

Many Students Apply In Schoolwork Plan

March 29 was the registration date for the 148 students who are interested in taking part in the co-operative schoolwork.

When they registered they were given an application blank on which they listed all necessary information for getting a job and what kind of work in which they are interested.

Before any student is allowed to take part in any vocational subject must first have certain qualifications. Students are selected according to their vocational interests, future plans, scholastic records, work attitudes, and possibilities for success at work.

This program involves a co-operative arrangement between the commercial and industrial enterprises for the city and the high school. Any junior or senior meeting the qualification is eligible to take either Diversified Occupation or Distributive Education.

Mrs. Margaret G. Hadden is the co-ordinator for the D.E. classes. These students engage in such occupational work as advertising, store management, fashion trends, merchandising, salesmanship, and similar occupations in the retail, wholesale and service fields.

D.O. classes working in offices have as their co-ordinator Mrs. Kathryn W. McEntire. These students serve in the capacities of file clerks, office machine operators, cashiers, secretaries, stenographers, typists, receptionists, and other clerical jobs.

D.O. students in trade have as their co-ordinator Mr. A. B. Raster. Trades and industries, such as auto-mechanics, bookbinding, electrical work, machine shop, printing, radio service, and nurses' aide are some of the occupations in which they are engaged.

Gold Star Wearers Total 41 For Senior Students

For a total of 13 consecutive report card periods 41 members of the Senior Class have been placed on the honor roll each report period since they entered high school.

As wearers of gold stars, members of this group who are taking five major subjects will be allowed to exempt two subjects at exam time. Those taking four majors are allowed to exempt one subject.

Gold Stars

The students who have attained the gold stars are Clara Alexander, Rachel Allen, Glenda Amos, Rita Boggs, Mary Anne Boone, Lynn Boren, Phyllis Brooks, Joyce Byars, Barbara Callisher, Dava Cashwell, Bob Cowan, Sally Durham, Margie Earl, Jeneil Edwards, Barbara Flynn, Pat Frazier, Helena Frost, Peggy Goodwin, Bob Grant, Michael Hayes, Susan Hege, Eugenia Hickerson, Mary Ann McNamara, Jerry Matherly, Barbara Moorefield, Vivian Morgan, Ed Morrissett, Rob Pearce, Julie Redhead, Banks Ritchie, Joanne Salee-

Next report card period three new names will be added to the list, if the students stay on the honor roll. These are Martha Ann Burnet, Barbara Lindley, and Wanda Slade.

APPROXIMATELY 30 STUDENTS are going to the Elon College Orphanage Wednesday night, April 21 with the Les Artistes Club. The students will put on a program of mixed entertainment for the children ranging from preschool to 17 or 18 years of age. Cars are to be provided as transportation for the group. The Elon Orphanage is sponsored by the Congregational Christian Church of Greensboro. Talent in the show will be singing, dancing, a pantomime, clowns, a Charleston act, and a monologue. The Les Artistes put on a program at the Guilford County Home during Christmas. Mrs. Jeanette McArthur, adviser of the club, will accompany the group to the Elon College Orphanage.

FOR THE PAST TWO YEARS Mr. Frederickson and Mr. Manzi's first period history classes have been conducting a Civil Defense program for GHS. There have been four committees set up, publicity, drill control, surrealist secrets, and materials.

Tuesday, April 26, an assembly program will be given with a guest speaker, Colonel Ralph Lewis, from the Civil Defense Department of Greensboro. On the following day of the program there will be a school-wide Civil Defense drill.

The co-chairmen of the program are Michael Bunting and Charlie O'Brien.

NEW SOPHOMORE BAND REALLY DOES "LIVE-IT-UP" WITH REAL HOT MUSIC

Hailing from Lindley, Central and Aycock Junior High Schools are the 11 members of the newly organized sophomore band. These boys are Edwin Wall, playing string base; Cooper Null, the drums; Ronnie Fullington, trombone; Bill Ward, trombone; Lee Corey, alto sax; Sammy Cabe, alto sax; Dennis Maynard, tenor sax; Davis Bowen, trumpet; Carl Tate, piano; Bobby Johannesen, base clarinet; and Bob Taborn substituting for Davis Bowen at dances.

