class also plan not to take those tests.

One member of the Junior Class, Bill Simpson, decided not to take his exemption. Stated Bill, "I feel that I need that review."

Mrs. Smith praised his will power and wished that "more students had Bill's ambition."

New Classes Offered During Spring Term

Several new subjects will be offered to G. H. S. students during the spring semester of the 53-54 school year.

In the Math Department, a college algebra course and a class in solid geometry will be available.

Miss Sara Mims, head of the English Department, announced that a course in Shakespeare will be available to those who are interested, and the creative writing course under Mr. Lacy Anderson will be continued.

A new history course to be offered is sociology.

Thespians Present Play 'One Foot In Heaven'

Randolph Guest On New York TV

"Turn To a Friend" was the name of the television program in New York City, and Mrs. Erna Earle Randolph, Senior's Bible teacher, was a contestant.

Mrs. Randolph, spending part of her Christmas holiday in the "big city," suddenly found herself a "friend" to a colored lady with four children who needed a bed, among other things. In ten seconds, she had to name four things connected with the words given her. One of the words, of all things, was church, and she never once thought of the word, "Bible" in all those ten seconds. For being such a good friend, Mrs. Randolph received a $50 bond.

Another thrill came when she visited Marikino Niko, feminine lead in "Teahouse of the August Moon" and sister-in-law of Mrs. Randolph's traveling companion. Marikino served them a real Japanese Christmas dinner complete with chop-sticks. "Teahouse of the August Moon" was, of course, among the plays they saw.

"Christmas is a wonderful time to be in New York," declares Mrs. Randolph.

Maxwell To Supplement Senior's Music Faculty

For the next semester Mr. Clarence Samuel Maxwell will assist Miss Eula Tuttle in the teaching and directing of the music classes.

Mr. Maxwell is a graduate of Thomasville High School. He received his B. S. degree in music from High Point College and Masters from Teacher's Columbia University in Columbia, S. C.

While in college, Mr. Maxwell sang in the choir and played in a dance band.

Before coming to G. H. S. he was Minister of Music at Calvary Methodist Church in High Point for a year and a half. After his college graduation, Mr. Maxwell taught school at Allen Jay and Trinity High Schools. While at Allen Jay he started a band.

Mr. Maxwell has studied voice with noted teachers such as Jack Lyll of New York, Albert Wood, now of Germany, and W. W. Collins of Gastonia.

Mr. Maxwell enjoys teaching and commented that G. H. S. has a very pleasant atmosphere, and friendliness of the students aids in the teaching program.

"The attitude and knowledge of music here at G. H. S. can be contributed to the good training had in the past," stated Mr. Maxwell.

Scholarships Still Available

Even though the deadline for many of the larger scholarships has arrived, there are others still available, according to Miss Lucille Browne, director of guidance of the Greensboro Public Schools.

Hundred dollar scholarships are offered to students residing in North Carolina who are interested in attending Woman's College.

Boys interested in careers in agriculture and engineering have several opportunities for awards from State College at Raleigh, N. C.

Grants up to $2,500 are awarded annually to students who plan to attend Presbyterian Colleges.

There are 12 scholarships open to worthy students attending Greensboro College. Several professional scholarships are also being offered.

McGlamery Winner Of Democracy Contest

Nancy McGlamery, a senior, has been selected winner of the essay contest on "What America Means To Me" by the Greensboro Woman's Club.

Amanda McConnell and Nancy Jo Smith were the second and third place winners, respectively.

Nancy was awarded $10. She was chosen out of the 23 members of Mr. Lacy Anderson's creative writing class. Twenty-one of the members submitted essays which were judged on originality and other strong points. The judges were Miss Mary Ellen Blackmon, Miss Estelle Mitchell, and Miss Louise Smith.

All of the essays will be entered in the national contest held in Washington.

Guilford College has several $100 scholarships open, plus additional funds for students who wish to specialize in a particular field.

George F. Baker Scholarships, which are offered by schools all over the country, are still available at Davidson College.

So far there has been no news concerning the applicants who have submitted their entries for Duke, Morehead, and R. O. T. C. grants. Further information concerning scholarships and student aid may be obtained from Miss Browne in room 64.

"One Foot In Heaven," the first play of the year to be presented by the Playmakers, was performed twice, a matinee on Wednesday, January 13 at 1:30 and last night at 8 o'clock in Senior's auditorium.

Adapted from a book by Hartzell Spence and directed by Miss Mozelle Causey, head of the group, the play had as its cast Forbes Ramsey as Rev. William Spence; Barbara Massey, Hope Spence; George Cox, Hartzell; Alma Ruth O'Brian, Eileen; Bootsie Fowler; Maria; Ginger Brauns, Louise; Michael Temko, Dr. Romer; Mary Ann Boone, Moll; David Sox, Ronny; Eleanor Pearman, Letty; Paddy Sue Wall, Mrs. Sandow; Alma Swinson, Mrs. Digby; Dale Pearce, George; Gloria McQueen, Mrs. Cambridge; Ann Fry, Mrs. Jellison; Charles Younce, Major Cooper; and Rudy Marshburn, Bishop Sherwood.

Committees Named

Working behind the scenes to produce the play were several committees. The job of selling tickets was given to members of the Playmasters and speech classes with Jo Frances Bullard in charge of the receipts of the sale. Student directors were D. Ann Welch and Ann Dumaresq. In charge of stage and scenery were Buddy Hanes, Ashton Edwards, Jalna Eaton, and Judy Levine. Peggy Kinsey, Ann Fry, D. Ann Welch, and Joanne Plott were the ticket committee. Sound effects were done by Robert Ward. The poster committee was composed of Betty Sink, David Sox, Alma Ruth O'Brian, and Gloria McQueen. On the properties committee were Cassie Flatow and Charles Younce. Barbara Massey, Dale Pearce, Rudy Marshburn, and Alma Swinson were in charge of publicity. Those on the make-up committee were Dale Pearce, Raoula Bach, Martha Bright, Deanna Dickenson, Pat Miskelly, Joanne Plott, and Betty Sink. Those on the costumes committee were Martha Bright, Cassie Flatow, Bootsie Fowler, Gloria McQueen, Mary Ann Boone, and Ginger Brauns. In charge of programs were Betty Sink, D. Ann Welch, and Paddy Sue Wall.

Production Postponed

Originally intended to be produced at the end of November, "One Foot In Heaven" was postponed because there was not enough time to practice in the auditorium due to its redecoration.

Charlotte Boys' Choir To Perform Jan. 29

Public acclaim of the variety show presented last April has encouraged the Greensboro Oriental Shrine Club to present for the second season, the Boys' Choir of Charlotte.

Benefiting the Cerebral Palsy School here the boys will appear Friday, January 29, at Aycock Auditorium.

Admission has been set at $1.50 per person for the variety review which will begin at 8 p. m. After expenses have been met, the proceeds from the program will be donated to the new school for furnishings and equipment.

Last season's show consisted of comedy acts, group singing, and solos, with both popular and semi-classical music being presented for the Greensboro audience.

This group of boys has been singing together for several years and has won nation-wide acclaim. They have appeared on NBC television, on both the National and Columbia radio broadcasting systems, and have made records for RCA Victor.

Library Books Due

A charge of 25 cents per book per day is being made for library books which have not been returned. Students who have not cleared with the library are not eligible to register for second semester courses.
