

HIGH LIFE

From the Gate City of the South and the Birthplace of O. Henry

VOLUME XXXI

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL, GREENSBORO, N. C., MARCH 11, 1955

NUMBER 10

Shown above are the four girls who will be very much in evidence when the Greensboro High May Court of 1955 makes its formal appearance. In the middle, surrounded by the other beauties, is the Queen herself, Juliana Clark. With her are the maids of honor from each of the three classes: Jane Lynch, Anne Poole, and Josie Ward, from the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes respectively. In the background is the picture of last year's May Court.

Clark Chosen To Be Queen Of May; Ward, Poole, Lynch, Maids Of Honor

Juliana Clark, senior, was elected last Friday by the GHS student body to reign as the Queen of the 1955 May Court.

Chosen to represent their respective classes as maids of honor are Josie Ward, Senior Class, to be escorted by Charlie Quinn; Ann Poole, Junior Class, to be escorted by Nelson Sloane; and Jane Lynch, Sophomore Class, to be escorted by Dick Robinson.

Orchestra, Band To Play Together

On Thursday, March 17, the band and orchestra will give a joint concert in the high school auditorium.

For their part in the program the band will play "The Impresario" an overture by Mozart, "Finale" from "Symphony in F Minor" by Peter Iban Tschalkowski, "The Irish Washerwoman" by Leroy Anderson, "The Rakes of Mallow" by Anderson, "The Girl I Left Behind Me" by Anderson, and "Am-parito Roca" a Spanish march by Jaime Texidor. Miss Margaret Pritchett, a former student here, will play a solo, "Concerto for Oboe and Strings" by Corelli. She transcribes this piece for the band in the form of a concerto for oboe and clarinets.

The orchestra selections for the concert will be "Barber of Seville," an overture by Rossini, "Pastorale" and "Intermezzo" from L'Artesienne Suite No. 2 by Bizet, "Berceuse" from the Fler Bird Suite by Stravinsky and "South Pacific," and "Shrimp Choir" (Symphonies Scenario) by Rogers, arranged by Bennett. Also on Friday, March 10, the orchestra will travel to Boone, N. C., to present a music series at the Appalachian State Teachers' College.

Seniors Order Invites

With March 3 as the last day to place graduation invitation orders, the Senior Class of approximately 455 members ordered 11,429 invitations. This number means that each of the Senior students sent for an average of about 25. At eight cents apiece the class spent $914.32 or $2 per pupil. Orders ranged from zero to 100.

Senior Class attendants to Queen Juliana and their escorts include Rita Boggs with Alan Pultz, Terry Garrison with Bob Grant, Susan Hege with Bill Mauldin, Pat Leary with Frank Jones, Sue Simmons with Charles Woods, and Kay Wrenn with Brokie Lineweaver.

Peggy Durham, Madeline Holley, Joan Moring, Bobbie Jean Williams are the attendants selected from the Junior Class. Their respective escorts are Giles Bristow, Tony Schiffman, Wayne Griffin, and John Jester.

May Court attendants elected from the Sophomore Class are Rosemary Furlong, accompanied by Fred Hitchcock, Nancy Lambeth by Dickie Lambeth; Libby Smathers, by Louis Glascock, and Harriet Wells, by Bill O'Brien.

Next week the student body will vote whether the May Court will make its presentation at the Junior-Senior Prom or at a May Day on the front lawn. The Student Council brought before the students in early January the possibility of eliminating the annual May Day festivities because of the lack of co-operation from the students.

Each sophomore and junior home room elected three girls for competition for members of the Court. From this list the girl receiving the highest number of votes in the respective classes was automatically the maid of honor. The next four highest were the attendants to the Queen.

Each senior home room chose four girls from which a list was compiled, the eight receiving the highest number of votes being chosen as attendants. From these eight the entire student body elected the May Queen. The girl receiving the second highest number of votes became the Senior Class maid of honor.

Senior girls selected to compete for May Court attendants were Sylvia Boggan, Rita Boggs, Lynn Boren, Margie Boren, Martha Bright, Phyllis Brooks, Ann Bryant, Sandra Carruthers, Jane Cheek, Juliana Clark, Dianna Dickson, Ann Dumaresq, Jo Ann Ellington, Ann Fry, Bobbie Garner, Terry Garrison, Norma Hanner, Edith Hargrove, Nancy Harris, Susan Hege, Cynthia Hughes, Phyllis Jones, Sylvia Kimbro, Barbara King, Marsha Kreiger, Pat Leary, Margaret Lucas, Sue McEntire, and John Jester.

(Continued on Page Five)

Sophomores Put On March Assembly

"I didn't know that the sophomores had any talent!" "Sophomores — they really can put on a show!" These were some of the compliments made by the astonished upper classmen of the sophomores when they presented their annual Sophomore Class Play on March 3 in the GHS auditorium.

"Scrapbook Revelations," a look into the past, the present, and the future, was the theme of the play. The sophomore production was presented in five acts which displayed much of the talent possessed by the lower classmen. The play was directed by Peyton Neal, and the planning committee chairmen were Jack Jessup, Camille Merriman, Phil Causey, James Spence, and Elizabeth Sutton.

