

Here And There

By Marilyn 'n' Miranda

An original way for selecting a homecoming queen was originated by the students of Walter M. Williams High School in Burlington, N. C. Both the queen and her attendants were selected by a very popular couple . . . Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh!

At Durham High School, Durham, N. C., girls are nominated for homecoming queen from the various classes. Students are asked to vote for their favorite candidate at one penny a vote. The homecoming queen and her court are only a small portion of the festivities. Parades, music, dancing, pep rallies, and of course the homecoming game itself make the day an occasion to remember.

One day is set aside each year at Stonewall Jackson High School in Charleston, W. Va., to help the students in making their plans for the future. Such professions as ministry, chemistry, architecture, dentistry, social work, modeling, criminology, and many others are discussed by representatives of that profession.

Bolles School in Jacksonville, Florida, has an extremely industrious journalism class. They edit not only the school paper, the BOLLES BUGLE, but also the school annual.

Dancing "Dogpatch" style is the current vogue of the high school students in Durham. Square dancing, bare feet, and cornstalks are becoming as common in their school gymnasium as basketballs.

It wouldn't be unusual for a stranger to enter Sanford Central High School and find all students and teachers crouching on the floor next to the nearest wall, desk, etc. They aren't just tired of their school work, but they are being taught the proper way to protect themselves in case of an atomic bomb attack.

FTA Members Present Educational Assembly

Presenting the first assembly of the new semester were the future teachers of GHS, composed of 129 members and advised by Mr. W. L. Anderson and Miss Lucille Browne.

Before the prepared program, Coach Bob Jamieson expressed his appreciation of student support at the basketball games. He also recognized Jimmy Jones, GHS's All Southern football player, as a member of the 1953 all state team.

Betty Bell, president of FTA, then took charge.

Barbara Jamieson gave the devotion, which centered on the importance of faith.

Kitten Barringer, Paddy Sue Wall, and Pat Leary, members of FTA, told of the progress and activities of the club at GHS.

Enlightening the audience, were the Queen's Men, who, with song, told of their views of education.

Next, Betty introduced Miss Mary Lou Rhodes and Mr. Louis Eargle, seniors at High Point College, who showed the humorous side of teaching.

The last speaker was Mr. Nile Hunt, recruit for teachers, who gave his opinion as to the importance of education and teachers. One of the main points expressed by Mr. Hunt was that the power of growth is one of the greatest forces in the world.

The announcements of a presentation of a scholarship to a coming graduate of GHS, who is interested in teaching, was made by Proximity's librarian, Mrs. Margaret Dupuy.

Winston Gray Defeats Whirllettes By 38-32

Winston Gray took home honors from a searing game with the Whirllettes last week by a score of 38 to 32.

In the first quarter, tension was greatly felt in the GHS sextet, composed of Martha Yates, Jean Bateman, Sarah Roberts, Lenora Newnam, and Linda Moss. For some reason, they just couldn't get the push that was greatly needed. Therefore, Winston took advantage of the opportunity bestowed upon them. Holt of the Gray team showed great skill as she ended the game with a total of 15 points.

Later in the game, Moore of Greensboro came in as a substitute and went wild. In one quarter, she had 10 points to her credit. From that point, the GHS team fought hard. They worked together to really bring in the points. However as time ran out, they could not get the needed points to win.

Miss Marjorie Gabriel, coach, stated that her guards had done an excellent job in defense.

High scorer for Greensboro was Rheba Moore with a total of 13 points. High scorer for Winston Gray was Grace Holt with a total of 15 points.

The teams were as follows:

The Way I See It

by Harriett Perkins

Have you students noticed the cute little girl over in the girls' gym today?

She's Carol Williams, a GHS graduate of 1950. Carol is substituting for "Gabe," who is in Charlotte, observing the phys. ed. classes at various schools.

While at Senior, Carol really made a record for herself. She was an honor student, a member of Torchlight, and she was on the first team in every sport. Though she is very small in size, this does not handicap her. She's as quick 'on her feet as a mouse and just as alert. Carol has a wonderful personality, and after today, you girls who take physical education will surely agree that you had a "real treat" in your classes.

During lunch one day last week, there was a man on top of the girls' gym.

Haven't tried to find out what he was doing, but wouldn't it be wonderful if he might have been taking estimates as to the costs of painting the outside of the gym, and reconditioning the floor?

Personality of the Week—Marjorie Gabriel.

To those who know her well, a crazy little mixed up kid would describe this fun loving, exciting and friendly teacher as "Gabe."

However at the proper time and place, usually school, she gives the impression of a dignified teacher who is very serious about her work. She really is, too. As sports

Girls' Junior Varsity Loses To Winston Gray

Girls' junior varsity smashed Winston's Gray High School in a game last week by a decided score of 19 to 7.

Greensboro led the way the entire game. The Gray team failed to score once in the first half, senior Irene Thomas held her own as she bagged a total of five baskets during the game.

Greensboro's guards also played a fine defense job as was noted by both coaches of the opposing teams.

Gray's team was composed of the following: Posey, Swain, King, Rieron, Mustin, Lemons, Widner, Fry, Lee, Hoover, Crater, Jarrard, and Tate. High scorer was Rieron with four points.

Greensboro's team included Thomas, Phillips, Edwards, Yow, Mann, Burley, Traugher, Jones, and Lowe. High scorer was Thomas with nine points.

are her major thought, nothing could fit better than for her to be a physical education teacher.

"Gabe," a graduate of Woman's College, came to GHS six years ago. If you ask her how she's enjoyed her career, she'll quickly answer that every moment has been worth the effort. It's no joke about effort either. It takes a lot of hard work to come up with so many winning teams.

"Gabe" really is a credit to GHS. She also is adviser for the Les Soeurs, a social club. How she does so much in so little time is really puzzling. Whether it's working on May Day, at a basketball game, teaching a class, or anything else, you can always count on "Gabe" for a job well done.

Revival Of Homespun Project Of Organization

Members of the Quill and Scroll decided yesterday to revive the former literary magazine of the school, Homespun.

Work done by GHS students will be included in the book featuring poems, short stories, essays, and themes.

Selections for the book will be made through the English teachers first and then through the publication staff.

Tentative plans show the date of publication to be late April. It was also decided that the new members will receive their pins at the end of a regular assembly in March.

'Covers Up' Presented By Greensboro Jaycees

"Covers Up," a program combining a minstrel and a magazine review, was presented by the Greensboro Junior Chamber of Commerce January 27-29 at GHS's auditorium from 8-10:30 p. m.

In the first act the magazine theme was predominate. HOLIDAY, one of several on review, was portrayed by a song and dance skit on Holland. LIFE, TRAVEL, and SCOUTING were among the other magazines on exhibition.

Following the intermission, the Jaycee minstrels began their act. Fred Ayers, 1952 graduate, sang "You, You, You".

All the cast entered the finale with a rendition of "Bye, Bye, Blackbird."