Organized chiefly for the purpose of the sophomore assembly program, these gay-heads are now making big plans for the future, which include playing for the Signets' dance on April 22 at the Elks Club. They are also planning to play for a dance in Winston-Salem, which Mr. Clifford Long, GHS history teacher, arranged for them. No definite date has been set thus far.

The boys played for some of the skits in the assembly in which candidates for offices of GHS were presented.

The one big plan so far is for the boys to secure a sophomore vocalist who will help out in all programs.

School Secretary Does Much For High School

Trying to interview a school secretary is not as easy as it may appear. It involves getting into the office and then trying to ask a few questions between a million and one phone calls plus many other interruptions.

Mrs. W.W. Malone is one of the people who is seldom seen, but does a big job for GHS. She is Mr. Routh's personal secretary, and works on a 12 month basis with a two week vacation. To hear her explain her work makes it sound so simple, yet it keeps her busy from 8:15 to 4:15 Monday through Friday.

Mrs. Malone was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, and went to school there. After graduating from high school in Florida she met William Malone, whom she later married, and, for a few years, settled down to the life of a housewife.

She and her husband moved to Greensboro in 1952. She then took a business course at the College for Secretaries, and came to GHS to work. February was the second anniversary of her coming to GHS.

Mrs. Malone has two children. One is a 15 year old boy, Dennis, who is in the ninth grade at Lindley Junior High, and the other is a nine year old girl, Kathleen, who is in the fourth grade at Lindley Elementary.

Although Mrs. Malone is extremely busy, she finds time for sports which she enjoys very much. Her favorite sports are tennis and swimming, and she also likes to square dance.

The Torchlight Variety Show was the big obstacle in their path now, but these boys never give up, no matter how stiff the competition.

Edwin Wall and Cooper Null conceived the idea of the band and talked to the other fellows. "We didn't have to do too much persuading," said Ed Wall.

Two of the members have fathers who were once band leaders themselves. Cooper Null's and Dennis Maynard's fathers belonged to big name bands and later on had bands of their own. Cooper has never had a lesson on the drums. "Just picked it up from my pop," he says grinning.

Just recently the boys ordered approximately $50 worth of new music. "Each guy paid $5 and each one of us takes care of his own music," commented Dennis Maynard.

Asked what type of songs they best like to play, everyone said "strictly pop; no long-hair stuff for us."

Practicing at least twice a week, the boys try to secure the school to do so, but when complications set in, they "head for one of the fellow's houses."

"When we practice we really practice!" remarks Davis Bowen. Having no complaints from the neighbors so far, the boys "go wild at the end of practice."

Some say Ed Wall, the little guy with the big voice, has to call them down every once in a while, but they don't seem to mind. "Whatever Ed wants to do is OK with us" say the boys.

The majority of the band members play either with the school band or with the school orchestra.

The boys say they are running into a little trouble "trying to do our homework and practice at the same time, but we always work it out."

Besides having a band of their own, these fellows also find time to participate in outside activities. All of the members belong to some social club around GHS. Several of the boys ran for offices of their rising junior class.

Although some of the members of the band are planning to move away this summer, Ed Wall, leader says "the rest of us guys will stay together next year when we will maybe ask more boys to join us."

Three Boys Compete For Air Force Position

Max Miller, Banks Ritchie, and Bill Hunter, seniors, went to Shaw Air Force Base in Sumter. South Carolina two weeks ago to compete for a position in the new Air Force Academy in Denver, Colorado.

These boys took many tests to find out if they are to be selected for this position. Max was appointed by the North Carolina senator, Kerr Scott, and Banks and Bill by representative Carl Durham.

For the first year there will be approximately 300 boys selected to attend. They are being picked by each state. The group which Max, Banks, and Bill are in is composed of about 140 boys. Only seven of these boys will be able to attend the academy and be able to say that they were in the first graduating class.

When the boys went to the Air Force base, they stayed four days. The first two days they spent taking written aptitude tests and during the remaining days they took physical examinations.
