Exam Schedule Given For Semester

Exams for the first semester are scheduled to be given to GHS students beginning Monday, January 17, and continuing through Wednesday, January 19.

At 8:45 Monday first period exams will be given. They will be one and one half hours long concluding at 10:15. Following a 15-minute break, second period exams will commence at 10:30 and continue until 12 o'clock. At this time all students will be excused for the day.

Third period exams will be at 8:45 Tuesday and fourth or fifth period at 10:30. At noon students will be excused as on Monday.

Exams for sixth and seventh periods are scheduled for 8:45 and 10:30, respectively, on Wednesday morning.

The students will not report to school at the time they have study hall.

Honor roll students, including seniors, juniors, and sophomores, will register for second semester classes Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

Other students will register on Friday at a specific time designated by their class. Seniors register at 8:45; juniors, at 10 o'clock; and sophomores, at 12 o'clock.

Regular classes will resume Monday, January 24, at 8:45 with the collection of book fees and a full day of school.

January 27 Date Set For Play Production

"Men are like streetcars; if you miss one, there's sure to be another along soon," quips Maudie, one of the leading characters in the annual Senior High School Playmasters' production, "Men Are Like Streetcars," which will be presented on Thursday, January 26.

Maudie, an energetic teenager, who is played by Michael Gardner, finds herself in charge of her pretty, but tongue-tied cousin, Joy, portrayed by Mary Anne Boone, and decides that the only way to help her is to teach Joy her entire 'line'. Maudie is delighted as she thinks how grateful Joy is going to be for the happiness she's bringing into her life, however, things don't work out just as Maudie plans, for Joy takes Maudie's 'line' and uses it so well that she snares almost all of Maudie's boy friends. Then to Maudie's horror she finds her older sister Sylvia, Shirley Smith, discussing plans for inviting the last boy Maudie has left to her table at a party. Maudie feels she's got to take action quickly, for no matter how faithful a boy may be in his soul, he's sure to feel very flattered if some older girl takes an interest in him. Thus, she decides that the only way to get Sylvia out of her way is to marry her off. She artfully expresses Sylvia's desires (about which Sylvia has never heard) to two older boys who just happened to be a little interested in Sylvia.

Maudie decides that her sister's excellent reputation is too drab and colorless and something has to be done about it. Maudie starts inventing lurid stories and tells them as though they were all a part of her sister's earlier life.

Other characters in the production are Julie, played by Jackie Mabie, an attractive teenager. Mother and Father, put up with a lot of nonsense, played by Ann Dumaresq and Richard Johnson. Alex, (Gayle Apple), Lysbeth, (Martha Bright), Mrs. White, (Rachel Walker), Mrs. Allen, (D. Ann Welch), Mrs. Day, (Nancy Stout), Davy, (Mike Powell), Chi, (Jerry Farber), Jerry, (Charlie Younce), Ted, (Reggie Bell), Margaret, (Paddy Sue Wall), Prompter is Paula Tuttle.

Members of the scenery committee are Gordayne Egbert, Paula Tuttle, Rachel Walker, Joan Phillips, Pat Gilmore and Linda Kent. D. Ann Welch and Mary Anne Boone are responsible for programs. The ticket committee consists of Mike Powell and Jerry Farber, however each member of the Playmasters will be selling tickets for the performance. In charge of properties is Jerry Farber, Gordayne Egbert, Deanna Dickson, Linda Kent, and Judy Hester. Make-up committee is Deanna Dickson, Gordayne Egbert, Joan Phillips, D. Ann Welch, Judy Hester, Paula Tuttle, and Gayle Apple. Ann Dumaresq is publicity chairman.

Michael Gardner seems to have the attention of the Playmasters as they practice for their play, "Men Are Like Streetcars." Sitting are Mary Ann Boone, Gayle Apple, Martha Bright, and Jackie Mabie. Standing are Jerry Farber, Mike Powell, and Michael Gardner.

Council Makes Plans For Jan. 22 Dance

As a celebration of the end of exams the annual GHS Midwinter's Dance, set for Saturday night, January 22, is being planned by the Student Council.

Bob Hill and his orchestra have been chosen to play for the dance which will last from 8:30 until 11:30. Since the festivities will be held in the girls' gym only 400 people will be admitted; so students are urged to buy their tickets early. Student Council members will have these tickets which sell for 50 cents stag or drag.

In overall charge of the dance is Margie Boren assisted by Susan Hege. Her committee has Lynn Boren heading the refreshments. Her helpers are Maxine Callisher, Phyllis Brooks, and Sue Simmons. The entire Student Council will do the decorating to be centered around the theme of "Stardust."

Intermission entertainment is being planned by Margie. For the past several years the Student Council has sponsored this

Quill And Scroll President Discloses Magazine Staff Headed By Cashwell

Dava Cashwell, president of Quill and Scroll, Senior High Literary society has announced the staff of HOMESPUN, GHS creative work magazine revived last year.

The members of the organization chose Dava to be editor of the annual publication. In capacity of assistant editors are Jerry Matherly and Phyllis Brooks. Feature editor is Martha Wilkins with Sally Durham as poetry and fiction chief. Pat Frazier will be in charge of proofreading, while Hilly Deifell is copy editor. Those people compose the literary staff.

