Committee Proclaims Senior Prom Theme, "Now Is The Hour"

"Now Is The Hour" will be the theme for the Senior Prom, May 27, from 9 to 12 in the new gym with Jimmy Perkin's eleven-piece band with vocalist from Burlington furnishing music for the dance in honor of the Seniors.

Juniors, sophomores, teachers and parents are invited. Students can obtain tickets for 50 cents per couple or stag from any Student Council member. It is requested that flowers should not be sent.

Special entertainment at intermission will be Don Heath and Jerry Varner, Jane Lynch, and Agnes Tate and Jimmy Powell. As an added attraction, David Tucker will sing the theme.

Margie Boren, social chairman of the Student Council, is in charge of the Senior Prom. Lynn Boren heads the refreshment committee and Phyllis Brooks and Maxie Callisher are assisting her. Bill O'Brien is in charge of tickets. The entire council will help Gail Kirkman, the chairman of the decorating committee, to decorate the gym.

Before the entertainment at intermission, several seniors will be introduced. Jimmy Jordan, president of Student Council; Sue Simmons vice-president and Bob Cowan, traffic-chief will be presented.

The Senior Class council members and class officers will be introduced. Council members are Lynn Boren, Margie Boren, Phyllis Brooks, Juliana Clark, Susan Hege, and Kay Wrenn. Rob Pearce, Paddy Wall, Rita Boggs, and Tip Noe are the class officers.

The twelve home room presidents will be presented. They are Rachel Allen, Dava Cashwell, Terry Garrison, Glenn Hancock, Freddy Hutton, Jerry Lee, Bobbie Meeks, Norman Odyne, Dave Scurlock, Tom Sweatt, Frank Wilder, and Lanny Voight.

Margie Boren stated, "The Senior Prom is a trial dance for the future use of the new gym for similar occasions. If the gym is abused in any way, the chances for future use will be slim."

Teachers Honor Seniors At Annual Tea At W. C.

Junior teachers were in charge of the annual tea at which the faculty honored the seniors yesterday, May 19, at Woman's College Alumnae House.

Class colors dominated the scene in white and gold decorations. The

Joyner Announces Staff Of 1955-1956 HIGH LIFE

Miss Peggy Ann Joyner, HIGH LIFE adviser, has announced that six first-year journalism students have been selected for the 1955-56 HIGH LIFE staff.

These six people are Betty Adams, Ginger Bass, Ann Greeson, Jane Parkins, Nancy Tuttle, and Mary Wheeler. Betty will serve in the capacity of feature editor. She will be taking over the job of Diane Schwartz, who has been advanced to associate editor. Ginger Bass, assuming Barbara Lindley's job will be next year's business manager.

Ann Greeson will serve as circulation manager, thus taking the job of Pat Frazier, while Jane Parkins will be a reporter. Nancy Tuttle will hold the position of exchange editor. That station has been held this year by Mary Jane Seawell. Mary Wheeler, who has served on the staff for part of this year, as a member of the copy staff, will take over the job of Eugenia Hickerson, copy editor.

Max Miller, and Jimmy Jordan— were recently notified by the chief of Navy personnel that they have been selected as winners of Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps scholarships. The grants have been estimated to be worth $1500 per year for four years and to pay room and board in addition to tuition and book costs.

Jimmy has been accepted for entrance at the University of North Carolina. Bob has applied for entrance at the University, and Max has applied at Tulane University.

Celia Jo Strader has been awarded a $500 scholarship recently established by Burlington Industries Foundation to the University of North Carolina's School of Nursing.

This grant, to be awarded annually to one girl in Guilford County and one in Alamance County, is renewable for a four-year period. The other award this year went to Barbara Faye Miles of Burlington.

Susan Hege has been chosen as one of two girls in North Carolina as winners of the Colonial Dames of America $100 Scholarships. This grant, known as the Florence Kinder Memorial Fund Scholarship, was awarded on the basis of scholarship, leadership, and character.

Susan was one of two winners picked from about 25 names submitted to the state headquarters of the Colonial Dames in Wilmington. She plans to attend Woman's College, where she is entering the one-year commercial course.

Another senior, Pat Leary, recently received the Delta Kappa Gamma $100 Scholarship. This award, based on the desire of the

All staff members for next year are rising seniors except Nancy Tuttle and Jane Parkins, who are rising juniors.

Home Rooms To Throw End-Of-School Parties

Weiner roasts seem to be the rage for home room parties this year.

Home room 12 has already celebrated their leaving this year, by going to the Battleground, April 25, or a weiner roast. The party was filled with eating, dancing, and playing carpet golf from 5 p. m. until 10 p. m. Each student of the

Summer School Classes To Begin Terms June 6

Summer school at Senior High School will begin Monday, June 6, and continue through Wednesday, July 13.

The school will operate six days per week with Monday, July 4, celebrated as a holiday. The hours for classes are from 8 a. m. until 1 p. m.

Each student may take a maximum of two subjects representing a semester's work each or one subject representing a year's work. The length of each period will be two and one-half hours with an hour and a half of class work and an hour of study hall.

Fees, payable on the day of registration, are $15 for one subject or $25 for two. Registration is at 9 a. m. June 6, and one must register in person.

Any student who successfully passes the work taken will receive credit. No credit is given for work if a student has more than one unexcused absence or more than two unexcused tardies.

If as many as five students register for any high school subject, the course will be taught. The faculty will be chosen from the current Senior High group.