Camille Merriman and Bill O'Brien, Sophomore Class president, acted as narrators as they glanced through the large scrapbook of revelations.

Act I, which was entitled "We Were," renewed old memories of the sophomores when they were freshmen in junior high school.

Senior High To Be Host To City's Music Contest

Honor Society Holds Torchlight Induction

Twenty-three students were tapped into Torchlight National Honor Society at the annual spring induction in the school auditorium Tuesday, March 8.

Seniors who were tapped on the basis of leadership, scholarship, character, and service included Rachel Allen, Steve Arthur, Mary Anne Boone, Barbara Callisher, Barbara Flynn, Pat Frazier, Helena Frost, Ann Fry, Michael Hayes, Freddy Hutton, Pat Leary, Jerry Matherly, Ed Morrissett, Vivian Morgan, Bill Simpson, Dave Tucker, and D. Ann Welch.

The six juniors selected for membership were Liza Anderson, Leon Boggs, John Gardiner, Gail Kirkman, and Janie Walters.

Following the procession of the old members to the stage, Julie Redhead, president, depicted the purposes of Torchlight.

Four veterans of the society then presented speeches explaining the four qualities on which members are chosen for the organization.

Bob Cowan spoke on scholarship, represented by the color (Continued on Page Eight)

D. E. Club Gathering Elects Jerry Varner As District President

February 26 and 27 was the date for the state D. E. Convention for which 200 club members attended.

On Friday morning from 9:00-10:30, the D. E.'ers were entertained by the welcoming committee.

From 10:30-12:00, the various contests were held. These contests consisted of a speech contest, job application, planning and laying out individual student manual, and club manual. The club manual is a scrapbook kept by each D. E. club. For this contest, Greensboro D. E.'ers took third place.

Joanne Plott from Senior High took second place in the speech contest.

Later in the afternoon, voting took place for the national delegates. Jerry Varner was elected from the central district to go to the national convention in Richmond, Virginia, later this year.

The election for officers took place on Saturday morning. The officers for the coming year are Jerry Varner of Greensboro, president; Dickie Mathews of East Mecklenburg, vice-president; Barbara Wagner of High Point, associate president; Don Odum, secretary and treasurer; and Norman Couch of Durham, editor and promotion manager.

There are 900 members in the D. E. Clubs from 32 high schools in North Carolina.

Other schools which will participate in the vocal events today will be Reidsville, Guilford, Pleasant Garden, Altamahaw-Ossipee, E. M. Holt, Kernersville, Lindley, Aycock, Gillespie, and Walter Williams in Burlington. The groups will sing in the auditorium at a specified time. Warm-up will be in room 106 during the 15-minute period preceding the performance.

Twenty-one vocal groups from this district will take part in the program today. The judges for the vocal events will be E. L. Williams of Greensboro College, Nancy Staley from High Point, and Richard Ebert of Raleigh.

Tomorrow Earl Slocum, of Chapel Hill, Allan Bone of Durham, and William Spencer of Boone, will judge the instrumental events. Twelve band and orchestras will perform.

Miss Eula Tuttle will direct the mixed chorus, boy's glee club, and girls' glee club in the district contest today. The three music groups will sing class four music which is the most difficult. The mixed chorus will perform at 2:45 singing "Last Words of David," by Randall Thompson and "Salvation Is Created" by Lsches Nokoll. At 2:45 the boys' glee club will sing "Come Now, Sweet Death" by Bach and "I've Been List'nin'," a spiritual. "Peace Come To Me" by Lynn Murray and "Night Song" by Clokey will be sung by the girls' glee club.

The vocal group will be given one of the following ratings: superior, excellent, good, fair, or poor. Last year the choir, girls' glee club and boys' glee club received superior ratings.

There are 900 members in the D. E. Clubs from 32 high schools in North Carolina.

There are 900 members in the D. E. Clubs from 32 high schools in North Carolina.

There are 900 members in the D. E. Clubs from 32 high schools in North Carolina.

that nearly swept her off her feet. Judy Hayes sang "When We Become of Age" between the second and third acts.

"We Awake" was the title of Act III which portrayed Becky Ozment as Miss Brown, a vocational instructor, who informed a group of new-comers to GHS about such activities as College Day, Elections Day, and Social Standards Day.

We speak, learn, sing, and participate were the four divisions in which Act IV was presented. It reenacted typical sophomore speech, biology, and choir classes, with Pete Wryick, as Coach Jamieson, presenting the sophomore athletics.

Act five, titled "We May Be," proved much future success for the sophs. Maranell Pearsall, playing the part of a fortune teller, predicted James Spence and Jerry Mann for the future GHS scholars; Fred Barringer, Doug Albright, and Lynn Rankin as best all-round athletes; Harriet Wells as Miss Charm of 1957; and the Queen's Men, Joe Hensley, Clyde Hunt, Don Marshburn, and Dave Miller, as the 1955 Torchlight Talent Show winners.