Working together on art and publicity are Rachel Allen and Betty Sink. Layouts for HOMESPUN are to be handled by Susan Graham and Martha Ann Burnet, while typing editor is Donna Oliver and printing editor is Dianne Schwartz.

The business staff of the magazine is headed by Eugenia Hickerson, treasurer of Quill and Scroll. In charge of advertising is Bill

Cowan, Jordan To Compete For Valuable Scholarship

Bob Cowan, head of the traffic squad, and Jimmy Jordan, president of the student body, have been chosen as quarter finalists for the Morehead Scholarship and will go to Winston-Salem for the semi-finals later this month.

Bob and Jimmy were among the ten applicants at Senior for the scholarship which is valued at $1500 per year for four years if the student is able to renew it.

Forty boys from Guilford County applied for the scholarship. Only six can enter the semi-finals from this county; two from Senior High School; two from High Point High School; one from Allen Jay and one from Nathaniel Greene.

All the applicants had personal interviews with a county committee and were chosen on scholarship, leadership, character, and service. At the latter part of the month Bob and Jimmy will go to Winston-Salem for a district selection of boys for the scholarship, and the finalists will be chosen to go to Chapel Hill.

Forbes Ramsey, a graduate of Senior High, received the Morehead Scholarship last year.

New Family Life Teacher Finds Bad Reports Untrue

Through actual experience, Mrs. Ruby Cooper is finding out that all the uncomplimentary reports that she has heard about the student body of GHS are not true. Mrs. Cooper is replacing Mrs. Frances Bruce, family life instructor, who resigned during the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Cooper states, "I believe that the subject I am teaching is a very important one for every boy and girl of today. I live at home exactly what I am teaching here at Senior. I believe the relationship between my ten-year-old daughter, Jenny, my husband, and myself is a very beautiful one."

Mrs. Cooper has not taught school regularly for the past eleven years, but she has been a substitute teacher during that period. She has been looking forward to the time when her daughter would be sufficiently self-reliant to allow Mrs. Cooper to return to teaching as a permanent occupation. She looks upon teaching as a "very enjoyable experience."

Mrs. Cooper, seeking to make her activities well-rounded, is an active member of a Garden Club. She and her husband belong to a card club which meets once every week to play Canasta or Samba.

Another very important member of Mrs. Cooper's family is a gold Persian cat named "Little Boy." Mrs. Cooper fondly exclaimed, "Our 'Little Boy' certainly is just like one of the family."

Library Books Due

All library books are due to be turned in at the library by today at 3:30. For all those not turned in there will be a charge of 25 cents per day per book.

Paris Summer Vacation For Bob Hall

Paris — the home of Moulin Rouge, the gathering place for connoisseurs of fine wine, the city which introduced Dior's "new look," and the site for some of the world's craziest driving. Paris, often described as the "world's most charming city" will reveal some of its fascinating sights and experiences this summer to Bobby Hall, a junior at GHS.

Bob is the representative of the local YMCA organization chosen to attend a world-wide six-week conference in Paris this July. The conference commemorates the 100 anniversary of the International YMCA.

The unique opportunity described as "Just great!" by Bobby was earned by his active participation in several phases of the Y's work. As president of one of the four Hi-Y clubs sponsored by the Central YMCA, Bob has been a member of two delegations representing Greensboro at regional conferences held this year at Chapel Hill and Charleston, South Carolina. He is also a supporter of the Leaders' Club movement whose members devote spare time to working for the YMCA in exchange for a year's membership.

The all expense paid excursion begins with a train trip to New York City. Ralph Bright, a 1954 graduate, was one of last year's representatives from the United States who made plans for the conference. He is returning this year as a counselor and will travel with Bobby. From New York the two will sail for London and then fly to their destination, Paris.

Actually, two of the six weeks will be spent in touring Europe. Delegates will be offered a choice between two tours conducted through either Yugoslavia, Germany, and France, or England, Scotland, Spain, and Holland.

Members of the conference, representing all free nations of the world where the Y has been established, will convene in the latter part of July.

The program has been designated to familiarize the participants with other peoples of the world and their countries.

McLendon Announces Nursing Scholarship

Major L. P. McLendon, president of the North Carolina Medical Foundation, has announced a scholarship to be given to some deserving GHS girl this spring to be used for nursing at Chapel Hill.

The scholarship is being provided by the Burlington Mills Foundation and is for the amount of $500 a year and is renewable.

The winner of the scholarship will be chosen by a committee composed of A. P. Routh, principal; Mr. L. W. Anderson, assistant principal; and Miss Lucille Browne, guidance director.

Girls interested in the nursing scholarship must make application before January 15, 1955. The forms will be sent to the school of nursing in Chapel Hill.

The local scholarship will be presented on Awards Day in May. The renewal depends on the student's progress toward graduation.

Sears Roebuck offers 10 scholarships each year valued at $100 each. These forms will be available in the near future. An announcement concerning this will be made.
